This is a digital copy of a book that was preserved for generations on library shelves before it was carefully scanned by Google as part of a project to make the world's books discoverable online.

It has survived long enough for the copyright to expire and the book to enter the public domain. A public domain book is one that was never subject to copyright or whose legal copyright term has expired. Whether a book is in the public domain may vary country to country. Public domain books are our gateways to the past, representing a wealth of history, culture and knowledge that's often difficult to discover.

Marks, notations and other marginalia present in the original volume will appear in this file - a reminder of this book's long journey from the publisher to a library and finally to you.

Usage guidelines

Google is proud to partner with libraries to digitize public domain materials and make them widely accessible. Public domain books belong to the public and we are merely their custodians. Nevertheless, this work is expensive, so in order to keep providing this resource, we have taken steps to prevent abuse by commercial parties, including placing technical restrictions on automated querying.

We also ask that you:

+ Make non-commercial use of the files We designed Google Book Search for use by individuals, and we request that you use these files for personal, non-commercial purposes.
+ Refrain from automated querying Do not send automated queries of any sort to Google's system: If you are conducting research on machine translation, optical character recognition or other areas where access to a large amount of text is helpful, please contact us. We encourage the use of public domain materials for these purposes and may be able to help.
+ Maintain attribution The Google "watermark" you see on each file is essential for informing people about this project and helping them find additional materials through Google Book Search. Please do not remove it.
+ Keep it legal Whatever your use, remember that you are responsible for ensuring that what you are doing is legal. Do not assume that just because we believe a book is in the public domain for users in the United States, that the work is also in the public domain for users in other countries. Whether a book is still in copyright varies from country to country, and we can't offer guidance on whether any specific use of any specific book is allowed. Please do not assume that a book's appearance in Google Book Search means it can be used in any manner anywhere in the world. Copyright infringement liability can be quite severe.

PREFACE

A family history covering eight or nine generations cannot be written in a day. The labor of collecting the data would occupy a man's entire time for a score of years, if an exhaustive work embracing six distinct families were contemplated. The editors of the "Lyon Memorial" have not attempted the impossible. It seemed to them that the time was fully come when the history of the Lyon families of America should be written, and they volunteered their services for some of the difficult pioneer work. They have aimed to lay a secure foundation on which others may build, content, themselves, to erect a serviceable temporary superstructure according to their skill and ability.

Pecuniary means were not at their disposal for carrying on an extended research into the ancestry of the several immigrants bearing the name Lyon. They have not, indeed, ignored the importance of the inquiry, and they have been able even in this field to gather new information of interest and value. Their energies have been chiefly directed, however, to the unraveling of the tangled skein of the earlier family records in America, and to the gathering of definite knowledge regarding the individual members of each of the pioneer families. To this end, town, church, land and probate records have been diligently searched and many a musty volume of colonial history has been laboriously perused. The origin and explanation of family traditions have been sought, with the general conclusion, on the part of the writer of these lines, that very little weight can be attached to any tradition however persistent or widespread which is unsupported by independent historical evidence. It is necessary only for some imaginative person to make a plausible conjecture; on the morrow it will be repeated as his belief; the third day it will be quoted as matter of common hearsay. The conjecture need not be even plausible, so it is flattering to family pride.

The Memorial will inevitably contain some errors of fact and mistaken dates. No history that has not been the subject of long critical study is free from such errors. The editors have consulted the most authentic sources of information, and, whenever possible, have quoted their authority. Confusion of dates is sure to arise from the imperfect knowledge, on the part of many, of the ancient method of recording dates. The year formerly began with the vernal equinox, so that the "seventh month" was September (as, indeed, the name itself indicates) instead of July. 16 (XII) 1652 is not December 16, 1652, but February 16, 1653. Again, we often find, in the eighteenth century, a discrepancy between the date of birth given in town or church records and that inscribed on the tombstone, the discrepancy due to the change, in the interval, from O. S. to N. S.

The editors of the Memorial have been much encouraged in their work by the ready responses of the majority of those appealed to for records. Only two replies expressed indifference to the undertaking, one man pretending to fear that he might find out something to the discredit of his forbears. We who have searched the annals have found cause only for increased pride in the family name, albeit our ancestors were not less human than we.

We desire to mention gratefully in particular the generous co-operation of a number of friends whose interest has been that of the enthusiast in genealogical research. Among these we are under especial obligation to Mr. James LeBaron Willard of Brooklyn, Historian of the Mayflower Society; Mr. F. S. Hammond of Oneida, N. Y., whose history of the Hammond families of America has been recently published, and Mr. Edmund D. Barbour of Boston, who is gathering materials for a history of the Barbour family. Among the many Lyon descendants who have aided our work by contributions of data gathered by patient effort, we must mention (family of William of Roxbury) Hon. George F. Lyon, Justice of the Supreme Court of New York, Binghamton, N. Y.; Hon. George R. Lyon of Waukegan, Ill., through whose persevering researches we have obtained knowledge of the family of Edward Lyon of Sutton; Royal May Lyon of Hammond, Ind.; (family of Peter of Dorchester) Charles M. Ayer of Grand Rapids, Mich.; Mrs. William D. Lewis of Portland, Me.; (family of Richard of Fairfield) Mr. W. W. Eldridge, Comptroller of Currency, Washington, D. C.; (family of Thomas of Fairfield and Rye) Mrs. Louisa Lyon Lockwood of Lakeside, Conn., and Mr. Newell Lyon of New York City; (family of George of Dorchester) Miss Bertha Caroline Hitchcock of Plainfield, Conn. Valuable aid has been received in the foreign research work from Mr. R. W. Buss, 70 Whitworth Road, S. Norwood, S. E., London, Eng. Many courtesies have been extended by officials in public libraries in Boston, New York, Cincinnati, St. Louis and Detroit, while free access has been given to the abundant genealogical material in the large private library of Hon. C. M. Burton of Detroit.

Research work involves not only patient labor but large expenditure of money. None of the editors can boast of a large bank account. An appeal for pecuniary aid in research work, sent out in connection with the original prospectus of the Lyon Memorial, brought responses from the following persons, to whom are due the sincere thanks not of the editors alone but of all belonging to the Lyon family: Hon. George R. Lyon of Waukegan, Ill.; Capt. Henry Ware Lyon, U. S. N., Washington, D. C.; Mrs. Mary T. Hoe of New York City.

The original Prospectus of the Lyon Memorial contemplated a single volume of not to exceed 400 pages. As material accumulated, it became evident that one of two things must be done—either the barest skeleton of the genealogical record must be supplied, or else the material must be divided so as to form two volumes. The editor-in-chief, acting on his individual responsibility as publisher of the work, chose the latter alternative. One volume is occupied by the descendants of William Lyon of Roxbury and Peter and George Lyon of Dorchester. The other deals with the closely related families that settled first in Fairfield County, Conn., those, namely, of Richard, Thomas and Henry Lyon. Each volume is complete in itself. The two together constitute an attempt at a Comprehensive History of the Lyon Families of New England and New Jersey, and as such are commended to the consideration of the numerous members of these families in the hope that, in spite of their imperfections, they will meet a kindly welcome.

INTRODUCTION

"Honor Thy Father and Thy Mother." This injunction needs not the force of Divine command: it is instinctive in the heart of man. There has been, and there is, no people so debased in humanity that they have not this feeling, and in some cases it has been the moving principle in their moral nature. Such peoples as knew not God have made it the basis of their religious systems, and have exaggerated the natural impulse into ancestor worship; others have made it the basis of their political systems, and have established patriarchal government; all have let it—modified, and sometimes grotesquely so—become the predominant feature in the formation of national and personal characteristics.

To advance to more recent times, France gives a remarkable instance of this truth, and the keynote to its development among this people is sounded in the motto of the Lords de Rohan: "King I care not to be, Prince I deign not, Rohan I am." The sentiment of family pride among this people was productive of good results and ill. As to the good, noblesse oblige made the cavalier brave, even to rashness, polite to a punctilio, honorable in word, and polished to a degree that has left its mark upon Europe. True, it led to haughtiness, to a disregard for those not of his order, and had for its logical sequence the Revolution; but these ills were the outcome rather of such other factors as prodigality and selfish pride. The peasants, on the other hand, having no ancestral pride, were swayed only by personal motives, becoming, under the varied circumstances of their lot, obsequious, sullen and brutish, or devoted to the family which reflected upon them the luster of its name.

In England, family pride, while essentially the same as in France, has taken on a different form. In neither country did devotion to the king mean really more than support, more or less loyal, to the chief personal representative of the family idea. English aristocracy is the foundation of the English State, and the bulwark of her liberties. This, not because of titles as such, for many an English squire with ancestry traceable to the Conquest is the object of envy to great lords who date back no farther than the beginning of colonial days. But it is because of English conservatism, which shrinks from removing the landmarks which their fathers have set.

This feeling has crossed the sea, and this it is that causes us to hold fast to the land, and to its traditions, its records, its constitution and its laws, as a goodly heritage handed down to us from those whom it is our privilege to regard with reverence and with awe. Some, indeed, take up the search of an ancestor as a fad, seeking some connection—even left-handed—with a titled family and a coat-of-arms. This fad, though usually betraying its ulterior purpose, is in itself harmless, save as it may mislead through its sometimes unauthentic and often false data. But surely, those who, having traced their lineage with painstaking fidelity to truth, can with confidence look backward along a line of ancestors who lived worthy lives, who did their part toward making us what we are, must have a higher appreciation of the blessings which we enjoy, and a loftier conception of the trust committed to us for posterity, than those who, however pure their motives, however strong their patriotism, can never feel a personal interest in those from whom those blessings came.

G. W. A. LYON.

THE LYON FAMILY IN ENGLAND

One of the first questions asked by those interested in family research is, "What is known of our origin beyond the sea?" In the case of our own family, the answer must be, "Nothing that is definitely supported by record." Yet there exists strong probability based upon circumstantial evidence that the Lyon emigrants, of the Eastern shore at least, came from Essex or Middlesex, England. A short account of the Lyon family of that locality is inserted here, in the hope that it will be available in future research.

A few years ago, Mr. Amos Maynard Lyon, descendant of William of Roxbury, desiring to solve this question, secured the services of Mr. Philippe of the Rolls Office, London. The result of the research, considerably condensed from Welles' American Family Antiquity, and subsequently confirmed by research in England by the compilers, is set forth below. In it the dates are approximate, and there is no pretense that the lineage is given in extenso.

Sir Roger de Leonne, son of a follower of the Conqueror, [who must in this case, however, have spelled the name Leuoine,* which strangely appears in comparatively recent times as Leuon] born in France 1040, joined himself unto King Edgar, son of Malcolm Canmore 1091; received lands in Perthshire called Glen Lyon. His son Paganus went to the Holy Land with Geoffrey Plantagenet; afterwards settled in England. His son Hugh de Leonibus had lands in Norfolk, Hen. II., 1175. His son Ernald, born in Norfolk 1150, is mentioned in John I., 1199. His son, John Lyon, born in Norfolk, had lands in divers counties; paid a fine for a false claim in Essex, 2 Hen. III., 1226. [At this period begins the Essex branch.] His sons were Pagan and Walter. Of these, Walter married Alicia, and died just before 51 Hen. III., 1266; one of his sons, Sir Henry, Norfolk 1230, had lands in Sussex, was summoned to defend the seacoast, 24 Edward I., 1297; another son, William de Lyon, Norfolk 1235, held lands of the king in capite, and died, 5 Edward II., 1312. Pagan, brother of Walter, married Ivette de Ferrers, Co. Cambridge; his children were John de Lyoun, 1225, and Thomas, 1230. This Sir John was summoned for service against the Scots, 21 Edward I., 1294; he married Margery de Ackle, and had children, John de Lyon, Baron, 1250, whose arms are given below, and Sir Adam, Knight, 1255.

Baron John's children were Sir Adam 1285, Richard 1287, Sir John 1290. This last, Sir John of Forteviot, settled in Scotland. His son, Sir John of Forteviot 1320, was a favorite of Robert II., and married his daughter Jean; he was killed in a duel 1383; and it is from this Sir John that have descended the Scottish Earls of Strathmore, whose lineage is found in Burke, and to whom reference is made in the preface of the Rolfe edition of Macbeth.

Assuming Baron John's children as a first generation, Sir Richard[1] had three daughters, and a son Richard,[2] who was a vintner in London, and was created sheriff 1374, and died 1381. Sir Adam[1] had (1) Sir John[2] 1320 and (2) Adam de Lyon[2] 1325.

Sir John[2] had (1) Sir Richard 1350, of Oxford, Cambridge and Huntingdon; (2) Sir John 1353, of Kingsland, Co. Suffolk and Co. Norfolk; (3) Sir Henry 1355, of Ruislip, born in Norfolk. [At this point occurs the divergence between this pedigree and the one given later.]

*The name of Leonne is not found in the list of those who came over with William the Conqueror. The following occur: Loious, Loueney, Loveyne, Lovein, Lovan, Leuuin, Lieuvin. Louveyne (Fr. Louvain) seems likely to have been the name corrupted into Lyoun. The Domesday Book has among names of ancient land holders, Leuin, Leuena and Lining.

Henry[3] had (1) John of Ruislip, Middlesex, 1380; he was at the battle of Agincourt.

John[4] had (1) Henry 1410; (2) John 1415.

Henry[5] had (1) Henry of Ruislip, 1440; (2) John "of Preston," 1450; (3) Thomas "of Perifere," 1453; (4) William 1460.

Henry[6] had (1) John 1470, married Emma Hedde; (2) William 1475. John[6] of Preston, Middlesex, had (1) John, married Joan. [This was the founder of Harrow school.] Thomas[6] of Perifere, Middlesex, had (1) Sir John 1490, Lord Mayor of London 1554, married Alicia; died Nov. 6, 1564; (2) Henry 1495, married Dorothy.

John,[7] son of Henry of Ruislip, had (1) Henry 1500; (2) Thomas 1503; (3) Richard 1505; (4) John 1510, married Joan. John[7] "yeoman," founder of Harrow (died Oct. 3, 1592) had Zachary 1550, who died 1583 without issue. Sir John[7] (Lord Mayor) had John, married Mary and died without issue. Henry,[7] son of Thomas of Perifere, had (1) Richard of West Twyford, married 1st Agnes and 2d Mabilla Darnell; (2) Henry 1535, married Katherine Rithe.

John,[8] son of John and Emma Hedde, had (1) William 1540; (2) Elizabeth 1545; (3) Thomas 1550; (4) William 1555, died 1624, married Isabel Wightman. Richard,[8] son of Henry by wife Agnes had Henry 1550, died Oct. 16, 1590; by wife Mabilla, (1) John 1560, died 1615 without issue; (2) Dorothy 1565, married Humphrey Hyde; (3) Catherine 1570, married William Gifford.

William[9] of Heston, married Isabel Wightman, had (1) William 1580 [married 1615 Anne Carter, died 1634]; (2) Thomas 1585; (3) Robert 1590.

William[10] had (1) Katherine 1616; (2) John 1617; (3) John 1619; (4) William 1620. It is the contention of the expert that this last is the William who is reported at the Rolls Office as having embarked in the Hopewell in 1635, aged 14.

Very soon after the publication of this pedigree, Mr. Percy M. Thornton, author of "The Harrow School," in tracing the "Founder's Kin," secured reports from the experts, Mr. C. E. Long, Mr. Sims of the British Museum, and Mr. Edward Scott, antiquarian. The accuracy of their researches was tested by the wills of Sir John, who died 1564, and of John of Twyford, dated 1615. The line of descent is given as follows:

I John, admitted to lands in Kingsbury 1370.
II Andrew, married Agnes; died 1395.
III John.

IV Andrew, d. 1402 (no issue) and William, m. Rose; d. 1422.

V John, son of William; d. 1445.

VI William, married Matilda; died 1476.

VII John, married Joan; died 1518.

VIII William, died 1522, and John of Preston, married Joan, died 1534 [sons of Henry[6] in the preceding pedigree]. Thomas of Perifere is also of this generation.

IX John, son of John, married Joan, died 1592, founder of Harrow School. Thomas of Perifere (Thomas[6] in preceding pedigree) had (1) Sir John, the Lord Mayor, married Alicia, married 2d Elizabeth Lee, widow of Alderman Hind; by Alice he had John, who died before his father in 1560; by Elizabeth he had no issue. Thomas had (2) Henry, married Dorothy, and (3) a daughter who married a Randall.

X Richard, son of Henry and Dorothy, married 1st Agnes Smith, and 2d Isabel Millett, died 1579, and was buried at Twyford. He inherited the property of Sir John. Henry, the brother of Richard, married Katherine Rithe.

XI The children of Richard were (1) Henry of Harrow, who married Mabilla Dirnell, and died 1590; (2) John, who inherited from Richard, and died 1633; (3) Ethelred, who married William Gifford, and died 1601; (4) Dorothy, who married 1573 Humphrey Hyde; (5) John (?); (6) Anne, who married 1573 Augustine Hynd.

XII George, son of Henry and Mabilla, inherited West Twyford Manor from his uncle John, and died 1636. He had a sister Eliza, and a brother Richard, who inherited from his uncle John Horsington Manor, which had come to the latter from the Founder's uncle William.

XIII George, son of the foregoing George, sold the manor, and died not married 1647.

It will be observed that this pedigree differs from that of Mr. Philippe, in that the former gives John of Preston as son of John, while the latter assigns him to Henry, who had indeed a brother John, but from the evidence of dates he could not have been the John marked VII in this pedigree. Of this discrepancy Mr. Thornton says: "It should be here stated that, according to the experts, Mr. Philippe fell into the error of merging the Walden family, established in Essex since 1226, into that of Preston, whose presence there can be proved in 1370.

An important fact, regarding the Middlesex Lyons, is contained in these extracts from The Harrow School: "It is remarkable that neither the Herald's Office nor the Rolls Office experts have succeeded in tracing the Lyon family later than the 17th century." As regards the Ruislip branch of the Lyons, it should be remembered that the family may have possessed property there before the Founder's uncle Henry's time, and that therefore, if Mr. C. E. Long was right in holding his male descendants to be locally extinct, still there may have been others to perpetuate a name which survived at least to the close of the 18th century."

Reference has been made to a branch of the family who were established in Essex as early as 1226, and in that part of the county not far removed from Middlesex. In fact, the two branches seem to be closely connected, and it is sometimes difficult to assign certain Lyons to any one of several counties. Reference to the Visitations and to church records will show this very clearly. Are the American Lyons of Essex or Middlesex? It would be well to know, yet both have the same origin.

The Heralds' Visitations corroborate in some degree, and as far as they go, the genealogies as given. It must be remembered that these, too, do not claim to be exhaustive.

Visitations of Nottingham and of Lincoln: I. Thomas of Perifere married Anne Hyde, Co. Berks. II. John of London and Co. Lincoln, married Elizabeth, dau. of Sir Richard Lee and relict of Augustin Hind, Alderman; and Henry, Dr. of Common Law, of Co. Lincoln, married Dorothy, dau. of ———, Co. Lincoln. III. Richard [son of Henry] of W. Twyford, Co. Midx., married Agnes, dau. of ——— Smith, and had Henry 1554, married 2d Mabel, dau. of Adam Dirnell, Co. Lincoln; and Agnes, married Augustine Hynde. Richard married 2d Issabel, dau. of ——— Myllett, and had John of Twyford 1560, married Joan, dau. of ——— Mosley of London; Dorothy, married Humphrey Hyde of Co. Berks; and Audrey, married Willm. Gifford of Co. Midx.

Henry by 1st wife had Catherine, married J. Holding; and George. By Mabel he had John of Wakefield and St. Faith's, London—see reference in Field Genealogy; Sibbel and Elliner.

Visitation of Lincoln: Richard of Roxby, Lord of the Manor 1579, had Henry, John, Anne (Agnes), Dorothy, Etheldreda (Audrey). Henry had George of Roxby, living 1613; and Priscilla, married Ralph Rokeby, married 2d John Bamford. This is in the Yorkshire Visitation also.

Visitation of Essex, 1634: Robert of Much Baddow had John of Milde Inn (Mile End), Co. Midx., married Thomazin, dau. of Fisher of Ipswich in com. Suffolk. They had Willm. of Spring Feld in com. Essex, married Joane, dau. of Richard Roofe; and John.

Visitation of London, 1634: Lion, descended from a younger brother to Richard Lyon, sheriff of London, had John of Walden in Essex, Gent: and Richard of Walden, Gent: John had Richard of Walden, Gent: married Alice, dau: of John Harvey. These had Richard, eldest son, and Gabriel of London, married Margt. dau: of Iver [in another, she is styled dau: of Joece by the da: of Mr. Stonehouse of Barksh (ire)]. Richard had Elizabeth, only dau:, married Wm. Hollingshed of London, Gent: Gabriel was member of the Anc. and Hon. Artillery Co. 1626.

To the Visitations these records are added:

Berkshire Pedigrees: Thomas Lyon, Esq. of Enborne, married Anne, dau: of Oliver Hyde (died 1516).

Co. Oxford: John, son of John Lyon, Knight, was seized of lands in Little Swerford, tempo 3 Elizabeth, 1561, and had John and Elizabeth who married ——— Chetwood.

Burials at Chacombe Priory, Northampton: Sir Richard married Lady Hawys; Sir Roger married Gunilda; Roger married Lady Joane; Sir Richard; Sir John married Alice. These records have no date, but were made by a Herald of the time of Henry VIII.

Co. Northampton: William Lyon of Braundeston, John de Lyon of Dunston and Margaret his wife, and Geoffrey Lyon of Braddon, sued Richard de Thorp and Margaret his wife for the Manor of Gildesburg, 15 Edward III., 1342.

Co. Oxford: Domesday of Inclosures. Johanne lyne, gentilman, rented 20 acres to Willm. Harryngton in Fewcotte, Stoke lyne, 6 Oct., 20 of the King (1529). Willelmus lyne was seized of 60 acres of Johanne Roys, gentilman, 20 Mar., 8 of the King (1517). The Essex returns are not available, as they are for the most part lost.

John de Lyon was a witness "anno ter cii King Edward 40 a conquesto quarto decimo"; also "ter cii post conquestu tricesimo—Latin chronicle [this date would be 1367].

Some data from the London Parish Registers are added, inasmuch as they refer to persons mentioned in the foregoing genealogies, and as they may prove of some aid to those who may some day complete this work:

Adam m. Ursula, had Mary and Dorothy bp. 1632—St. Botolphs.
Andrew, d. 1590, had Susan, who m. Robt. Treswell—London.
Barseba m. 1563 Jacob Spice—St. Martins.

Dorothy m. 1589 John Warner—St. Michael, Cornhill.

Elizabeth m. 1631 John Rathburn—St. James, Clerkenwell.

George had Thomas and Martin bur. 1597; William bur. 1598—St. Mary Magdelene.

Grisela m. 1624 Thos. Corbould—St. Mary le Strand—Essex.

Henry m. 1609 Sarah Alding—Bishop of London—Midx.

Humfridus had Mary bp. 1629—St. Dunstans.

Richard m. 1656 Abigail Rose—St. Vedast.

Symon (bur. 1595) had George bur. 1592, Richard bur. 1592, Thomasin bp. 1595—St. Mary Magdelene.

Thomas of St. Giles m. 1604 ——— Colliar—St. Dionis Backchurch.

William m. 1593 Joanna Dennys, Co. Herts—Bishop of London.

William m. Eliza and had William 1659—St. James, Clerkenwell.

Several of the Lyon family are mentioned in English Chronicles. Baron John was in attendance at the Tournament of Duncastle, 7 Edward III., 1314. The arms which he displayed thereat are described below.

Froissart, in describing the events connected with Wat Tyler's Rebellion, 1381, states: "They slewe in the city a riche marchaunt called Richarde Lyon, to whom before that tyme Watte Tyler had done seruyce in Fraunce; and one tyme this Rycharde Lyon had beaten hym whyle he was his varlet, the whiche Watte Tyler then remembered." Richard Lyon, vintner, of London, sheriff, was placed in charge of the jewels of the duchess of Brittany, what time the duke left for his expedition into France. When Richard was committed to the Tower for misprision, the Treasurer was ordered to receive the jewels from him.

Thomas of Perifere, a member of the Grocer's Company, was sheriff of London. He died 1550, and was buried at St. Syth's, Bucklesbury. His mansion perished with St. Syth's in the Great Fire, but the family arms have been preserved: "Azure, a fess engrailed between two plates each charged with an eagle's head erased. Sable, a lion passant between two cinquefoils gules." The arms of the Middlesex Lyons are the same arms "differenced."

Sir John, son of this Thomas, was Lord Mayor, and on the occasion of the entry of Queen Mary and the Prince Consort he was knighted. In the Cotton MSS., the diary of Henry Machen, citizen of London, 1550-1563, gives an account of his mayoralty reception, and the same for Sept. 10, 1555, gives a description of the burial of [the first] Lady Lyon. His name occurs also in Middlesex Records quoted below.

Sir John left the bulk of his property to his nephew Richard, son of his brother Henry, and a sum of money to his grand-niece Dorothy.

The record of his nomination for Alderman, Cripplegate Ward, is here inserted, as showing the method of procedure in that day: "10. Feb. 1 Edward VI. (1547). Itm. this day my lorde mayer reported to the Court here that the inhitants of the Warde of Creplegate had noiate & appoynted Roland Hyll, Knight & Mr. Hynde, Alderman & Nicholas Spakeman, habd. & John Lyon, groc. befor his lordship syttyng there for the eleccon of a newe Alderman for the seyd Warde in the stede of Wyllm Forman, Knyght, late Alderman of the same Warde nowe depted unto the mcye of Almyghty God, upon whose soul Jesu have mcye, that this Court Accordyng to the Auncyent lawes & customes of this Citie shulde by scrutynye electe & chuse one of theym the seyd foure psons to be Alderman of the seyd Warde. Which noiacon & eleccon was accordyng to the seyd lawes adiuged insuffycient & reject by this Court for that the seyd Spakeman was demed not to be of substance mete for the seyd rome."

Sir John and Alice his wife were granted by Henry VIII. the Manor of Becontree Hundred, with advowson of the Rectory of Woodford, Co. Essex, 1545. It was subsequently, in 1547, given to Edward VI. in exchange for lands in Lincoln. Other lands in Woodford were granted him by Edward VI. after the "suppression." The same king granted him the Rectory and advowson of Aylesbury Hundred, Co. Bucks.

Richard Lyon, his brother Henry's son, was his heir; he departed this life 17 Mar., 1579, leaving Henry his son and heir, aged 27 years. [Inquis. 7 Eliz. and 23 Eliz. May 3.]

Sir John married 2d the widow of Augustin Hynde, clothes-worker, Alderman and co-Sheriff with Lyon in 1550. In the year 1569 Lady Lyon gave the Clothes-workers' Company £20 for "loan money." Dame Elizabeth died the 12th day of July An. Dom. 1569.

The names of some of the family are mentioned in Middlesex Co. Records. Some of these records are quoted partly because they refer to Lyons mentioned in this article, and partly for their historic interest:

John Lyon Sr. and John Jr., yeomen, with 16 others assembled riotously 2 Nov., 1 Mary, 1553, and forcibly entered the Manor House of Popler, and assaulted John Maynard of London, mercer, and beat him and his family. True Bill.

22 Aug. 27 Eliz: 1584, at St. Clement Danes, Co. Midx., William Southern, late of London, yeoman, entered the house of Richard Lyon, and stole a silver-gilt "salt" with cover worth £4 [a long list of valuables]. True Bill.

6 Oct. 29 Eliz: 1586. A True Bill against Roger Lyne, gent: of Westminster for not going to church, chapel, or any usual place of Common Prayer, from 6 Oct. to 29 Nov. next.

22 May 1 & 2 Ph. and Mary, 1553, at Highholburn, Richard Bentley, baker, assaulted with a bill, John Lyon, then and still being Lord Mayor of the City of London, when the same John Lyon, in the execution of his office was weighing the same Richard Bentley's loaves of bread, even as all Mayors of London from time immemorial have been accustomed to weigh the loaves of bakers in Holburn, and that by so assaulting him, Richard Bentley hindered and obstructed the same Mayor of London in the execution of his office.

5 Apr., 1639. Recognizance of Edward Lyon, cutler, Sepulchres, Co. Midx., for appearance of Edward Sudlowe for saying in vestry, "Divill take you all."

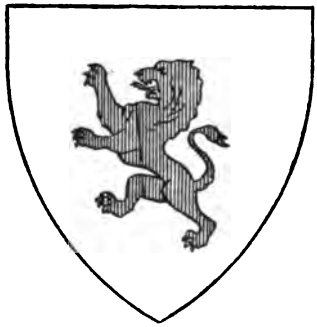
12 June, 7 James I., 1609. True Bill against four persons [named] for breaking into the house of Humphrey Lyon, Gent: Kingsbury.

1 Mar., 14 James I., 1616. True Bill against Elizabeth, wife of John Lyon, yeoman, St. John's, and again 25 Mar., 15 James I., against same of St. James, Clerkenwell, for not attending church, chapel, etc.

17 Jan., 12 James I., 1614. True Bill against Elizabeth Rutter for practising witchcraft upon William, son of John Lyon, Finchley, so that he still languishes. Also, 27 Mar., 13 James I., against Elizabeth Rutter, four counts, one being for "making John Lyon lame."

COAT OF ARMS

As the Lyon family is divided into several branches, one would expect to find the coat of arms "differenced"; and so they are, widely. The oldest recorded arms are those which Baron John exhibited at the Tournament at Duncastle, 1314: "Monsr. John de Lyonnes arms: d'argent un lyon rampant de goules."



BARON JOHN LYON, 1314; Tournament at Duncastle.

Lyon of Middlesex, W. Twyford and vicinity: Azure, on a fesse, or, between 3 plates each charged with a griffin's head erased, a lion passant between 2 cinquefoils gules. Crest: On a pink, flowered gules, leaved vert, a lion's head erased, per fesse ermine and ermines, charged with a pale counter-changed. [This crest differs slightly from the one in the British Museum, which has a lion's head quarterly ermine and ermines.]

Lyon of Bishop's Caudle, Dorset: A lion rampant azure, charged on the body with 3 crosses pattée argent, and resting his sinister paw on a cross moline or. Motto: Innixus vero validus.

In St. Dunstan's, London, is found a coat of arms quartered with Chetwood: A lion rampant gules, crowned azure, for Lyon. This probably refers to the marriage mentioned in the Visitations under No. 7.

Lyon of Essex: Argent, a chevron sable between three lions (rampant?) gules. This coat is roughly drawn, and it is impossible to determine whether the lions are rampant, passant or dormant. [In the drawing, they are marked sable, which appears to be an error.]

LYON OF MIDDLESEX.

Lyons of Somerset: Arms cut on tower of Ashton church, and blazoned on ceiling of nave—Argent, a chevron sable between three lions dormant coward gules. This family bears the same arm as Lyon of Essex, yet it is curious to note that the name is spelled Lyons. Also, a family in Filton, established in the 13th century: Argent, two lions rampant respecting sable. This family also spells the name Lyons.

LYON OF ESSEX.

[It is customary for branches using the same arms to make a slight change in position, color, etc., for a "difference."]

The arms of the Scottish branch are the best known, inasmuch as they are given in all works on the Peerage: A lion rampant azure, armed and langued gules, within a double tressure flory counter-flory azure. Crest: Within a garland of bay leaves, a lady to the girdle richly habited, holding in her right hand the royal thistle, all proper. [This is in reference to the marriage of John Lyon to Jean, daughter of Robert II.] Supporters: dexter, a unicorn argent, armed, maned and enguled or; sinister, a lion party per fesse or and gules. Motto: In te Domine speravi.

EARLY LYONS IN NEW ENGLAND

In America, there were in the vicinity of Boston, about 1640, four immigrants of our name, John, William, Peter and George, and one Susanna, who was a member of the Dorchester church before 1639. In south-western Connecticut were Henry, Thomas and Richard.

Of John nothing is known, except that he was of Salem 1638, and probably of Marblehead 1648; unless he be the one referred to in an English will: "John Lyon, heretofore of New England, now of the frigate Elizabeth in state service 1651: proved 1658" [Wooten 559]. This will would indicate that, unless he was the progenitor of the Marblehead Lyons of the next century, he became no longer a factor in a history of Lyons in America. Moreover, he sold his property in Marblehead 17 6 mo. 1653 [Essex Deeds].

William of Roxbury, claimed to be the son of William of Heston, Co. Middlesex [q. v. supra], seems to have had no social relations with Peter or with George. Indeed, he lived in the far end of Roxbury, near Brookline, while the others lived at the far end of Dorchester, near or in Milton. While not impossible, it is not likely that he was a brother of the others. And yet at this point Family Tradition steps in. Family tradition is based upon some remark made by an ancestor and transmitted to a descendant. It is unverified by records, inasmuch as the remark is usually not considered important until after its maker can no more be questioned as to its verity or its application. It is therefore vague, and possibly misleading, yet it may have more or less intrinsic value. There is in the Peter Lyon family a definite tradition of four brothers, Peter, William, Thomas and John. Peter was of Dorchester, William of Roxbury, Thomas went to Essex, and John "went Rhode Island way." It strangely omits mention of George; but it is curious in that it does give accurate information about William and two of his sons. It would therefore appear that there must have been some community of interest between the two families, since a tradition which so evidently refers to the William line has been handed down in Peter's.

Peter and George lived near each other, and their names are associated quite frequently. If they were brothers, Peter was the older, and Susanna may have been their sister; she could hardly have been Peter's wife, as Pope faintly suggests. His second daughter, unless he had some children not recorded, was named Susanna, and her husband was Peter's administrator.

The names given to the children of these immigrants, save those of Peter, who seems to have been convinced of the virtue of biblical names, are strongly suggestive. Were these immigrants from Middlesex and Essex? In that case, they would have found Roxbury and Milton almost as household names. The fact that William came in charge of Isaac Heath, and that the Heaths had in the 16th century been closely connected with the Lyons of Middlesex, corroborates the hypothesis of Amos Maynard Lyon in some degree. As to George, the family names smack strongly of Essex, and, moreover, his good friend, William Blake, who subsequently married George's widow, was of Little Baddow, near the family seat of the Lyons of Essex. As to Peter, he was a weaver, and probably of London, i. e., of Essex or Middlesex, and there we find the Peter of St. Botolph's who married 1633 Ann Eyres, but this when aged 45, and therefore not the Peter in question. The name was, moreover, continued in St. Botolph's registers till the next century, and this parish was the home of many of the county families. It is not impossible that Peter or his father had removed to the city, becoming a weaver, or he may have taken up the trade on this side, influenced by we know not what transatlantic cause. A careful search of the records of the Weavers' Guild, however, fails to disclose Peter's name therein. These records are, however, incomplete, and there are none prior to 1610.

But what of Henry, Thomas and Richard? whence came they? Tradition assigns them to Yorkshire, of the Scottish line. There was, indeed, a strong settlement of Lyons in Co. Lancaster, and these may have descended from Scottish Lyons who, through internal dissensions, had been driven over the border. They may even have drifted northwestward from the old Norfolk and Lincoln home. Subsequent research may, some day, solve a question now obscure; but however it be settled, there would seem to be little doubt that all—Scot, Yorkshireman, Lancastrian, East and Middle Saxon—have in them the blood of Baron John.

It is interesting to note, while speaking of the immigrants, that the experts have failed to trace the Lyon family of Preston and vicinity later than the 17th century, while the Ruislip branch became locally extinct. What became of the family? Did they emigrate to America? and were these emigrants they who themselves bore and gave to their children Middlesex and Essex names? The withdrawal of a few young men from a family already numerically weak would not be without effect. "Many in this country," says Thornton, "think this more than probable." And those in England who have studied with interest the family of Lyon send across the sea this brotherly wish: "We are of the number of those who desire to learn that the American does succeed in tracing back his ancestry to a contemporary branch of the Founder's family, because the great people across the sea have an equal part and lot in early Harrow life with ourselves."

System of numbering. Each name has its serial number, printed in full-faced type, followed by Roman numeral whose significance is obvious. Preceding the names which head the serial paragraphs there are three numbers, the first the serial number of the person, the second, in Roman numerals, the number of the generation, the third the serial number of the person's father (or mother). By aid of these numerals, it is easy to trace back the ancestry of any person.

WILLIAM LYON

OF ROXBURY

[The family history compiled by A. B. Lyons, M. D., of Detroit, Mich.]

In the list of passengers that embarked for America in the Hopewell September 11, 1635, we find the name of William Lyon, age "fourteen yeres." "Theis vnderwritten names," it is stated, "are to be transported to New England imbarqued in the Hopewell, Tho: Babb mr p. Cert. from the Ministers and Justices of their conformitie in Religion to or Church of England: & yt they are no Subsedy Men. they have taken ye Oaths of Alleg: & Suprem."

The name is further registered in Rolls Office, Chancery Lane, London, as having sailed for New England Sept. 11, 1635, and settled in Roxbury, Mass. William Lyon, perhaps an orphan, is said to have been placed in the care of Isaac Heath.† There appears to be no reason to question the conclusion reached by Albert Welles (American Family Antiquity) that this was the William Lyon who was baptized at Heston, now part of the city of London, Dec. 23, 1620, the youngest son of William and Anne (Carter) Lyon of Heston.

According to Welles, Henry Lyon, fourth in descent from Baron John de Lyon, left Norfolk, which had been for more than two hundred years the ancestral home, and settled at Ryslippe [Ruislip], Co. Middlesex. The family remained in Ryslippe through four generations, bringing us to what we may regard as unquestionable historical ground. John Lyon, born in Ryslippe about 1470, married Emma Hedde of Ryslippe, and had four sons bearing the suggestive names, Henry, Thomas, Richard and John (compare names of the three brothers who came to Fairfield Co., Conn.). John settled in Little Stanmer, Co. Middlesex; his wife's name was Joan, and their oldest son, born about 1540, was William, who married Isabel Wightman, daughter and heiress of William and Audry (Deering) Wightman of Harrow on the Hill. William lived for a time (1596) in London, but was buried Sept. 7, 1624, at Little Stanmer. He had a brother Thomas, whose son William was called the Marquis of Southwold, and was owner of the ship Lyon which brought to America so many emigrants. William and Isabel †"Isack" Heath, "harmsmaker" (armorer) with family were fellow passengers with William Lyon, his name immediately following theirs in the passenger list. He was freeman 1636; member of John Eliot's church, ruling elder, town officer and deputy; buried Roxbury, Jan. 23, 1661.

William Lyon was admitted to full communion in John Eliot's church in 1655, and became a freeman in 1666. He, with John Bowles and others, signed the Roxbury petition, Oct. 25, 1664, to the General Court, praying it to "stand fast in our present liberty's." He lived to the age of seventy-two. He was buried May 21, 1692, probably in the West Roxbury cemetery, although there is no stone there to mark the spot. His widow died "about" Aug. 4, 1694 (Roxbury T. R.).

Deed dated June 25, 1651: "For valueable Consideration in hand received," Capt. Hugh Pritchard, late of Roxbury in New England, deeds "vnto James Morgan, Griffin Craft, Edward Bridge, Wm. Lyon, John Mayes, Robt. Seaber & John Ruggles & Isaac Johnson a certaine parcell of marsh land in Roxbury being now an island by reason of a creeke between the same and the land of John Johnson of Roxbury."

Deed dated Aug. 3, 1657: "In Consideration of fowerscore pounds to him in hand well and truly pajd, Edward Weld deeds to William lyon and John Polly 40 acres of land in Roxbury."

Deed dated Sept. "fowerth," 1657: In Consideration of certain other lands and houses specified as also in Consideration of sixe pounds in hand pajd vnto him, William Lyon and Sarah his wife deed to Isacke Johnson a dwelling house in Roxbury with an orchard and tenne acres of land more or lesse, of which said Orchard is part.

Signed William ljon & a seale.
Sarah Lyon & a seale.

Deed dated Sept. 1, 1661: In Consideration of a valueable Price to us in hand payed, we, William Lyon, John Mayes, Junr & John Bridge & John Watson Junr deed to william Gary fiveteen Achors of land in Roxbury.

Deed dated June 15, 1661: In Consideration of a Vallueable price to us all: & to every of our contents payed, we, Richard Witherington and Eliz: his Wife of Dorchester and John Aldiss & Sarah his Wife & Jno Smith & Lidda his Wife both of Dedham deed to Willm Gary and Willm Lyon & John Mayes Junr & John Bridge & Jno Watson Junr all of them of Roxberry, in generall all the housing & lands that Deacon Phillip Elliott was possessed of in Roxberry when he Died, including a dwelling house, Barne & Cow houses with two Achors of land in Roxbury; ninety-six Achors of land in the Second alottment in Roxberry; fiveteen Achors of land as it lyeth in Roxberry abutting upon the highway leading to the great Pond; six Achrs of Salt Marsh at Gravelly Pointe in Roxbury; three Achors & a halfe of fresh Meadow, as it lyeth in baremash in Roxbury; twelve Achors of land in Roxbury Wightman had a son William born about 1580. He married July 17, 1615, at Harrow on the Hill, Anne Carter, and made his home in Heston. His children were: 1. Katherine, bapt. Oct. 25, 1616; 2. John, bapt. Nov. 30, 1617, d. in infancy; 3. John, bapt. June 1, 1619, and 4. William, bapt. Dec. 23, 1620; (O. S.).

In Roxbury land records the name of William Lyon appears as Lion, Lyon and Lyons, and we find all three forms also in the records of the Eliot church. He seems to have written it himself sometimes Lion (see autograph signature of his will, p. 28), sometimes Lyon [or Ljon]. William Lyon married, June 17, 1646 (Roxbury Ch. R.), Sarah Ruggles, daughter of John and Mary (Curtis) Ruggles of Nazing,§ England. She was born April 19, 1629, and came to America with her parents while yet an infant.

The death of Sarah is not found in Roxbury town or church records, and probably occurred in Rowley, for on Sept. (or Nov.) 30, 1677, William Lyon "of Rowley" was married to Mrs. Martha (Philbrick) Casse [Cass], widow of John Casse.

William Lyon in 1645 became a member of the Ancient and Honorable Artillery Company of Roxbury. He received in 1648 a grant of six acres of land in Roxbury, and in 1652 of three acres "upon the common, by John Polly's." His name also appears as grantee in deeds of land in Roxbury in 1651, 1658 and 1661, and as grantor in 1658 and 1672 (see below). When the new settlement at New Roxbury, now Woodstock, Conn., was determined upon in 1686, he was one of the "goers," and he was assigned a lot there, although he did not actually occupy it. Several of his grandsons (William, Thomas, John and Jacob) were prominent members, however, of the new colony, and a stepson, Ebenezer Cass,† received a grant of land there.

The Lyon homestead in Roxbury was on what is now Bellevue avenue, formerly called Lyon street. It was on the east side of the street, southwest of Atwood street.

§The Nazing colony in Roxbury included the brothers, John and Philip Eliot, William Curtis, uncle of Sarah Ruggles, and many familiar names. The "Nazing Christians" were distinguished for their devoted piety. John (5) Ruggles of Nazing, who died in Roxbury, Nov. 16, 1644, was eldest son of Thomas (4) Ruggles [Thomas (3), Nicholas (2), Thomas (1) of Sudbury, co. Suffolk]. He was descended from William de Ruggele of Staffordshire, time of King Edward I. John Ruggles' will, dated Nov. 9, 1644, makes bequest to daughter Sarah.

†Ebenezer Cass, one of the ten children of John and Martha Cass, in 1686 went to "New Rocksbury, Mass." (really in Connecticut) and, being a minor, was made joint grantee with "a person of age, one Lyon" (N. Eng. Gen. and Hist. Reg., 1902). Ebenezer Cass married, March 13, 1689, Patience Draper, born Aug. 17, 1668, daughter of James and Miriam (Stansfield) Draper of Roxbury.

3. II. 1. THOMAS[2] LYON [William[1]] was born in Roxbury, Mass., Aug. 8, 1648, and died there in 1734, ae. 86 y. He married in Boston, March 10, 1669, Abigail Gould [Gold]. We have only meagre information about his history. Sentence of excommunication was pronounced against him in John Eliot's Church Sept. 26, 1669, but on repentance he was absolved therefrom the following year. He bought land of Martha Newell Oct. 13, 1680 (Rec. of Mass., V.). Thomas Lyon and John Aldis, May 12, 1698, returned inventory on estate of James Draper (the immigrant), deceased.

His will (Suffolk Co. Probate Records, Vol. 30, pp. 381, 382) was dated April 6, 1733; proved Oct. 15, 1734. Thomas Lyon, "yeoman, advanced in years, but of sound and disposing mind," bequeathes to Seth Lyon, eldest son of his eldest son Thomas, late of Woodstock, twenty shillings in Bills of Credit (having already given to Thomas his double portion); to grandson Thomas Lyon, eldest son of his son Ephraim Lyon, late of Roxbury, ten shillings (having given to Ephraim his full single portion); to son Eliphalet Lyon, in addition to his full single portion already given him, ten shilings; to his two daughters, Esther, wife of Benjamin Wilson, and Mehitable Lyon, to be equally shared, one hundred and fifty pounds and all the household goods. Executors Benjamin Wilson, Mehitable Lyon and "my Cousin" (nephew) Samuel Lyon, mason. Signed Thomas Lyon, X his mark. Inventory, Nov. 12, 1734; amount £175—5.

†Nehemiah Lyon is called "blacksmith," but he seems to have been of an adventurous disposition. A letter written by him March, 1716, from "Jamaca" and addressed to Mr. Joseph Lyon "living in Roxbury, in Spring Street, in New England" is probably the last word ever heard from him. He says: "Dear Brother: This with my kind love to you. * * * I was sixteen months in the Bay. * * * I left the ship I sailed in thinking to get a better livelyhood than going to sea, which indeed I did by cutting of wood, but going to England thinking to meet with a ship that was bound to the Bay for to take my wood. Meanwhile the Spaniards have taken the Bay and I have lost all. * * * We are bound for Virginia, where I will get my discharge." From letter on file in Suffolk Co. Probate Records. March 30, 1725, a legal document, relating to the disposition of the property of Nehemiah Lyon, "supposed to have been lost at sea" and witnessed by Samuel and John Lyon, was signed by the following lawful heirs to the estate, Ebenezer Lyon of Norwich, New London Co.; Joshua Bicknell of Ashford, and wife of Jonathan Bugbee of Woodstock.

4. II. 1. SAMUEL[2] LYON [William[1]] was born in Roxbury, Mass., bapt. ("Samuel Lyons") June 16, 1650 (Ch. R.), and died April 7, 1713 (Roxbury T. R.). He was a mason. He was dismissed from the church in Roxbury Dec. 21, 1673, to that in Rowley, but returned a few years later. He married in 1672 Deliverance ———, who was the mother of all his children. He married second, Dec. 5, 1692, Sarah Grant of Rehoboth, being then "of Worcester" (Rehoboth Rec.). About 1688 he was granted land in Woodstock; it is not certain that he ever lived there.

His will (Suffolk Co. Probate Records, XVIII, 87-89) was dated Roxbury, April 25, 1711; probated April 25, 1713. Executors, Samuel and Ebenezer Lyon, his sons. He mentions his "present wife Sarah," speaking of the agreement made with her before marriage, "that if she survived me she should have the improvement of the housing and land I then possessed for her subsistence during the term of her continuing my widow"; refers to forty pounds already given to his oldest son Samuel Lyon, and twenty pounds given to each of his sons Ebenezer and Abiel, and makes bequests to his "other children, Henry Lyon, Sarah Curtise and Margaret and Johanna Lyon." Inventory April 14, 1713, by John Payson, Benjamin Tucker and Nathaniel Brewer. Amount, £162—18—0.

5. II. 1. WILLIAM[3] LYON [William[1]] was born in Roxbury, Mass. (baptized July 18, 1652), and died there Aug. 10, 1714. His tombstone, in good state of preservation, still stands in the W. Roxbury Cemetery (see illustration). He married, Sept. 1, 1675, in Roxbury, Sarah Dunkin [Duncan], perhaps daughter of Samuel Dunkin. She died Feb. 9, 1689. He married second, Nov. 18, 1690, Deborah ———, who survived him, dying March 12, 1717 (T. R.). He was one of the "goers" at the time that "New Roxbury" (afterwards Woodstock) was founded, but although he received a grant of land there (Lot 24) in the apportionment in 1686, he did not go there to live. He died intestate and administration of his estate was granted, Sept. 10, 1714, to his widow Deborah Lyon of Roxbury and Samuel Lyon of Newtown, presumably his son. (Suffolk Co. Probate Records, XVIII, 351). Inventory, Nov. 5, 1714; amount £471—6—6. Administrator's account, presented March 9, 1715, shows payments to David Lyon and Jacob Lyon, and money due the estate from Eliphalet Lyon (son of Thomas[2]); signed Samll Lyon.

Settlement of estate of William Lyon by His Excellency, Governor J. Dudley, Oct. 3, 1715, mentions "Samuel Lyon the second son, his elder Brother William being non compos mentis and so incapable of accepting and improving said Estate." All the real estate was given to son Samuel saving unto widow Deborah Lyon her right of dower, he to pay to his brother William Lyon his double share, being £67—5—0½, and to each of the rest of his brothers and sisters, viz. Hannah Tucker, Mehitable, David and Jacob Lyon (or their respective guardians) the sum of £33—12—6¼, and further sum on death of their mother Deborah Lyon.

He married in Roxbury, March 13, 1681, Mary Bridge, daughter of Edward and Prudence (Robinson) Bridge,† born Roxbury, April 21, 1661. To Joseph Lyon belongs the enviable distinction of having been the first of his family in America to do for his country military service. He took part in the memorable war in 1676 with that Sachem of the Wampanoags called "King Philip."

The public life of Joseph began at the early age of fourteen. "May 1, 1668, he was chosen a fence viewer on the northwest side of Stony River and as far as Muddy River and to Dedham bounds." In 1678 he took the Oath of Allegiance in Roxbury. He removed from Roxbury to West Woodstock, where he spent the later years of his life.

moved about 1698 to Woodstock. In 1705 he went to Mashamoquet, now Pomfret, and later was "of Rehoboth," living perhaps at Seekonk or in that neighborhood.

His wife's name was Elizabeth. He died intestate. Suffolk County Probate Records have: "March 1, 1725, John Lyon of Rehoboth, boatman, granted administration on estate of his father, John Lyon late of Rehoboth, husbandman." Also, March 3, 1725, inventory of property in Roxbury, viz a house, orchard and 20 acres of land adjoining, value £350 (XXIV, 396-7).

Daniel Carpenter was appointed guardian to Caleb Lyon, minor, Jan. 18, 1726; John Lyon, Jr., guardian to Joshua, Jan. 25, 1726 (Bristol Co. Probate Records). March 22, 1726, mention is made of Elizabeth Lyon, widow of John Lyon, and children John, Joshua, Benjamin and Caleb Lyon and Susanna Carpenter (Bristol Co. Register of Deeds).

Deborah Colburn, daughter of John and Experience (Leland) Colburn.† She died April 18, 1714, ae. 34 y. (G. R.). He married second (date not ascertained) Martha Morris, daughter of Lieut. Edward and Grace (Betts) Morris of Woodstock. She died May 9, 1756, ae. 81 (G. R.) [May 8, T. R.].

William Lyon was one of the pioneer settlers (1686) in Woodstock, where he became a prominent member of the community. In 1710 he was appointed on a committee to build a schoolhouse. In 1712 he was appointed grave digger for the parish, to receive two shillings for each grave for a child under five, three shillings if the grave were for a child over five and under twelve, and five shillings if the grave were for an adult. In 1717 he was one of a committee to provide materials for a new meeting house; 1719 to 1721 was on the building committee. In the division of the remaining land in the south half of Woodstock, Sept. 11, 1725, he received Lot 15. For many years he served as deacon in the Congregational Church. He was several times sent to represent Woodstock in the General Court (1734 and in succeeding years). In 1736 he was chosen moderator of the town meeting in place of Col. Chandler, who had been accustomed to serve. About this time also he was appointed with his cousin Joseph Lyon on committee for pulpit supply.

He gave a deed (dated Nov. 9, 1727) to "a parcel of land in Roxbury, Co. Suffolk [Mass.] * * * it being a lot of land which my honored grandfather William Lyon dyed seized of, and did in his last will and testament give to my honored father John Lyon and to his male heirs as by the will appeareth." Signed William Lyon; Witnesses, John Lyon (no. 53?) Aaron Lyon (no. 66).

Heirs named in distribution of his estate, including lands originally laid out to John Lyon, Sr.: sons William, Daniel, Ebenezer, Jabez, Aaron, Caleb [son-in-law—Ed.], Moses, Nehemiah.

12. III. 2. JOSEPH[3] LYON [John,[2] William[1]] was born in Roxbury, Mass., Feb. 10, 1678, and died there, June 19, 1724; buried in West Roxbury Cemetery (see illustration). He was married Nov. 5, 1701 (T. R.), to Mary Aldrich (Aldridge), daughter of Thomas and Hannah (Colburn) Aldrich§ of Dedham. Joseph was a well-to-do yeoman of the detail of whose life little is now known.

His estate was administered by the widow. Inventory by Edward Bridge, Jonathan Draper and Samuel Lyon, included dwelling house, barn and 15 acres of land adjoining with orchard, £400; land "over the way" 30 acres, with house bought of his father John Lyon and his brother John Lyon, £507; 40 acres of land on Muddy Pond Hill, £586. Division of the real estate made in July, 1729, Joseph Lyon, the elder son, receiving two-thirds, Benjamin Lyon the remainder. These items from Suffolk County Probate Records, XXIII and XXVII. Nov. 4, 1728, the widow Mary Lyon was appointed guardian of her minor daughter, Mary. Jan. 27, 1731, the same daughter, then aged about 14, chose as her guardian her honored "uncle" Jacob Lyon of Woodstock (no. 46) [in reality her father's cousin].

Children of Joseph and Mary (Aldrich) Lyon, born in Roxbury:

[There were probably other children.]

20. III. 3. THOMAS[3] LYON [Thomas,[2] William[1]] was born in Roxbury, Mass., Sept. 4, 1670 [1669, T. R.], and died in Woodstock, Conn., Sept. 14, 1717. He was married first, Nov. 1, 1692, by Samuel Sewall, Esq., in Roxbury, to Anne Case (Boston Rec.). She died Oct. 17, 1693 (?). He married second, date not ascertained, Abigail ———, who survived him. He settled in Woodstock, where he was the second schoolmaster in the schoolhouse built in 1704. He was later Corporal in a Company under Israel Putnam in the French and Indian war, "chiefly engaged in the congenial service of scouting and ranging" (Hist. Windham Co.). In the distribution of lands in the south half of Woodstock (1725), the heirs of Thomas received Lot 21.

The will of Thomas Lyon, Jr. (Suffolk Co. Probate Records, XX, 79, 80), was dated Woodstock, Aug. 14, 1717, and probated Nov. 11, 1717. "His dear wife Abigail" is made sole executrix. To her he bequeathes all "his goods, Chattels, Debts and other Personal Estate" and the use of all his Real Estate until his son Seth shall be twenty-two years old. He commits his children also to her care "to be brought up in the fear of God and an Industrious Improvement of their time during their minority, Expecting and Requiring them to be very dutifull and Obedient unto her." He bequeathes to son Seth Lyon, when he shall reach the age of 22, with reservation of the widow's third, †Inventory of estate of Joseph Richards, after his death in 1790, showed a value of £1,021, or "£545 in lawful money besides £2,600 in Continental money and £72 in notes." Children of Joseph and Mary (Lyon) Richards, born in Roxbury: 1. Molly, b. May 18, 1741; m. Oct. 7, 1759, Nathaniel Wheaton; 2. Joseph, b. Dec. 3, 1742; m. Jan. 1, 1777, Abigail Mayo, dau. Thomas Jr. and Elizabeth (Farley) Mayo of Roxbury; 3. David, b. June 18, 1745; a soldier in the Revolution; m. Dec. 1, 1772, Malatiah Farrington (3 daughters); 4. Samuel, b. March 24, ——; d. young.

"my house and homestead, also my ten acres of woodland at Westhill, and one third part of my West Division of Land and one third part of my Right in Common and undivided lands in the South half of Woodstock, he paying unto each of my three daughters Abigail, Sarah and Esther Lyon the sum of Thirty pounds as they successively arrive at the age of Twenty-one years. And to Seth I give my two Lotts of Meadow in Johnson's Meadow." "To son Goold, my Sixty-four acres of Land in the third Range of out Division Lotts, and my Twenty-five acres of Land at Claybrook," also a third of lands before mentioned, the other third going to "my son Noah Lyon," together with "my Second Division of Land, called Thirty-two acres," and "my Lott of Twenty-four acres and two roods in the North half of Woodstock." Further my will is that none of my sons shall sell any of their Lands herein bequeathed unless among themselves until they arrive to thirty years of age, on penalty of forfeiting the same to the other children."

Son of Thomas and Anne Lyon:
79. I. Achin, b. Roxbury, Oct. 15, 1693; d. Oct. 17, 1693 (T. R.)

Children of Thomas and Abigail Lyon, born in Woodstock:
80. II. Thomas, b. April 9, 1703 (T. R.); probably d. in infancy.
*81. III. Seth, b. March 27, 1704 (T. R.); res. Ashford, Conn.
*82. IV. Gould [Gold], b. Feb. 14, 1706 (T. R.); res. Ashford, Conn.
83. V. Abigail, b. Nov. 12, 1707 (T. R.).
84. VI. Noah, b. Dec. 29, 1710 (T. R.); d. intestate, Ashford, 1757; no record of any marriage.
85. VII. Sarah, b. May 11, 1713 (T. R.).
86. VIII. Esther, b. Aug. 8, 1716 (T. R.)

28. III. 3. EPHRAIM[3] LYON [Thomas,[2] William[1]] was born at Roxbury, Jan. 14, 1685 (T. R.) [in some records the name is erroneously given as Jonathan], and died in 1726 [letters of adm. granted Sept 26]. He was a blacksmith and husbandman, and the inventory of his estate shows that he succeeded in making a comfortable living. He married first, June 13, 1709, Abigail Crosby ["Crosbee"] of Billerica, who was the mother of his children. She was daughter of Simon and Hannah (————) Crosby,§ born at Bellerica Jan. 6, 1691. Two of her brothers, John (born April 18, 1696) and Samuel (born Oct. 4, 1698), settled in Shrewsbury, which accordingly became the home of her minor children after their father's death.

Ephraim Lyon married second, July 4, 1723, in Roxbury, Alice (Craft) Lovering, widow of Robert Lovering. Alice Craft was born in 1678 and died in Holliston, Mass., in her 105th year. She was five §Simon (3) Crosby, the father of Abigail, was son of Simon (2), who was born in Cambridge, son of Simon (1) and Ann. Simon (2) married Rachel Bracket, dau. of Dea. Richard Bracket of Braintree, July 15, 1659, and settled at Bellerica. He was a leading citizen, an inn keeper, and a large land holder. He died Jan. 22, 1725.

times married, and survived her fifth husband. She married Robert Lovering in Roxbury, Jan. 3, 1705. They had four children: Elizabeth, born May 19, 1708; Robert, born Sept. 26, 1710; William, born March 1, 1713, and Samuel, born Dec. 5, 1715.

After the death of Ephraim Lyon, Alice married, July 24, 1729, John Greenwood of Cambridge. Her fourth husband's name was Shedd, her fifth, Winchester. She saw at least two of her great-great-grandchildren, one of whom was named after her.

Suffolk Probate Records (XXV., 80) show that adm. of the estate of Ephraim Lyon was granted, Sept. 26, 1726, to his widow, Alice Lyon, "of Boston." The inventory presented Nov. 28, 1726, gives to his real estate a value of £360, total valuation of the estate, £505—17—6, the assets including 1 mare, 1 yoke of oxen, six cows, farming tools, blacksmith's tools, furniture, etc.,

Sept. 11, 1733, final settlement was made of the estate (XXX, 115-116). Since it could not be divided among the heirs "without spoiling the whole, the estate was assigned to Thomas Lyon, "son of said Ephraim—saving unto his mother, Alice Greenwood, former relict of said deceased her right of dower," he to pay to each of his brothers Josiah Lyon, Amariah Lyon and Aaron Lyon the sum of £49—4—0, etc.

Probate Records show further that (Sept. 13, 1727) the sons Josiah and Aaron were placed under the guardianship of their uncle, John Crosby, of Shrewsbury, while Samuel Crosby, also of Shrewsbury, was made guardian of the other son, Amariah. Oct. 1, 1731, Amariah chose as his guardian John Crosby.

Children of Ephraim and Abigail (Crosby) Lyon:

87. I. Ephraim, b. Roxbury, March 16, 1710 (T. R.); d. before 1733.

*88. II. Thomas, b. about 1711 or '12 (no record of birth or bapt.); d. 1751.

*89. III. Josiah, bapt. Roxbury, Sept. 19, 1713 (Ch. R.); res. Shrewsbury, later Grafton.

*90. IV. Amariah, b. about 1715.

*91. V. Aaron, bapt. Roxbury, Feb. 16, 1717; d. Shrewsbury, 1743 ("ae. 26").

[It is possible that the Ephraim above is a myth and that the son born March 16, 1710, was really Thomas. In his grandfather's will Thomas is called "oldest son of my son Thomas."]

29. III. 3. ELIPHALET[3] LYON [Thomas,[2] William[1]] was born in Roxbury, Sept. 20, 1687 (T. R.), baptized Aug. 12, 1688, and died in April, 1749. He married in Roxbury, Jan. 1, 1712, Elizabeth Jordan (T. R.). His will was dated Feb. 21, 1744, and proved April 25, 1749. Bequests to wife Elizabeth Lyon and to daughters, Abigail Davis, Esther White, Anna Lyon and Elizabeth Lyon.

Children of Elephalet and Elizabeth (Jordan) Lyon, born in Roxbury, Mass.:

92. I. Thankful, bapt. Aug. 23, 1713; d. before Feb., 1744.

93. II. Sarah, bapt. Oct. 31, 1714; d. before Feb. 1744.

94. III. Abigail, bapt. April 15, 1716; m. Roxbury, Nov. 4, 1736, Nathaniel Davis (T. R.).

95. IV. Esther, bapt. Nov. 9, 1717; m. Roxbury, Dec. 13, 1739, Samuel White.

96. V. Anna (called Hannah in Ch. R.), bapt. Oct. 20, 1723; m. Obadiah Lyon (No. 99).

97 VI. Elizabeth, bapt. April 18, 1731; d. Roxbury, Apr. 31, 1747, ae. 17 (G. R., West Roxbury Cemetery).

32. III. 4. SAMUEL[3] LYON [Samuel,[2] William[1]] was born in Rowley, Dec. 16, 1675. The date and place of his death have not been ascertained. He married first, Jan. 12, 1703, Elizabeth Capen (born March 21, 1682), daughter of John and Susanna (Barsham) Capen,† of Dedham. He married second, Nov. 24, 1742, Mrs. Mary Robbins,§ née Bateson or Batson. She died in Cambridge, March 2, 1760, ae. 84.

Children of Samuel and Elizabeth (Capen) Lyon:

98. I. Samuel, b. Roxbury, Feb. 2, 1712 (T. R.).

*99. II. Obadiah, bapt. Roxbury, Sept. 6, 1719 (Ch. R.).

[Probably there were other children.]

33. III. 4. EBENEZER[3] LYON [Samuel,[2] William[1]] was baptized in Roxbury, Sept. 29, 1676 (Ch. R.). He married in Dedham, July 15, 1700, Elizabeth Torbet, of Roxbury.

Children of Ebenezer and Elizabeth (Torbet) Lyon, baptized in First Church, Roxbury:

100. I. Jemima, bapt. Oct. 31, 1713.

101. II. Experience, bapt. Dec. 31, 1716.

102. III. Henry, bapt. July 26, 1719.

103. IV. Josiah, bapt. April 15, 1722.

104. V. Eleanor, bapt. Dec. 27, 1723.

[There were probably children born between 1700 and 1713 of whom we have no record. Possibly Ebenezer Lyon of Canterbury, born about 1717, was of this family.]

34. III. 4. ABIEL[3] LYON [Samuel[2], William[1]] was born in Roxbury, Mass. (bapt. April 25, 1680). [In Ch. R. we find "Biel, son of Joseph Lyon, bapt. 25, II., 1680;" there is little room for doubt that this was really Abiel, son of Samuel.]. He married first, Nov. 24, 1703, Judith Ferrington, of Woodstock (Roxbury T. R.). She died Sept. 12,

R.), mentioned in his will. He lived a few years in Woodstock, then moved to Pomfret. "Abiel Lyon of Mashamognett Colony, near Woodstock" (Worcester Registry of Deeds). He was appointed Deputy from "Pomfrett," 1721, 1725 and 1736 [called Abell in 1721] (Col. Rec. Conn.). He died in Pomfret Oct. 9, 1756. Will (Pomfret Probate Records, I., 191-2) dated Sept. 30, 1752, mentions wife Sarah, daughter Judith Ferrington, children of son Peletiah, deceased, and sons Jonathan, Obadiah and Samuel, exec.

Children of Abiel and Judith (Ferrington) Lyon:

["John Lyon, Jr., married May 16, 1754, Susanna Stowell, in Pomfret" (E. C. M. I. 76) Who was this? There was also a John Lyon of Pomfret in the Revolution. This latter may have been John[5] [Caleb,[4] John,[3] John[2]], of "Rehoboth." We may call to mind the fact that John[3] lived for a time in Pomfret. See footnote to No. 115].

39. III. 5. SAMUEL[3] LYON [William[2], William[1]] was born in Roxbury, Sept. 20, 1679, bapt. Sept. 28, 1679 [in Ch. R. called "son of Thomas Lyon"; see p. 31, also see number 32]. He died in Middleboro, Mass, Feb. 22, 1756, "in his 76th year" (Ch. R.); buried in Purchade cemetery. He married first, ..., .., ..., Maria Kenrick, who was born in 1675 and died April 25, 1704 (Roxbury T. R.). He married second, Dec. 20, 1704 (Roxbury T. R.), Joanna Weld, daughter of John and Hannah (Prentice) Weld. She was born Sept. 15, 1685. [In Middleboro Ch. R., the "original name" of Joanna is given as Bates (?) [sic], probably simply an error.] He is spoken of as "of Newtown" in 1714, but seems to have been then residing in Roxbury. He is also called "Lieutenant." He moved with his family to Middleboro; united with the church there Jan. 23, 1732. March 16, 1750 he and his wife gave to their son Jedediah (consideration £100) deed of 70 acres of land in Purchade Neck, Middleboro (the "ox-bow"), originally in grant to Peregrine White. Traditions of the "Ox-bow" linger still among the descendants of Samuel. He died intestate; inventory, returned May 1, 1756; amount £122—18—0. Administrator Edward Lyon, of Sutton. 44. II. 5. DAVID[3] LYON [William,[2] William[1]] was born in Roxbury, Mass., Oct. 31, 1692, and died at Needham, Mass., May, 1731. He married first, in Roxbury, March 11, 1715, Mary Perry (T. R.), daughter probably of Joseph Perry. He calls himself in his will "house carpenter," and left an estate valued at nearly £780. The given name of his second wife was Deborah, but no record of the marriage has been found. From an allusion in David's will, it appears that his wife Deborah was living Sept. 7, 1728, but died shortly after, at least before the date of the will.

†Nov. 12, 1727, Samuel Lyon deeds land to son John, both of Roxbury. Dec. 20, 1731, a John Lyon was assigned a seat in the meeting house in Sutton. It is not unlikely that John went with his half-brother Edward to Sutton, and he may have been the father of the Eleazer Lyon of that place, who was a minute man in 1775. (An Eleazer Lyon "in Worcester County" married Mary ——— and had a daughter Mary, born Nov. 15, 1767.) The William Lyon who was witness of Edward Lyon's will may have been another son, and John Lyon of Worcester, whose will dated Sept. 5, 1796, makes bequest to "his honored father, John Lyon," may have been another. John Lyon of Worcester was a merchant and quite well to do. He devises all his estate except 1,000 acres of land in Ohio Territory and 800 acres in Grafton County, N. H., to wife Abigail. The above real estate to brothers and sisters, viz., Mary, wife of Jonathan Newhall, Judith Blake, Nancy Lyon, Nathaniel Lyon and Elizabeth Choate. [John Lyon of Worcester may with equal likelihood have been of one of the Rehoboth families; see Nos. 146 and 171.]

The will, No. 6,109 in Suffolk Co. Probate Records (XXIX., 64-66), dated May 18, 1731, proved May 31, 1731, names as executors Lieut. Ebenezer Woodward and "uncle" Jonathan Fairbanks, both of Dedham, and Lieut. Samuel Lyon, of Roxbury. It speaks of property in the hands of widow Mary Lyon, of Needham [his uncle Joseph's widow, Ed.], of Joseph Lyon [son] and Nathaniel Whiting [son-in-law of the same Joseph]. Bequests are made to his three daughters, Deborah, the eldest, Mary and Rachel.

Oct. 13, 1733 (Suffolk Co. Probate Records, XXX., 10-11) Samuel Lyon, of Roxbury [brother of David] was appointed guardian to Rachel Lyon, "a minor about nine years of age." Nothing further has been learned about the children of David.

Children of David Lyon, born probably in Needham:
124. I. Deborah.
125. II. Mary.
126. III. Rachel, b. 1724.

46. III. 5. JACOB[3] LYON [William[2], William[1]] was born in Roxbury, Mass., June 1, 1696, and died in Woodstock, Conn., April 19, 1771; buried in Woodstock Hill cemetery. He married, June 20, 1728, Mehitable Bugbee (Boston Record). She died May 25, 1790, in her 84th year (G. R.). In 1736 he signed a petition for preaching in West Woodstock. In 1749 he took the freeman's oath. Will (Pomfret Probate Records) mentions wife Mehitable, sons David, Jacob, William, Zebulon and Nathaniel and daughters Elizabeth, wife of Benjamin Skinner, and Molly, wife of Eliphalet Goodale.

Children of Jacob and Mehitable (Bugbee) Lyon, born in Woodstock, Conn.:

127. I. Philip,§ b. April 6, 1729 (T. R.); bapt. March 17, 1730; d. Ludlow, Mass., Jan. 30, 1811, ae. 82 (Woodstock T. R.).

128. II. Elizabeth, b. June 9, 1731 (T. R.); bapt. July 26, 1731; m. Woodstock, Jan. 31, 1751, Benjamin Skinner (T. R.); no record of children.

129. III. "A son," bapt. Sept. 30, 1733; probably d. infant. [Town record gives Grace, b. Aug. 23, 1735, not consistent with the next entry.]

§Philip Lyon "of Springfield" in 1755, sells land to Moses Stebbins of Springfield [his brother David married a Stebbins]; in 1768 Philip Lyon, "husbandman of Wilbraham," sells land to John Firman of Wales, Mass. Philip Lyon of Wilbraham, who was in the French and Indian war and also in the Revolution, was probably a son (or nephew) of this Philip. Daniel Lyon of Ludlow, also in the Revolution, may have been another son, or else a son of Philip's brother, David.

*130. IV. David, b. Jan. 23, 1736 (T. R.); d. Ludlow, Mass., Sept. 20, 1804 ("ae. 69," T. R.).

131. V. Molly, b. April 8, 1738 (T. R.); bapt. July 2, 1738; m. Eliphalet Goodale.

*132. VI. Jacob, b. Feb. 29, 1740; bapt. ("a son"), April 5, 1740; m. Dec. 5, 1769, Lucy Perrin; probably removed to Gageboro, Mass., and died in the Revolutionary army.

133. VII. Mehitable (no record of birth in T. R.), bapt. Aug. 22, 1742.

*134. VIII. William, b. Dec. 4, 1744 (T. R.); bapt. Feb. 3, 1745; d. Woodstock, March 30, 1817 (G. R.).

135. IX. Nathaniel, b. 1746; "d. Dec. 22, 1771, in 25th year." This inscription on the monument in the Hill Cemetery is the only record found.

136. X. Zebulon, perhaps the same as No. 129; probably the Zebulon who joined the colony from Windham, Conn., to Pomfret, Vt.; colony founded 1761; in 1778 Zebulon Lyon was a qualified elector. In 1810 a "Zabulon Lyon" lived in Woodstock, Vt., presumably a son or grandson of this Zebulon.

48. III. 6. CAPT. JOSEPH[3] LYON [Joseph[2], William[1]] was born in Roxbury, Mass., July 4, 1684, and died in Woodstock, Conn., Sept. 13, 1751; buried in the cemetery on the hill. He was married in Roxbury, May 10, 1710, to Elizabeth Philips (T. R.) and went soon after to Woodstock. In Oct. 1731, John Ruggles, cordwainer of Roxbury, deeded to him land in Woodstock. Heirs mentioned Oct. 3, 1751, Elizabeth Lyon (widow), Mary and Ephraim Child, Anna and William Chapman, Zerviah and Joseph Allton, Lucy and John Hutchins, Susanna and Samuel Chaffee.

In 1721 he was one of sixteen who were granted permission to build pews in the new meeting house. In 1722 Joseph Lyon, "of Roxbury," deeded land in Woodstock to Penuell Child. [This was shortly after the death of his father, who had come to Woodstock. Perhaps the deed was given by Joseph, Sr., before his death and recorded in 1722.]

In 1737 or 1738 Joseph Lyon was one of three empowered to prosecute trespassers on undivided lands (Hist. Windham Co.).

Children of Joseph and Elizabeth (Philips) Lyon, born in Woodstock:

137. I. Elizabeth, b. Feb. 25, 1711 (T. R.); m. Woodstock, June 20, 1733, Samuel Hemingway (T. R.), son of Samuel and Hannah Hemingway.

138. II. Mary, b. Nov. 10, 1712 (T. R.); m. Woodstock, June 20, 1734, Ephraim Child, Jr.†; d. April 21, 1790.

139. III. Anna, b. Feb. 7, 1715 (T. R.); m. Woodstock, April 14, 1735 (T. R.), William Chapman as his 2d wife.

William Chapman's first wife was "Abigail Lyon," of unknown parentage [Abigail of John (No. 57), d. 1719, ae. 14; no other Abigail can be found of suitable age]. Children of William and Abigail (Lyon) Chapman: 1. Anna, b. April 16, 1720; 2. Jonathan, b. April 22, 1722. Children of William and Anna: 3. Elizabeth, b. Aug. 10, 1736; 4. William, b. Feb. 16, 1744.

140. IV. Zerviah, b. Dec. 31, 1716 (T. R.), m. Joseph Allton [or Alton] (Probate Record).

141. V. Joseph, b. Jan. 11, 1719 (T. R.).

142. VI. Lucy, b. Aug. 7, 1721 (T. R.); m. Woodstock, Oct. 7, 1742 (T. R.), John Hutchins.

144. VIII. Theode (a dau.), b. Aug. 7, 1725 (T. R.).

53. IV. 10. JOHN[4] LYON [John[3], John[2], William[1]] was born probably in 1697 and died in "Rehoboth," Mass., Feb. 12, 1760. He is called "boatman" in record of his appointment as administrator of his father's estate (Suffolk Co. Probate Records, Vol. XXIV., p. 396). He married first, Feb. 1, 1722 (Rehoboth Records), Judith Cooper, daughter of Nathaniel and Mary (Saben) Cooper, b. Jan. 3, 1698 (Rehoboth Records), d. March 17, 1727 (ibid). The children of Judith were baptized in the Newman Congregational church of Seekonk, those of the second wife were not.

John married second, in 1728, Mary Craggeshall. She died Aug. 26, 1753 (Rehoboth Records). March 27, 1755, John married as his third wife, Mrs. Hannah (Carpenter) Ide, widow of Daniel Ide (Seekonk Ch. R.). ‡Patience Thayer was of Mendon, Mass. Benjamin Child, son of Benjamin (2) and Grace (Morris) Child [Ephraim (2), Benjamin (1)], moved from Roxbury to Woodstock in 1712.

She was born in Woodstock, July 22, 1716. Moses Lyon was present at the first precinct meeting in the new parish of West Woodstock; chosen clerk Sept. 12, 1744. He removed to Brimfield, Mass., about the year 1753. There he taught a winter school and was proprietor of a farm. March 20, 1753, Moses Lyon, late of Woodstock, conveys land to John Hallowell (Springfield Reg. of Deeds). His will (Northampton Probate Records), dated Sept. 7, 1778, proved Nov. 3, 1778, bequeathes to well beloved wife Grace, household furniture, "my riding beast" and "my gold sleave buttons;" to son Ethel, 100 acres of land in Brimfield, also "my Silver Watch and Shoe Buckles; to my other son Alfred the remainder of my Real and Personal Estate;" bequeathes also to daughters Mersilva Cheney, Alkmena Wallis, Elphleda Janes and to grandson Moses, son of Ethel; witnesses John Child, Eleazer Weld and Lemuel Child. No mention is made in the will of a son Ephraim.

Nehemiah married second, Dec. 18, 1794, in Pomfret, Widow Elizabeth Squiers, of Pomfret [T. R.]. She was born in 1731 and died Nov. 12, 1804 [Woodstock T. R.]. Nehemiah Lyon was a prominent citizen of Woodstock. He took the freeman's oath in 1749. He was selected to convey to the General Assembly the protest of his district against the Stamp Act in 1765, and during the Revolution he, with his nephew, Capt. Benjamin Lyon, were appointed to receive and transmit donations for the relief of Boston. He was deputy from Woodstock 1762-1769. In 1768 he was one of five appointed to invite Rhode Island to "appear in person" before the General Assembly of Connecticut and unite in asking to have the Massachusetts boundary line settled. In 1771, at a meeting held in the house of Colonel Israel Putnam, he was one of four to represent Woodstock in a conference with representatives from Killingly, Thompson Parish, Ashford and Union in regard to some "new bound for the county." He was, moreover, deacon in the First Church of Woodstock.

‡Samuel Corbin was brother of Peleg. See foregoing note. He was born Aug. 27, 1751, and died June 9, 1785. He was a soldier in the Revolution and lived in Woodstock and Dudley. Mehitable seems to have had no children. Samuel married, second, Jan. 18, 1781, Lucy Learned, and had one son, Learned, and two daughters, Mehitable (Butler) and Lucy (Brown).

R.]. He married second Anna Dwight; "married by Nathaniel Walter, Dec. 21, 1742" [Roxbury T. R.]. She died Sept. 17, 1775. Benjamin Lyon lived on Lyon street (now Bellevue avenue), on the west side of the street, the property afterwards owned by George Richards. Benjamin Lyon dying intestate, administration of his estate was granted, May 1, 1752, to Anna Lyon, his widow, and Jeremiah Richards, Jr., of Roxbury. Inventory returned May 14, 1752; amount £752—5—10. In settlement of estate mention is made of sisters Hannah Whiting and Mary Lyon and of sons Benjamin, David and Daniel Lyon, and daughters Mary, wife of John Bird; Hannah Lyon, Rachel Lyon and Elizabeth Lyon. In 1777 bonds were filed by Joseph Richards and David Lyon as administrators of the estate. May 15, 1752, Widow Anna Lyon was made guardian of her daughter Rachel, aged 7; her daughter Elizabeth, aged 4, and her son, Daniel, aged 3. David Lyon, aged 14, chose Jeremiah Richards; Hannah Lyon, aged 16, chose Nathaniel Whiting; Mary Lyon, aged 18, chose Jeremiah Richards, and Benjamin Lyon, deaf and dumb from birth, aged 20, chose Seth Tucker as guardian. In 1777 Joseph Richards is mentioned as guardian of Benjamin. April 11, 1786, Nathaniel Whiting presents account as guardian of Hannah Lyon for 34 years. Items from Suffolk County Probate Records.

89. IV. 28. JOSIAH[4] LYON [Ephraim,[3] Thomas,[2] William[1]] was born in Roxbury, Mass., baptized Sept. 19, 1713. He married, March 29, 1737, Deborah Fisher, of Dedham [Fisher Gen.] and resided in Shrewsbury and later in Grafton. In 1743 he was "of Nitchewagg," now Petersham. In Dedham Ch. R. we find "Josiah Lyon and Deborah [Fisher] dismissed Oct. 7, 1739, to Mr. Whitney's church in a new plantation, Nichtawog." The names of Josiah and Deborah and of several of their children are found in the "Worcester County warnings."

Children of Josiah and Deborah (Fisher) Lyon (not arranged in order of age):

250. I. Ephraim, b. Shrewsbury, Nov. 8, 1737; d. Grafton, Feb. 24, 1820.

90. IV. 28. DOCTOR AMARIAH[4] LYON [Ephraim,[3] Thomas,[2] William[1]] was born, probably in Roxbury, Mass., in 1715 (was "16 years of age" in Oct., 1731, when he chose for his guardian his uncle John Crosby, of Shrewsbury, Suffolk Co. Probate Records, XXIX., 242). He married Lydia Stebbins, eldest daughter of Christopher and Abigail (Allen) Stebbins. He was educated as a physician in Boston. In 1738 he was "of Pequoque" (now Winchendon) and gave deed of land to Moses Hastings, of Shrewsbury. In 1743 he was "of Sutton," but shortly after this is found permanently settled in Montville, Conn., then the north parish of New London.

Children of Amariah and Lydia (Stebbins) Lyon; the seven sons all served their country in the Revolution;† dates from Mss. record in possession of Ephraim Lyon (No. 907):

259. I. Hannah, b. Sept. 3, 1746.

†Josiah Lyon served as private May 10 to Dec. 17, 1775, in the Company of Capt. James Chapman, of New London, in Sixth Regiment, which was reorganized as the Tenth Continental Regiment the following year. To this belonged a Thomas Lyon, discharged sick at Stamford in November, 1776. A Thomas Lyon enlisted for three years, March, 1777, but died Sept. 12, 1777. In the same Company (that of Capt. Holmes, First Regiment of Connecticut Line) we find the name of Aaron Lyon, of East Haddam; served Feb. 13, 1777, to Feb. 13, 1780. An Amariah Lyon was private in the Company of Capt. Thomas Knowlton of Ashford, in 1775. An Amariah Lyon also marched from Colchester on the alarm of April 19, 1775. Most of the foregoing items probably relate to sons of Dr. Amariah Lyon.

91. IV. 28. AARON[4] LYON [Ephraim,[3] Thomas,[2] William[1]] was born in Roxbury, Mass. (bapt. Feb. 16, 1717), and died in Shrewsbury in 1743. Left a minor at his father's death, he chose his uncle John Crosby, of Shrewsbury, as his guardian, Aug. 23, 1732 (Suffolk Co. Probate Records, XXXI, 99). May 26, 1743, his brother Thomas petitions for appointment of Josiah Lyon, of Nichewagg (Petersham), Worcester Co., another brother, as administrator of the estate of Aaron Lyon, "late deceased in his majesty's service," said Josiah being sole creditor to the estate (Worcester Probate Records No. 38161).

99. IV. 32. OBADIAH[4] LYON [Samuel,[3] Samuel,[2] William[1]] was born in Roxbury, Mass. (bapt. Sept. 6, 1719), and died in 1755. He married in Roxbury, Jan. 26, 1740, Anna Lyon (T. R.), daughter of Eliphalet and Elizabeth (Jordan) Lyon (No. 96). Jeremiah Richards was appointed administrator of his estate, March 21, 1755. Inventory, April 4, 1755, by Nathaniel Whiting, Nathaniel Richards and Ephraim Jackson; amount, £52—14—2. Jeremiah Richards app. Jan. 6, 1758, guardian to Aaron, Anna and Samuel Lyon, minors. In settlement, Feb. 8, 1765, Aaron Lyon, "eldest son," received estate by paying to his brother Samuel and his sister Anna Carpenter, £8—4, each.

[It is said that Jonathan had in all seventeen children, of whom Asa was the sixteenth.]

108. IV. 34. PELATIAH[4] LYON [Abiel,[3] Samuel,[2] William[1]] was born in Pomfret, Conn., Sept. 20, 1711, and died there Feb. 18, 1746. He married first, Feb. 2, 1741 (Pomfret T. R.), Sarah Holt, who died Oct. 11, 1743 (Pomfret T. R.). He married second, Rachel ——. His children were:

By first wife, Sarah Holt:

288. I. Robert, b. Pomfret, Sept. 30, 1743 (T. R.).

By second wife, Rachel ———:

289. II. Pelatiah, b. Pomfret, Aug. 20, 1746; m. July 12, 1768, Sabra Cady, he being of Williamsboro (E. C. M. I., 38); she d. Aug. 27, 1786; he m. second Sept. 28, 1788, Hannah Lyon, being then of Pomfret (E. C. M. I., 80); he d. Oct. 17, 1795 (Pomfret T. R.).

110. IV. 34. OBADIAH[4] LYON [Abiel,[3] Samuel,[2] William[1]] was born in Pomfret, Conn., Oct. 16, 1715. The date and place of his death have not been ascertained. His wife's name was Patience ——, of whose parentage nothing is known. He must have lived for a time after his marriage in Dedham, where the birth and baptism of his oldest daughter are recorded. In 1749 he signed a petition in Pomfret, praying that this be set off as a west district. He lived in Pomfret until 1753, when he moved to Middleboro, Mass., where his two youngest children were born. He bought land of James Raymond in Middleboro, deed dated April 30, 1753, but sold the same the following year, and may have spent the last years of his life in Halifax, Mass., where his son Obadiah settled.

Children of Obadiah and Patience Lyon:

200. I. Eunice, b. Dedham, Aug. 8, 1743 (T. R.); bapt. ["Unice"] Aug. 14, 1743 (Dedham Ch. R.); d. Pomfret, April 13, 1747 (T. R.).

116. IV. 39. ELEAZER[4] LYON [Samuel,[3] William,[2] William[1]] was born in Roxbury, Mass., Oct. 14, 1706. He married, Oct. 15, 1732, in Middleboro, Mass., Bethiah Allen, daughter of Nathaniel and Mary Allen,§ of Middleboro (Ch. R.), [T. R. gives date June 27, 1732, perhaps int.]. He lived a short time in Middleboro, but with his brother Jonathan removed to Bedford, N. H., where they signed a petition in 1744. Little further has been learned of their history; in 1747, 1753 and 1763 Ebenezer Lyon signed petitions in Amherst, N. H.; in 1783 the name Edward Lyon appears also. See footnote, p. 42.

Children of Eleazer and Bethiah (Allen) Lyon:

215. Eunice, b. Middleboro, Mass., Feb. 8, 1735 (T. R.).

[No doubt there were other children.]

†Zebulon Lyon of Plympton (also "of Plymouth") took an active part in the Revolution. He was private at the Lexington alarm; served May to August, 1775, and again October, 1775; was corporal in Captain Cook's Company; enlisted March, 1777, for three years' service, but was killed Sept 11, 1777.

§Nathaniel (3) Allen was son of Deacon Samuel (2) and Sarah (Partridge) Allen of Bridgewater, the son of Samuel (1) and Ann Allen of Braintree (Hist. Bridgewater).

118. IV. 39. EDWARD[4] LYON [Samuel,[3] William,[2] William[1]] was born in Roxbury, Mass., Dec. 24, 1710. He married, March 2, 1736, Rebecca Boydon [Boyden], of Sutton; married by Rev. David Hall (Sutton T. R.). She survived her husband, married second, before 1776, a Mr. Black, and is said to have lived to the age of ninety-five.

(Autograph.)

Sept. 8, 1742, the name of Edward Lyon is signed to a petition for the setting off of a new "Presenk" from Sutton. The will of Edward Lyon (Worcester Probate Records, No. 38,184), dated Oakham, Nov. 5, 1773, probated Dec. 27, 1773, bequeaths to wife Rebecca one-third real estate in Oakham for life; to son Samuel Lyon all the real estate in Oakham; to eldest daughter, Rebecca, wife of Daniel Moody, farm in Royalston bought of Ezra Pratt; with bequests also to "eldest son, David Lyon," "daughter Hannah, wife of Daniel Knap," and "grandson Elijah, son of Jerusha Knap, deceased." Executor, son Samuel, who died, however, before the will was presented for probate. Among the witnesses was a William Lyon, who may have been a nephew, perhaps a brother of Eleazer Lyon, of Sutton, minute man in the Revolution. The estate of Samuel Lyon, "of Oakham," was administered by his brother David, of Royalston. Inventory, Aug. 16, 1784, showed 77 acres of land in Oakham with house, barns and other buildings, valued at £160. Division of estate, Jan., 1796; to Rebecca Black, mother of deceased, to heirs of Rebecca Moody, to Hannah Knapp, to heirs of Jerusha Knapp (Worcester Probate Records, No. 38,228, No. 38,229).†

Edward Lyon served as private in Capt. Holman's company, Col. Chandler's Regiment, which marched from Sutton to Sheffield, and was in service from Aug. 10 to Aug. 18, 1758. According to family tradition he was also in the expedition that captured the French fort at Louisburg, Cape Breton, in 1745.

§John Ingraham was one of the claimants of the large estates in England left to the descendants of the only daughter of Mr. Joseph Wilson of Yorkshire. Joseph Wilson's daughter, Sarah, married Edward Crowell, who moved to Boston, Mass. Their only child, Sarah Crowell, married Timothy Ingraham and moved to Bristol, R. I., where he died June 30, 1748, in his 84th year. She died Jan. 12, 1742, in her 71st year. They had seven children: Timothy, Jeremiah, Edward, John, Joshua, Isaac and Sarah. John Ingraham and wife, Mary, had ten children, of whom the youngest was the Elizabeth who married John Lyon.

†Nehemiah May was born in Roxbury, Mass., June 28, 1701, and died in Woodstock, Conn., May 1, 1753; m. Nov. 30, 1726, Mehetabel Holbrook of Roxbury. Children: 1. Mary, b. Oct. 23, 1727; m. Benjamin Lyon (No. 186); 2. Capt. Nehemiah (See No. 183), b. Jan. 31, 1729; 3. Col. Ezra, b. Dec. 16, 1731; d. Jan. 11, 1778; 4. Sarah, b. 168. V. 59. CALEB[5] LYON [Caleb,[4] John,[3] John,[2] William[1]] was born in Seekonk, Mass., June 29, 1734. He married, April 28, 1756, Elizabeth Hodges, of Norton, Mass. He seems to have removed from Woodstock soon after his marriage. He was probably the father of Caleb Lyon, of Lyonsdale, N. Y., who was born in 1761 in East Windsor, Conn., and removed thence, presumably with his parents, to Greenfield, Mass., when still a child, and whose ancestors for several generations had borne the name of Caleb [Hist. Lewis Co., N. Y.]. One child only is mentioned in Woodstock T. R.:

360. I. Hannah, b. Woodstock, July 30, 1760 (T. R.); possibly not the oldest child, and almost certainly not the only one.

361. II.(?) Caleb, b. E. Windsor, Conn., 1761.

170. V. 59. LIEUTENANT LEMUEL[5] LYON [Caleb,[4] John,[3] John,[2] William[1]] was born in Seekonk, Mass., June 4, 1738. He married first, Oct. 10, 1763, Hannah Dresser, of Southbridge, Mass., cousin

‡Jonathan Mason was baptized March 26, 1758, son of Elias and Lydia Mason. Elias may have been son of Robert and Hannah (Holmes) Mason, who were married in Woodstock Nov. 15, 1711. Jonathan Mason settled in Orford, N. H. Children of Jonathan and Deborah (Lyon) Mason: 1. Sarah, b. Dec. 12, 1782; d. March 9, 1784; 2. Mary (Polly), b. Nov. 26, 1785; m. ——— Mann; was living in Orford, N. H., in 1885, ae. 99 y.; 3. Jonathan, b. June 17, 1787; 4. Sally, b. May 19, 1792; 5. Hannah, b. March 27, 1784.

†Amos Paine (No. 406), son of Capt. Amos and Priscilla (Lyon) Paine, married second, Nov. 2, 1809, Mrs. Tryphena (Eaton) Kendall of Ashford, Conn., sister of Gen. William Eaton; no children by this marriage. Children of Amos and Polly (Lyon) Paine: 1. Ursula, b. Dec. 16, 1787; m. Dr. John Eliot Eaton, Jr., of Spencer, Mass.; d. Providence, R. I., Feb. 3, 1842 (3 sons, 2 daughters); 2. Nancy, b. Dec. 5, 1789; m. 1st Chester Kendall of Ashford, Conn. (2 sons); m. 2d Oliver Saunders of Woodstock (2 sons, 2 daughters); d. Barrington, R. I., March 8, 1880, ae. 90 y.; 3. Polly, b. Dec. 8, 1792; d. Sept. 4, 1807; 4. Amos, b. Jan. 12, 1800; m. Cynthia Davis (no ch.); 5. Maria, b. 1802; d. in infancy; 6. Sarah May, b. Oct. 23, 1804; m. Heman Stebbins; res. Providence, R. I.

of Reuben Dresser, Sr., of Goshen. She died Nov. 10, 1766, and he married second, Mary ——. In 1758 he was a private in the Twelfth Company at Ticonderoga. He moved from Woodstock to Goshen in 1762. At the Lexington alarm he marched from Chesterfield, N. H. (Hist. Goshen). In 1782 he donated land in Goshen for a meeting-house. He removed later to Williamstown, Mass., where his daughter, Mrs. Stone, lived. According to a church record in Goshen, he died in New York City.

Children of Lemuel and Hannah (Dresser) Lyon:

362. I. Joel, b. Goshen, Aug. 17, 1764.

363. II. Asenath ["Cena"], b. Goshen, Feb. 26, 1766; m. 1785, Sylvanus Stone§ and removed to Williamstown.

Children of Lemuel and Mary Lyon:

364. III. Hannah, b. Aug. 16, 1773.

365. IV. Silas, b. May 22, 1780; grad. Williams College; lawyer; in a deed given in 1809 he is "of Boston."

171. V. 59. JOHN[5] LYON [Caleb,[4] John,[3] John,[2] William[1]] was born in Seekonk, Mass., Feb. 24, 1740. Little is known of him except that he served in the Revolution. He was captain of a company which marched from Rehoboth on the alarm of April 19, 1775; also was a private in a company that marched from Rehoboth to Bristol, R. I., on an alarm in Dec., 1776. He married, Aug. 8, 1771, Mrs. Miriam Frisket (E. C. M., I., 113, also Hist. Goshen). A John Lyon married in Crompton, R. I., Oct. 27, 1763, Martha Burlingame. It is possible that it was this John, who may have been twice married. A separate chapter is devoted to the descendants of John and Martha.

173. V. 59. CAPT. WILLIAM[5] LYON [Caleb,[4] John,[3] John,[2] William[1]] was born in Seekonk, Mass., Feb. 7, 1742, and died at Woodstock, March 30 [or 31], 1805; buried in Woodstock Hill Cemetery. He married, in Watertown, Mass., June 6, 1776 (Charlestown Genealogies), Mrs. Mary (Stone) Tufts, whose acquaintance he made while on military service in the Revolution. She was born Nov. 13, 1743 (?) [1747 by G. R.], daughter of Moses and Hannah (Tainter) Stone and widow of Aaron Tufts, of Charlestown, Mass. She died Oct. 22, 1824, ae. 77 y. (G. R. Woodstock Hill). He served as corporal at the time of the Lexington alarm. In October, 1775, he was appointed ensign (Col. Rec. Conn., XV.), afterwards first lieutenant in the Seventh Company of the Third Regiment. In 1771 he was one of those appointed to inquire into the financial status of the town.

§Sylvanus Stone kept a hotel many years in Williamstown; he had sons, Silas, Chester and Pomeroy, the first of whom continued the hotel business after his decease.

Children of William and Mary (Stone) Lyon, born in Woodstock, Conn.:

366. I. Hannah, b. Feb. 1, 1773; m. June 22, 1814, in Woodstock (T. R.), Col. Jonathan Lyon (No. 451); d. Feb., 1844 (G. R., Woodstock Hill).

367. II. Susanna, b. Nov. 25, 1779 (T. R.); m. John Williams of Pomfret; d. Sept. 1, 1841.

368 III. John, b. Nov. 8, 1781 (Fam. R.), "drowned in Cambridge River on the Sabbath day, Sept. 22, 1799, aged 18 years" (T. R.).

177. V. 59. CYRUS[5] LYON [Caleb,[4] John,[3] John,[2] William[1]] was born in Woodstock, Conn., Feb. 22, 1750, and died in Goshen, Mass., Feb. 12, 1831. He married first, Mary ——. The name of his second wife was Hannah. She died March 20, 1813, ae. 59. He was one of the first settlers in Goshen. He was chosen hog reeve at the first town meeting held there in 1782. In 1783 "Cyrus Lyon of the Gore" conveys land to Thomas Weeks. Aug. 17, 1785, he buys land of his brother Lemuel, being then "of Goshen" (Springfield Rec. of Deeds). In 1788 he was appointed on a committee to build a school house for the southwest district. His will, dated May 15, 1812, probated January, 1832, mentions wife Hannah, sons Abell, Luther, Cyrus, Joel and Elias, daughters Elizabeth Lyon and Mary Bisbee; Elias Lyon, executor.

Children of Cyrus [and Mary(?)] Lyon:

379. I. Abel, b. Goshen, May 15, 1778; m. Feb. 10, 1804, Lucinda Olds, being then "of Swanton, Vt."

380. II. Luther, b. Goshen, Aug. 26, 1780.

381. III. Elizabeth, b. Goshen, Aug. 22, 1782; not m.; d. 1819.

180. V. 62. ELIJAH[5] LYON [William,[4] William,[3] John,[2] William[1]] was born in Woodstock, Conn., May 8, 1727, and died there Dec. 24, 1800. He married first, Nov. 26, 1747 (Fam. R.), Sarah Monger, who died June 8, 1748 (T. R.). There is record of a marriage of Elijah Lyon, Jan. 9, 1752 (Woodstock T. R.), to Elizabeth Meriam, of Mendon, but no children of "Elijah and Elizabeth" are recorded. On Nov. 2, 1777, Elijah married Mary Cross (Ch. R. Leicester, R. I.), and four sons blessed the union. Mary Cross was born in 1738; is said to have been "of Providence, R. I."; d. July 27, 1803 (G. R.). Elijah Lyon in 1760 was surveyor of highways in Woodstock.

Children of Elijah and Sarah (Monger) Lyon:
386. I. Sarah, b. 1748; m. ——— Lawton; res. Holland, Mass.

Children of Elijah and Mary (Cross) Lyon, born in Woodstock:

†Daniel Paine, son of Daniel and Elizabeth (Williams) Paine, and nephew of Capt. Amos Paine (See No. 191), was born March 5, 1766. He married 1st Mary Chandler (1 son, 4 daughters); Nov. 21, 1806, he m. as 2d wife Sarah Lyon (above). He was a farmer; removed to Pawtucket about 1825 and d. there Aug. 21, 1830. Children of Daniel and Sarah (Lyon) Paine; 1. Lydia; 2. Dana Lyon; 3. Harriet Bethia; 4. Amos Lyon; 5. Sarah; 6. Lucy; 7. Luther; 8. Abraham Williams; 9. Abraham Underwood.

*434. X. Parley, b. Aug. 18, 1788 (G. R. Rose, N. Y.) ["a son," b. Aug. 13, 1787, T. R.]; d. Rose, N. Y., March 17, 1846 (G. R.).

*435. XI. Walter, b. Aug. 12, 1790 (G. R.) ["a son," Aug. 19, 1789, T. R.]; d. Rose, N. Y., Sept. 8, 1874.

197. V. 64. WAREHAM[5] LYON [Ebenezer,[4] William,[3] John,[2] William[1]] was born in West Woodstock, Feb. 1, 1748, and died there March 7, 1823. He married first, Dec. 19, 1771 (Woodstock T. R.), Anna Underwood, who was born in 1751 and died March 14, 1791, "in her 40th year" (G. R.). He married second, Patty Bugbee, who was born in 1761 and died March 3, 1828, ae. 67, at West Woodstock (G. R.). The name Corporal Warram Lyon appears in revolutionary records in the Company of Lieut. Jonathan Morris, Eleventh Regiment, in 1778.

Children of Wareham and Anna (Underwood) Lyon, born in West Woodstock:

*436. I. Throop, b. 177(2) (T. R.).

437. II. Anna, b. April 3, 177(3) (T. R.); d. Aug. 18, 1780 (T. R.).

438. III. Frances, b. Aug. 20, 1776 (T. R.); d. Dec. 20, 1793, "ae. 18 y." (G. R.) [If this is correct, date of birth must be 1775; T. R. says d. Dec. 11, 1799, a discrepancy not easy to explain].

439. IV. Wareham, b. June 13, 1778 (T. R.); d. June 20, 1778 (T. R.).

440. V. "A daughter," b. July 7, 1779 (T. R.).

441. VI. Anna, b. Jan. 16, 1782.

442. VII. Zerviah, b. April 26, 1784 (T. R.).

*443. VIII. Wareham, Jr., b. April 28, 1786 (T. R.); d. Dec. 27, 1866, ae. 80 y. 8 mo. (G. R.).

Child of Wareham and Martha (Bugbee) Lyon:

444. IX. Alvan, b. Aug. 24, 1793 (T. R.); m. Dec. 29, 1819, Lucinda Stacy of Monson, Mass. (Woodstock T. R.); she d. July 14, 1825, ae. 32 (G. R.); he d. July 24, 1825, ae. 32 (G. R.).

198. V. 65. JOHN[5] LYON [Jabez,[4] William,[3] John,[2] William[1]] was born in Woodstock, Dec. 22, 1730 (bapt. Jan. 24, 1731), and died at Stratford, Conn., Sept. 26, 1778. He married, July 25, 1750 (Woodstock T. R.), Mary Evans, of Woodstock, who died Aug. 28, 1767 (T. R.). He was probably the John Lyon who was a private in Co. 7 of General Putnam's Regiment, 1775, William Lyon, of Woodstock, being lieutenant in the same Company.

Children of John and Mary (Evans) Lyon, born in Woodstock:

445. I. Olive, b. July 23, 1752 (T. R.) [name in T. R. is Olliff, in Ch. R., Olive; in Mss. Fam. Rec. Oliver]; bapt. Nov. 19, 1752.

*446. II. Jabez, b. Jan. 26, 1756 (T. R.); m 1778 Mehitable Woodward; d. Brandon, Vt., March 16, 1843.

447. III. Mamie [in Ch. R. "Minerva"], b. July 5, 1759 (T. R.); bapt. Sept. 30, 1759 (Ch. R.).

[Probably there were other children.]

202. V. 65. CAPT. STEPHEN[5] LYON [Jabez,[4] William,[3] John,[2] William[1]] was born in Woodstock, Conn., Feb. 7, 1739, and died April 26, 1791; buried in East Woodstock Cemetery, where there is a very old stone without date and a more recent one bearing the foregoing date. He married first, Jan. 1, 1761 (E. C. M., II., 55), Huldah Bugbee, of Killingly. She was born in 1738; died April 23, 1782, "in 44th year" (G. R.). He married second, Jan. 1, 1784, Molly [Mary] Wilkinson, of Scituate (Woodstock T. R.). She was born in 1740 and died July 22, 1807, "in 67th year" (G. R.). Burials all in East Woodstock Cemetery. No children recorded in Woodstock by either marriage.

In May, 1767, he was app. Ensign 17th Co., 11th Reg. (Col. Rec. Conn., XII., 555); later app. Lieut. in same Co.; in May, 1776, app. Capt. 6th Co., 11th Reg.; June, 1776, app. by Assembly Capt. 4th Co. in 6th Battalion (Ibid, XV., 430). He served with distinction in three successive campaigns during the revolutionary war.

203. V. 65. ASA HALL[5] LYON [Jabez,[4] William,[3] John,[2] William[1]] was born in West Woodstock, Conn., March 13, 1743, and died Feb. 28, 1785. Graduate of Yale College, 1766. Was "of Saybrook," Conn., 1769. Subscriber to campaign document, 1774. Appointed surveyor of lands for Windham County in 1776 (Col. Rec. Conn.). Was quartermaster in continental service in 1777, promoted 1st Lieutenant June 1, 1778; served as paymaster April 25 to Sept. 13, 1780, when he retired. Member of the Society of the Cincinnati.

205. V. 66. JONATHAN[5] LYON [Aaron,[4] William,[3] John,[2] William[1]] was born in Woodstock, Conn., April 26, 1741, and died in that place May 28, 1830; buried in the Woodstock Hill Cemetery. He married in Woodstock, Dec. 22, 1763 (T. R.), Rebecca [Rebekah] Corbin, daughter of Elisha[3] Corbin [James,[2] Clement[1]], of Dudley, Mass. She was born in 1742 and died Aug. 12, 1828, ae. 86 (G. R., in which the name is Rebecka). He was overseer in 1773 of a highway district (Hist. Windham Co.).

Children of Jonathan and Rebecca (Corbin) Lyon, born in Woodstock:

448. I. Jonathan b. Sept. 29, 1764 (T. R.) [another record has "Martha," b. Sept. 24, 1764].

449. II. Aaron, b. Feb. 13, 1766; m. ———.

450. III. Elisha, b. May 20, 17(67) (T. R.).

451. IV. Jonathan, b. July 16, 17(68) (T. R.); d. Woodstock, Jan. 8, 1834 (G. R.).

452. V. Rebecca, b. July 16, 1769 (Mss. Fam. R.; name not in T. R.); m. Perley Tucker; res. Holmes, Seneca Co. N. Y.; children: 1. Pliny; 2. "a daughter" who m. ——— Freelove.

[The last five children seem to have been born in Sturbridge, Mass.]

206. V. 65. ISAIAH[3] LYON [Aaron,[4] William,[3] John,[2] William[1]] was born in Woodstock, Jan. 29, 1743, and died in South Woodstock, Aug. 25, 1813. He married, Oct. 24, 1765, Sibyl ["Sybbil"] Ranney (E. C. M., I., 112). She was born 1738; died Sept. 24, 1815. Isaiah was a member of Capt. Samuel McClellan's company "36 horses rode," during the Lexington alarm.

The will of Isaiah Lyon, on record in District of Pomfret, Windham Co., Conn., dated Aug. 24, 1813, proved Dec. 7, 1813, makes son Luther W. Lyon executor, and mentions wife Sybil; sons Alvan, Rufus and Pearly, and daughter Betsey Bolles.

Children of Isaiah and Sibyl (Ranney) Lyon:

462. I. Betty (Betsey), b. Woodstock, May 30, 1766; m. ——— Bolles.

463. II. Elijah, b. Woodstock, April 27, 1768 (T. R. in which name is Elisha); d. Aug. 11, 1768 (T. R.).

*464. III. Alvan, b. Woodstock, Nov. 9, 1770 (T. R. name given as Alban); m. June (?) 6, 1798, Sally Barrett (Woodstock T. R.).

*465. IV. Luther Wells, b. Quasset, South Woodstock; d. 1851.

466. V. Rufus.

467. VI. Perley (Pearly)†.

[Possibly other children; Mss. Fam. Rec. in Woodstock has the additional names Isaiah, Asa Payson and "Nancy; m. ——— Wells," the last, at least, very doubtful.]

§James Wheaton was born May 5, 1789, and died Dec. 27, 1874. Children of James and Nancy (Lyon) Wheaton: 1. Warren L., b. March 6, 1812; m. 1st Harriet Record (4 sons and 2 daughters); m. 2d April 4, 1877, Christiana Shugg of New York City; 2. Jesse C., b. May 27, 1813; m. Miss O. Gary (4 sons and 5 daughters); one son is a Methodist minister. Warren and Jesse Wheaton settled in Illinois about 1834, 25 miles west of Chicago, and founded there the town of Wheaton and the college bearing the same name. The brothers were both farmers, but men of much enterprise and public spirit. Warren has been a member of both branches of the State Legislature.

†A Parley Lyon of Woodstock about 1802 married Patty Cushman, born March 5, 1779, daughter of Elkanah and Hannah (Churchill) Cushman of Plympton and Kingston (Compare No. 401). They had three children.

207. V. 65. EZRA[5] LYON [Aaron,[4] William,[3] John,[2] William[1]] was born in Woodstock, Dec. 9, 1744, and died Sept. 27, 1783 (or '88). His wife's name was Sabra. She was born in 1745 and died Dec. 23, 1811, ae. 66 (G. R., which reads "Mrs. Sabra Bugbee, formerly wife of Ezra Lyon"). Ezra and other members of the family were buried in the Lyon cemetery, West Woodstock.

Children of Ezra and Sabra Lyon, born West Woodstock:

468. I. Chloe, b. July 6, 1772 (T. R.), but date illegible); d. July 6, 1791, "ae 19 on the day she died" (T. R.) [ae. 19 y., G. R.].

469. II. Orinda, b. Sept. 3, 177(3) (T. R., name partly effaced); d. Aug. 23, 1800, "at break of day, ae. 27 y." (T. R.) [in 27th y., G. R.].

470. III. Betty, b. Nov. 12, 1774 (T. R.); m. (probably), Aug. 19, 1798, Marvel Underwood (T. R.).

471. IV. Ezra, b. Aug. 8, 1776.

472. V. Marcus,§ b. 1782; murdered in Wilbraham, Mass., Nov. 9, 1805, ae. 23 y. (G. R.).

208. V. 69. EPHRAIM[5] LYON [Moses,[4] William,[3] John,[2] William[1]] was born in 1738 and died in Ashford, Conn., May 25, 1798. The name does not appear in Woodstock town records and the parentage is inferred from traditions which connect the descendants of Moses and of his brother Aaron with General Nathaniel Lyon, a grandson of this Ephraim. His name, however, is not mentioned in the will of Moses Lyon. He served twelve months in the Revolutionary army. He married, July 5, 1762, Esther Bennett, and settled at Ashford, Conn., where he was a successful farmer and also a lawyer of more than ordinary acumen. In 1764 he was one of twenty-four who signed a protest against the formation of a new church organization in Ashford. His will, recorded in Pomfret, Windham Co., Conn., is dated May 9, 1798; probated July 3, 1798. In it he mentions sons Nathan Lyon (eldest), Ephraim Lyon, Jr., James Lyon and Amasa Lyon and daughters Esther Burnham (eldest), Lucy Lyon, Betsey Lyon, Lois Lyon and Zeruiah Lyon.

Children of Ephraim and Esther (Bennett) Lyon, born in Ashford:

473. I. Nathan, b. April 29, 1763 (T. R.).

474. II. Esther, b. March 1, 1765 (T. R.); m. 1781(?), Nathan Burnham.

475. III. Ephraim, b. March 15, 1767 (T. R.).

476. IV. Zeruiah, b. March 3, 1769 (T. R.); not m.; d. Eastford, Nov. 27, 1818, ae. 50 (G. R.).

250. V. 89. CAPTAIN EPHRAIM[5] LYON [Josiah,[4] Ephraim,[3] Thomas,[2] William[1]] was born in Shrewsbury, Nov. 8, 1737, and died in Grafton, Feb. 24, 1820, "ae. 84." He is said to have come to Grafton with his wife and son Ephraim about 1800 and settled near the Northboro line, on the post road. His wife's name was Elizabeth Axtell. Ephraim Lyon was named as a private "from Westfield" in Capt. Samuel Warrin's Company of "alarm soldiers" in 1757, and again in Capt. Stephen Maynard's Company raised in 1759 for the reduction of "Canady." In the Revolution, he was private in the northern army in 1777; the following year he was captain of the 9th Company of Militia in 6th Worcester County Regiment. His will, dated March 6, 1813, proved May 2, 1820, is on file in probate office in Worcester, No. 38,190. Bequests to wife Elizabeth, only son, Ephraim Lyon, Jr.; daughters Molly Leland, Betty Marsh, Deborah Fay, Lydia Gregory and the children of daughter Huldah Knowlton, deceased.

286. V. 107. REV. ASA[5] LYON [Jonathan,[4] Abiel,[3] Samuel,[2] William[1]] was born in Pomfret, Conn., Dec. 31, 1763, and died in South Hero, Vt., April 4, 1841. He was a pupil of Rev. Walter Lyon in Pomfret; graduated with first honors at Dartmouth College, 1790, studied divinity and was pastor of the Congregational Church at Sunderland, Mass., in 1792. He organized the church in South Hero, Vt., which became his home, in 1795, and was its first minister. When the church was in financial straits, he gave his pastoral services gratuitously, but "Father Lyon" was under no vow of poverty. By thrift and industry he made himself the richest man in South Hero. He was indeed a man of extraordinary ability, a giant in intellect as in physical stature, holding a commanding place among the divines of his generation, and remarkable for the versatility of his genius. He was active in politics, was several times elected to the General Assembly from South Hero and Grand Isle; was two years member of the Council; presided as chief judge of the first term of the Grand Isle County Court in 1805 and at four subsequent terms; was representative in Congress, 1815 to 1817. Daniel Webster is said to have testified in the highest terms to his ability shown in Congress. A sketch of his career is given in the Vermont Chronicle (St. Johnsbury, Vt.), Nov. 28, 1895. At his death he left a memorandum that he be buried without any monument, and so his body rests in a nameless grave near those of his children in Grand Isle cemetery. Asa Lyon married Esther Newell, of Shelburne, Vt.

Children of Asa and Esther (Newell) Lyon:
601. I. Esther, b. 1799; m. Daniel Brown; d. March 25, 1841.
602. II. Abigail, b. 1801; m. Abijah Hatch; d. March 18, 1881.
603. III. Newell; practiced law in Burlington, Vt.

292. V. 110. OBADIAH[5] LYON [Obadiah,[4] Abiel,[3] Samuel,[2] William[1]] was born in Pomfret, Conn., Aug. 18, 1747. He came with his father to Middleboro, Mass., in 1753, and finally made his home in Halifax, Mass. He married, in Halifax, Oct. 28, 1773, Lydia Cushman (E. M. M. II, 111). She was born Oct. 20, 1751, daughter of Abner and Mary (Tillson) Cushman; d. Oct. 27, 1820. Obadiah Lyon served in the Revolutionary war, being called out on an alarm in December, 1776, to Bristol, R. I.

Children of Obadiah and Lydia (Cushman) Lyon, born in Halifax, Mass.:

*604. I. Obadiah, b. April 5, 1776; d. in Oct.(?), 1846.

446. VI. 198. JABEZ[6] LYON [John,[5] Jabez,[4] William,[3] John,[2] William[1]] was born in Woodstock, Conn., Jan. 26, 1756, and died at Brandon, Vt., March 16, 1843. He married in 1778 Mehetable Woodward, daughter of Thomas W. and Mehetable (Goldsmith) Woodward, born at Brookline, Mass., March 11, 1757; died at Brandon, Vt., March 25, 1837.

He removed from Woodstock to Tinmouth, Vt., in 1788, and thence in 1790 to Brandon, Vt. Although not a church member he was strict in religious observances, especially regarding the sacredness of the Sabbath. He was temperate in all his habits and a hater of tobacco.

Children of Jabez and Mehetable (Woodward) Lyon:

780. I. John, b. Woodstock, Feb. 14, 1779 (T. R.) [not found in original record]; d. Jan., 1857.

781. II. Hannah, b. Woodstock, July 20, 1780 (T. R.); m. in 1802 Samuel Capron; died April 1, 1869.

782. III. Mehetable, b. Woodstock, Dec. 17, 1781 (T. R.).

783. IV. Matilda, b. Woodstock, July 3 [or 13], 1784 (T. R.).

788. IX. Lucy, b. Brandon, Nov. 25, 1796.

789. X. Lyman [Luman], b. Brandon, Jan. 1, 1799.

449. VI. 205. AARON[6] LYON [Jonathan,[5] Aaron,[4] William,[3] John,[2] William[1]] was born in Woodstock, Conn., Feb. 13, 1766. He is said to have married Elizabeth Child; (?) there is record also "Aaron Lyon married, Dec. 27, 1795, Jedidah Child† of Sharon," which may well refer to this Aaron.

Children of Aaron Lyon:

789a. I. Stephen, b. Aug. 5, 1800; res. Berne, N. Y.

789b. II. Allen; m. Martha Weldman; d. about 1850.

789c. III. Sarah; m. Abraham Snyder (children: 1. Jane; 2. Maria; 3. James; 4. Sarah Ann); d. 1868.

789d. IV. Elizabeth; m. Jacob Snyder (children: 1. Elizabeth; 2. Mary E.; 3. John S.; 4. Jane; 5. Harriet; 6. Emma; 7. Hester); d. 1847.

451. VI. 205. COLONEL JONATHAN[6] LYON [Jonathan,[5] Aaron,[4] William,[3] John,[2] William[1]] was born in Woodstock, July 16, 1768, and died there Jan. 8, 1834; buried in Woodstock Hill cemetery. He married (Woodstock T. R.) June 22, 1814, Hannah Lyon (No. 366), daughter of Capt. William and Mary (Stone) Lyon, b. in Woodstock, Feb. 1, 1778. They had no children.

453. VI. 205. ABEL[6] LYON [Jonathan,[5] Aaron,[4] William,[3] John,[2] William[1]] was born in Woodstock, Conn., Nov. 20, 1770. An old newspaper clipping, without date, states that "Abel Lyon (born Woodstock, 1770) joined the M. E. church forty years ago on Bow Hill, Otsego Co., N. Y. He was the father of twelve children, ten of whom survive him. Two are ministers, one in Black River Conference (N. Y.), the other in the West. His wife, who lived with him fifty-three years, is left behind. He died in Cattaraugus Co., N. Y." [Date of death probably not far from 1847]. There was an Abel Lyon, Methodist class leader, in Rose, Wayne Co., N. Y., 1867-1872, also a Moses Lyon, Methodist minister, 1844, 1845, in the Victory and Rose circuits. These may have been sons of the Abel Lyon who was "trustee" in 1832, in Rose, and who is said to have removed to Allegany Co.

457. VI. 205. CORBIN[6] LYON [Jonathan,[5] Aaron,[4] William,[3] John[2], William[1]] was born in Woodstock, Conn., Nov. 19, 1777, and died in Southbridge, Mass., June 22, 1855. These dates are from his own family Bible, now in possession of his grand-daughter, Mrs. J. M. (Lyon) Olney (No. 1141), as are the following records: "Corbin Lyon and Rebecca Vinton were married March 20, 1809, by the Rev. Abiel

‡The Boston Globe, May 11, 1905, contained the following item:

North Abington, May 11.—John P. Lyon, one of the oldest residents of this town, is today celebrating the ninetieth anniversary of his birth, at the home of his son, John Lyon, on Plymouth street. * * * At the age of 17 Mr. Lyon came to this town from his home in Halifax. He married Miss Salome Tyrrell of Plainfield. She died a number of years ago. He has two sons, William E. and John Lyon, both of this town.

Mr. Lyon was a member of the Halifax infantry company, organized in 1792, and later joined the Braintree military company. He is a veteran of the Civil war. He served in the Twelfth Massachusetts regiment and was its first captain. On the completion of his term of service with the Twelfth he enlisted in Company H, Second Massachusetts regiment, and was later discharged on account of disability. Mr. Lyon is a carpenter and builder. He has built many houses in this vicinity. He is still hale and hearty, notwithstanding his years. He uses neither liquor nor tobacco, and to this he attributes his good health. He has two brothers living, and it is expected that they will be present at the reunion today.

See Addenda for further records of this family.

Educated at Norwich, Vt., (class of 1841),† and in Montreal. At an early age he became known as a lecturer. He was a man of versatile talent, a writer of verse as well as of prose, a great traveler and conspicuously active in public life. His first official appointment was as consul to Shanghai, China, Feb., 1847. The following year he made a trip to Central and South America, reaching California in time to have a part in the proceedings of the convention called to frame a constitution for the new state. He was secretary of the convention, and designed the state seal, receiving as a substantial reward for the design one thousand dollars. On his return to New York he was elected to the Assembly (1850) but resigned on account of opposition to the enlargement of the Erie canal, a measure which he strongly advocated. In 1851 he was elected to the state senate, and the following year was elected on independent ticket to Congress, serving there from Dec. 5, 1853, to March 3, 1855. Sept. 28, 1860, his residence in Lyonsdale was burned by an incenediary, and he then went to Staten Island, where he occupied the country seat known as Ross Castle. In 1864 he was appointed by President Lincoln first territorial governor of Idaho. Caleb Lyon left one son, Caleb, a physician, and a daughter.

†Caleb Lyon received the degree of LL.D. from Norwich University in 1851.

Joseph Bonaparte, brother of Napoleon, in 1828 secured a tract of land in a wild region in Lewis County, and built there a house in the wilderness near the lake named, from him, Bonaparte Lake. This circumstance constitutes the raison d'etre of the following lines by Hon. Caleb Lyon:

BONAPARTE LAKE.

Waters enwound with greenest woods,
  And jewelled isles, the gift of Pan,
Unsought, unseen, where Silence broods
  Unwelcoming the feet of man.

Gray clouds in liquid opal burn
A sunset sky outpours its urn
  In ripples of the rosiest light.

By sinuous shore the baying hound
  Tells the stag seek on silver sands
Diana's mirror; here is found
  One of Eudymion's haunted lands.

685b. VII. 371. REV. JAMES HARRISON[7] LYON [James,[6] William,[5] Caleb,[4] John,[3] John,[2] William[1]] was born in Woodstock, Conn., Dec. 28, 1839. Graduate of Williams College, 1861; of Theological Seminary, 1864. In April, 1867, he became pastor of the Congregational Church in Central Falls, R. I., and still (1905) fills that office with acceptance. Present address, 320 High street, Central Falls, R. I. He has been Superintendent of Public Schools, President of the Rhode Island Congregational Historical Society, President of the Rhode Island Congregational Club, Director and Secretary of the Rhode Island Home Missionary Society. He was married in Pittsburgh, Pa., Jan. 10, 1865, to Anna Halsey Smith, daughter of Charles G. and Martha (McDonald) Smith, of Pittsburgh.

The lilies on thy glowing breast
  Loll languidly in crowns of gold,
 Were pure Evangels speaking rest
  Unto an Exile's heart of old.

Brother of him whose charmed sword
  Clove or created kingdoms fair,
Whose faith in him was as the word
  Writ in the Mamaluke's scimeter.

Here he forgot La Granja's glades
  Escuriel's dark and gloomy dome
And sweet Sorento's deathless shades
  In his far off secluded home.

The hunter loved his pleasant smile,
  The backwoodsman his quiet speech,
And the fishers' cares would he beguile
  With ever friendly deeds for each.

He lived for others not in vain,
  His well kept memory still is dear.
Once King of Naples and of Spain,
  The friend of Bernardin St. Pierre.

755. VII. 434. WILLIAM H.[7] LYON [Parley,[6] Ebenezer,[5] Ebenezer,[4] William,[3] John,[2] William[1]] was born in Holland, Mass., Oct. 18, 1819, and died in New York City.

He was educated at Hartford, Conn. He purposed at first to study law, but was diverted to educational work, which he pursued several years in Wayne County, N. Y., showing more than ordinary ability. While Principal of the Clyde High School he became greatly interested in Prof. Morse's new invention of the telegraph, and devised a method of electrical writing or printing. In 1845 he went to New York City and devoted himself to mercantile business. He embarked there in the wholesale dry goods trade, and was for more than forty years at the head of the oldest and one of the largest importing and jobbing fancy goods houses in America. He visited France on business while the revolution of 1848 was in progress, and was the first American to visit Paris after peace was proclaimed. His business was conducted first in Pearl St., then successively in Dey and Cortland Sts., and, still following the movement of the centre of wholesale trade, found its final home, in 1870, in the large building, 483-485 Broadway, where it was conducted during the remainder of his life under the style of William H. Lyon and Company.

Mr. Lyon held a position of esteem and honor among the business men of New York, being a prominent member of the Chamber of Commerce. When President Grant desired to appoint two eminent New York merchants on the Board of Indian Commissioners, composed of ten men distinguished for their public spirit and philanthropy, William H. Lyon shared with the philanthropist merchant, William E. Dodge, the honor of a choice universally approved. Mr. Lyon was made one of the Purchasing Committee of Indian supplies, and devoted the same close attention to these duties, performed wholly without compensation, that he habitually gave to his personal business. He aimed to procure the best goods at the lowest prices, and soon got rid of the contractors who thought that anything was good enough for the Indian. After reforming the methods in the New York Warehouse he visited Chicago, St. Louis, St. Paul and San Francisco, and introduced the same business methods in each of these places. He aided largely in the efforts of the Board to secure justice for the wards of the nation, and to secure for them good schools and industrial education. In his effort to discharge the full duties of his office he spent several summers in visiting the Indian tribes on the several reservations, including the Chippewas, Sioux, Mandans, Poncas, Utes, Bannocks, Piutes and Crows, and made a careful study of their circumstances and conditions. During eight years, under three administrations, he performed thus with fidelity the full obligations according to his high ideal of the important office entrusted to him—a noble example of the highest type of American citizenship.

Although an active Republican in politics, Mr. Lyon was never a seeker for office. In 1878 he was nominated for Congress in a district overwhelmingly Democratic, and, although defeated, ran far ahead of his ticket. In the City Convention in 1879 he was put forward for Mayor, but the nomination went to Franklin Woodruff, who was, however, defeated at the polls. Had he been nominated, his friends believe that he would have been elected.

Mr. Lyon devoted considerable attention to the development of Lake City, on Lake Pepin, Minn., where the principal street is named Lyon Avenue.

Mr. Lyon made his home in Brooklyn, where he owned a fine residence with ample grounds in the Ocean Hill region, at 170 New York Avenue. He was a member of the New York Avenue Methodist Episcopal Church. He was a life member of the New England Society of Brooklyn, a Director of the Long Island Historical Society, a life member of the Brooklyn Institute of Arts and Sciences, executive member of the Brooklyn Life Insurance Company, Vice-President of the Hamilton Trust Company, Director of the Bedford Bank in Brooklyn, and member of the Oxford and Union League Clubs of Brooklyn.

An appreciative notice of Mr. Lyon appeared in the N. Y. Tribune of March 2, 1890, which describes him as at that time "in personal appearance commanding, being tall, portly and dignified. In spite of his three score years and ten he walks erect and sturdily, and save for his whitened hair he shows no sign of age."

He married, in Sturbridge, April 9, 1843, Lois P. Goodell, of Sturbridge. Her mother's maiden name was Carpenter. Mr. Lyon settled first in Clyde, N. Y., but removed to Jackson, Mich., where he was among those who founded the Republican party at the gathering "under the oaks." He was a merchant and proprietor of a flour mill, and during the Civil War was purchasing agent for army supplies. He held the office of County Treasurer and was Justice of the Peace. He made his home finally in Ithaca, where one of his daughters, Mrs. Sinclair now (1905) resides.

834. VII. 477. GENERAL NATHANIEL[7] LYON [Amasa,[6] Ephraim,[5] Moses,[4] William,[3] John,[2] William[1]] was born in Ashford (Eastford), July 14, 1818, and was killed in battle at Wilson's Creek, Aug. 10, 1861. From the public school he went to the Academy at Brooklyn, Conn., where an attempt to "initiate" him in orthodox fashion proved a conspicuous failure. Even as a boy, it seems, he acted first and deliberated afterwards. In 1837 he entered the Military Academy at West Point, being indebted for his appointment to General Holt, who was then congressman. He was a diligent student and at the time of his graduation, June 30, 1841, ranked eleventh in a class of fifty-two. He was appointed second lieutenant in the Second Regiment of Infantry and in November was called on for active service in the Seminole war in Florida. The six months' campaign which resulted in the capture of the redoubtable chief, Halleck-Tustenuggee, was a post-graduate course of the greatest value to the young soldier.

Although strongly opposed to the policy which led to the Mexican war, he had his part to play in that conflict. In December, 1846, his company marched for the front. He took part in the siege of Vera Cruz in March, 1847. April 16 he received his promotion as first lieutenant and assumed command of Company D, which on the following day did some sharp fighting in the brilliant affair at Cerro Gordo. Again on August 20 he led his company to victory in the hard fought engagements at Contreras and Cherubusco and "for gallant and meritorious conduct" there was promoted Brevet Captain. Shortly after he became full captain. In the assault on the City of Mexico he was wounded at the Belen gate. After the close of the Mexican war Captain Lyon's company was sent to California and for several years it was doing the strenuous work of repelling incursions of hostile Indians along the Mexican border and elsewhere. It was work that called for constant vigilance and for prompt and decisive action. It developed in the young officer those qualities of quick intuition and ready resourcefulness which made him ten years later arbiter of the destinies of the wavering state of Missouri.

Many anecdotes are told of his personal prowess as a warrior. More than once only his extraordinary strength of muscle, alertness of action and presence of mind saved him from instant death. Once he was suddenly attacked by three mounted Indians. His pistol settled the first. He made an ineffectual lunge at the second with his sword, which failed to penetrate the thick blanket of the savage. Only by tearing aside the blanket with his left hand and making a second thrust with lightning swiftness could he give his foe his quietus. The third savage fled in dismay from one so quick with gun and sword. There is not space here to tell the story of the Clear Lake campaign in 1850, although it was a military achievement second to none in the entire thrilling history of the warfare of civilization against savagery.

The following year news came to Captain Lyon of the serious illness of the mother he loved, and he immediately asked for leave of absence, hoping that he might be of help to her—but she entered into rest long before he could make the journey back to the old home. During the next ten years Captain Lyon was on duty wherever most needed for his recognized ability.

When President Lincoln was inaugurated, with secession of the Southern states imminent, he was entrusted with the command of the arsenal at St. Louis, although with a very inadequate force for its defense, and hampered by the irresolution of those who were his superiors. St. Louis was swarming with secessionists who counted on the connivance of Governor Jackson. Captain Lyon saw clearly how critical the situation was. He enlisted and drilled a Home Guard of volunteers. The large store of arms in the arsenal was sure to tempt an attack. Captain Lyon succeeded in transferring the greater part of these arms to Springfield, Ill., allowing the secessionists to capture a few flint-lock muskets that were loaded, with great pretense of secrecy, on a boat as if to send them away. The police commissioners of St. Louis demanded the withdrawal of Federal troops from the arsenal. Captain Lyon refused to go. Meanwhile a military camp had been established near the city, evidently as a nucleus for an army hostile to the Federal government. Suddenly Captain Lyon appeared, with a strong force, fully armed, before this "Camp Jackson," and demanded its surrender within thirty minutes. There was only one possible reply to such an imperative. Camp Jackson surrendered. This bold stroke disorganized the ranks of the secessionists and nipped in the bud a movement that would unquestionably have lined up Missouri with the rest of the states of the Confederacy. A few days later Captain Lyon was appointed Brigadier General of Volunteers, and thereafter followed that wonderful display of generalship which brought defeat to the cause of the Confederacy in Missouri and commanded the enthusiastic admiration of all the North. If half the energy that General Lyon displayed in compelling victory where another would have looked only for defeat, had been manifested in the conduct of the war in Virginia, the war of Secession would have been a very short one.

At Wilson's Creek General Lyon, with five thousand troops, attacked a fortified position defended by a force of twenty thousand and came very near to winning a victory. It was not rashness. He attacked because the need of the hour demanded the sacrifice and he gave his own life as part of a cost that he had counted. Already twice wounded, he was in the fore front of the battle urging his devoted soldiers to a final effort, when he fell mortally wounded. The battle was lost, as Bunker Hill was lost. There is nothing inglorious in the memory of such defeats.

The general's body remained on the battlefield, but was sought out after the battle by Mrs. John S. Phelps, who secreted it in a cellar and afterwards aided friends when they came in search of it to carry it away. Col. Elisha M. Lyon (No. 1220), who had served under the general, was sent to recover the body, which was taken to Eastford for burial. In the principal cities on the route—St. Louis, Cincinnati, Philadelphia, New York and Hartford, the body lay in state and thousands came to do honor to the lamented dead.

In "Connecticut as a Colony and as a State" we find this well-merited tribute: "So pure and disinterested was his patriotism, so unquestioned his courage, so blameless his character, that he has gone into the little band of knights without fear and without reproach."

Gen. Sherman said of him: "He was the first man that seized the whole situation and took the initiative, that was ready to strike a blow without waiting for a blow to be struck. * * His death imposed on the nation a penalty numbered by thousands on thousands of lives and millions on millions of dollars."

General Lyon not only gave his life for his country. He bequeathed $30,000, practically his whole estate, to the Federal government, for the prosecution of the war.

COLERAIN BRANCH
(LYONS)

A separate chapter is devoted to the descendants of David Lyon, No. 229, fourth in descent from William Lyon, of Roxbury, merely for the reason that in this branch of the family the name has been written Lyons, and this ordinarily would be conclusive proof that it had no connection with the Lyon family. The final "s" seems to have been added at the time that the family moved to Colerain, but the oldest son, at least, had adopted it soon after he went to Sharon to study medicine. In an exercise book in possession of the writer is found in boyish hand the autograph Jerre Lyon with date 1783. In the same book, the signature is found also with the "s," and an "acrostic" on his name presented to him "with true respect," but anonymously, dated November 23, 1785, has the final "s." Autographs of David himself and of his sons Seth and Jesse, which will be found in their respective places, written before the removal to Colerain, all read Lyon, but the inscription on David's tombstone is David Lyons. Since the oldest son was the scholar in the family, it is likely that he was the one responsible for the change, but his reason for making it can be only conjectured. It seems likely that in Sharon, where there were several members of another Lyon family—descendants of Peter Lyon, of Dorchester—he wished to have it known that he was not of that family. If this be the true explanation, we must infer that the Roxbury and the Dorchester families did not recognize any bond of relationship. The fact remains that David's descendants have all borne the name Lyons, except as a few have come to understand that this is not the ancestral name.

229. V. 73. DAVID[5] LYON (S) [Benjamin,[4] Joseph,[3] John,[2] William[1]] was born in Roxbury, Mass., Aug. 12, 1737 [O. S.] (T. R.) and died in Colerain, Mass., Sept. 8, 1803; buried in the cemetery on the hill. The inscription on his tombstone reads:

In Memory of Mr. David Lyons, who died 8th Sept., 1803, in the 67th yr. of his age.

That David was a person of some force of character appears from records of the Second Church in Roxbury, to which he belonged, where we find that repeatedly "David Lyon was appointed to take care of disorderly persons on the Lord's day at the meeting house." Intimately associated as was his family with that of the ardently patriotic Drapers, it seems rather strange that David's name does not appear among those who rendered service in the Revolution. His half-brother, Daniel, was a minute man, and at least one of his wife's brothers was in the war. His own brother, Benjamin, was a deaf mute, and he had a sister similarly afflicted. His father died when he was only fifteen, so that it may be that the burden of family cares prevented him from volunteering for military duty. That he was loyal to his country appears from the circumstance that he was appointed in 1781 collector of taxes for Roxbury. His commission, dated Dec. 1, 1781, signed by H. Gardner, is a treasured possession of Dr. A. B. Lyons, of Detroit, Mich., presented to him by his cousin, Mrs. Marie (Lyons) Van Wormer, of Scranton, Pa.

It is a well-authenticated tradition of the family that David participated in the Boston "Tea Party" in 1774. His wife, Abigail Draper, told the story to at least one person who is still living, Mr. Fred D. Lyons, of Susquehanna, Pa.

In October, 1784, David Lyon moved with his family to Colerain, accepting the chances of a pioneer life in the far West of that day. Church records state that on Feb. 20, 1786, he formally surrendered his pew in the old church.

As keeper of the village tavern he was, during the remainder of his life, a prominent figure in Colerain. The old tavern is no longer standing, but a photograph, taken long after it had ceased to be a public house, is extant, and has been reproduced for this book (presented to the writer by James M. Lyons, of Dorchester, a grandson of David). A portion of the decorated wainscoting of the old tavern is preserved in the Historical Museum in Deerfield, Mass. The autograph of David, which tells its own story of limitation in educational advantages, is taken from a deed of land sold by him in 1792 to his son Jerre, this document, together with many other interesting family relics, being in possession of Mrs. Ada (Sprague) Pratt, grand-daughter of Jerre.

Nearly all the records of the descendants of David have been obtained from family Bibles and similar authentic private sources of information. The record will be found very nearly complete. From the records of the Second Church in Roxbury we learn that on Feb. 9, 1764, David Lyon and Abigail Draper were married by Rev. Nathaniel Walker. Abigail Draper was born in Newton, Mass., June 11, 1740 (David Lyon's Family Bible) [June 13, 1741, Draper Gen.]; died at Colerain, May 6, 1829; buried by the side of David. Her epitaph reads: "In memory of Mrs. Abagail, consort of Mr. David Lyons, who died May 6, 1829, in the 89th year of her age.

"The sweet remembrance of the just Will flourish though they sleep in dust."

She was daughter of Captain Thomas and Relief Draper.† After the death of her husband she married Judge Parker and went to live with him in Amherst, but returned to Colerain, perhaps after his death, and lived in the old "tavern" with her son Aaron. David Lyon had nine children, seven of them married, and ninety-five grandchildren, sixty-eight of them bearing the name Lyons; twenty-seven born during his lifetime. His great grandchildren numbered about one hundred and eighty-five. Among the Probate Records in Northampton is found the will of David Lyon, dated Jan. 19, 1802; probated Jan. 3, 1804. Its text is as follows: In the name of God Amen, this nineteenth day of January, A. D. 1802, I, David Lyon (sic), of Colerain, in the County of Hampshire and Commonwealth of Massachusetts, yeoman, being weak in body, perfect in mind and memory, thanks be given to God therefor, calling to mind the mortality of my body and knowing that it is appointed for all men once to die, do make and ordain this, my last will and testament, viz., principally and first of all, I give and recommend my soul into the hands of God that gave it & my body I give & recomend to the earth to be buried in a decent and Christian like manner at the discretion of my executors, nothing doubting but at the general resurrection I shall receive the same again by the mighty power of God, & as touching such worldly estate as it has pleased God to bless me †James (1) Draper, born Heptonstall, England, 1622, fourth son of Thomas Draper, came to America before 1650; died Roxbury, July, 1694, buried in West Roxbury Cemetery near the Lyon lot. His wife was Miriam Stansfield, born Heptonstall, Nov. 27, 1625; died Roxbury, Jan., 1697.

Captain Jonathan (2) Draper, b. Roxbury, May 15, 1670; d. Feb. 28, 1747; m. Sarah Jackson, b. Newton, Nov. 8, 1620.

Capt. Thomas (3) Draper, b. March 14, 1709; died Newton, 1769. His daughter, Abigail (4) was the seventh of fifteen children. The statement in "The Drapers in America" that Abigail Draper married Ensign John Baker was true of another Abigail Draper, of Roxbury.

Colerain, May 6, 1808. She was a woman of devoted piety and strongly impressed upon her numerous children her personality, ruling her household with conscientious rigor of discipline. Jerre married second, in Colerain, Dec. 1, 1808, Sarah Marquand Nye, born Feb. 21, 1785, of whose parentage nothing has been learned. She survived her husband forty-five years, becoming the wife of John Miller, who died, however, many years before she did.§

Jerre went to Sharon at the age of 18 to study medicine in the office of Dr. Elijah Hewins. The diary of the boy student of medicine, in possession of Mrs. Ada K. Pratt (No. 1855), jejune as it is, is full of interest. It opens May 10, 1784, when he records that he came from Roxbury to Sharon, and that he "shot a bird with a gun." He gives, week by week, full reports of the sermons of Mr. Philip Curtis. Here are a few items: May 20, R. B. came to Dr. H. for medicine for dropsy; he gave jalap and iron filings. May 23, Sunday; read "No Cross, No Crown." May 26: Election day. Bought election cakes; apple trees in full bloom. May 27, Mr. Jeremiah Richards came to be blooded. May 28, made two houses for birds called martins. May 31, this day dropped corn. June 3, went to Mr. ....'s and drank "shells." June 6, sacrament day, spent some of my time reading the Dialogues and Letters of Theron and Aspasia, which delighted me very much. [A religious book; I have a copy of it.—Ed.] June 8, Uncle Ebenezer Richards (See No. 232) had a son born [David]; June 11, ate some strawberries; went to Mr. Joseph Hewins' and drank some gin and some toddy (rum and water). June 13, B. I. was blooded and had a mess of bitters (sic). June 14, Uncle Eben. Richards worked on a window frame. June 15, went to Mr. Benjamin Richards' and saw many fine ladies ("dominae or virgines") and spent several hours with Polly Richards; spent the evening in a very agreeable manner in conversation with Miss Polly. [Here in the diary Jerre for the first time writes partly in cypher, the passage relating to Polly Richards being entirely in this cypher. The point of interest is that this was the beginning of the courtship that lasted until he finished his medical studies six years later.] June 17, was pall bearer at funeral of the pastor's little daughter, and "saw her safely interred, ut spero." June 24, last evening went to Mr. Benjamin Richards' and spent very agreeable hours [this in cypher] with Miss Polly, and returned in the morning "cum contenta mente." Records that he learned Polly's age. June 25, bled Mr. T. [the first patient he had bled]. June 26, began to keep Dr. H.'s accounts. June 28, had a visit from his "marm" [mother]; took tea with her at his Uncle Eben's. July 1, raked and pitched a load of hay. It was a very simple rural life they lived in those days, but it developed men and women of strong moral fiber.

Jerre Lyon passed his examinations to enter Harvard college; this is recorded in his diary. He took at least a medical course there, but the records of the college, which are confessedly incomplete, do not contain his name. He went to Colerain in 1790 and practiced medicine there successfully more than twenty years. About 1813 he removed to Chesterfield, N. H., where he spent the remaining years of his life.

The Springfield Republican, of Sept. 25, 1904, contains an interesting account of the rescuing from neglect of the beautiful old pulpit built more than a century ago for the old North River meeting house but not deemed worthy of a place in the audience room of the newer church building and so allowed to rest in obscurity in the basement. This pulpit was built, it is stated, by Jesse Lyons, "a noted workman of his day, the head of the Lyons furniture works at Lyonsville, Colerain. Architects and good judges who have examined the work of Mr. Lyons, say that there is hardly a more beautiful specimen of pulpit architecture in the country outside of King's chapel and the new Old South in Boston. Other specimens of Mr. Lyons' skill and good taste are found both outside and inside the Major Willis house, now the property of the Griswoldville Manufacturing Company." "From this pulpit, the famous 'Priest Taggart' (Rev. Samuel Taggart) delivered a eulogy on George Washington soon after his death." The Springfield Republican contained a picture of the pulpit.

Jesse Lyons was three times married and was father of twenty children. His first wife was Lucy Ransom, who was born Jan. 12, 1768, Aug. 20) and died in Colerain, Mass., June 5, 1832. (G. R.). She married, in her sixteenth year, July 14, 1791, Major Clark Chandler. He was born in Petersham, April 19, 1770, son of John[6] and Lydia (Ward) Chandler.§ Major Chandler came to Colerain soon after David Lyon and had his "store" in a part of the house of his future father-in-law. He was made town clerk of Colerain, and so was able to make sure that his twenty children were all duly recorded—also the fifty cousins, more or less, of theirs, that were born in Colerain between 1790 and 1824. He died at the age of fifty-four, Feb. 26, 1824.

Children of Clark and Nancy (Lyons) Chandler, all born in Colerain, Mass. (dates from Clark Chandler's family Bible):

1705. VI. 229. DANIEL[6] LYONS [David[5] (Lyon), Benjamin,[4] Joseph,[3] John,[2] William[1]] was born in Roxbury, Mass., May 26, 1778, and died at Great Bend, Pa., Sept. 7, 1850. He was named, no doubt, after his uncle Daniel, minute man in the Revolution, who died in 1776. He was twice married. His first wife was Rebecca Barker. They were married at her father's house in Heath, Mass., Oct. 6, 1799, by Rev. Mr. Strong. She was born June 26, 1776, and died at Montrose, Pa., Nov. 28, 1819. His second wife was Anna B. Smith, whose sister Amanda afterwards married his son David. They were married by Elder Dimmock, at her father's house in Springville, Pa., Oct. 19, 1820. She was born April 26, 1792, daughter of Joshua and Sabra Smith. She died at Great Bend, Feb. 8, 1856.

Daniel lived until about 1813 in Colerain. In that year he was assessed in Great Bend, Pa., and this became his permanent home. In 1814 he was one of the "Board of Managers" of Great Bend. He was a Baptist, and himself built a meeting house for his co-religionists in Great Bend in 1825. It is recorded of him that he had a prejudice against singing as a part of religious worship. He must have been a man of strong individuality, and was a sturdy and successful pioneer.

He was married in Colerain by Rev. Samuel Taggart ("Priest Taggart"), October 14, 1804, to Mary (Polly) Miner. She was born April 9, 1779 and died in Colerain Oct. 27, 1863, her husband surviving her but one week. She was daughter of Richardson and Katherine (Holman) Miner, of Stonington, Conn. Her brother, Gilbert Smith Miner, married Betsey Lyons, No. 1710. Aaron inherited his father's farm and lived in the old Lyons "tavern." See illustration. In 1842 Aaron was one of the selectmen in Colerain.

1707. VI. 229. JOEL[6] LYONS [David[5] (Lyon), Benjamin,[4] Joseph,[3] John,[2] William[1]] was born in Roxbury, Mass., Jan. 17, 1783, and died in Gill, Mass., Sept. 11, 1857. His father died when he was twenty years of age, but provided for his education in medicine. His preceptor in Colerain was Dr. Samuel Ross. His studies finished, he entered upon the practice of his profession, Oct. 20, 1807, in Gill, Mass. There he lived nearly fifty years, a skilled and successful physician, of whom it was said at his death: "We have all known him as a welcome visitant to our homes in our times of suffering and anxiety. He has won our confidence by his medical skill and our respect as a citizen, a magistrate and a gentleman of the old school." He was devoted to music, being an expert performer on the violin. Dr. Fiddlehead, his neighbors irreverently called him. He was member of the State Legislature in 1829, representing the town of Gill. He was married in Shelburne, Mass., July 4, 1807, to Eliza [Betty] Webb Mason, who was born in Colchester, Conn., Aug. 18, 1788, and died in Gill, May 1, 1869. She was daughter of Peter and Mary Cramer Mason.§ His funeral was attended on a Sabbath afternoon by a large concourse of people, townsmen and strangers, and by the Masonic fraternity of Greenfield, of which he was a member.

1709. VII. 1700. LUKE[7] LYONS [Jerre,[6] David[5] (Lyon), Benjamin,[4] Joseph,[3] John,[2] William[1]] was born in Colerain, Mass., Oct. 2, 1791, and died in Jerseyville, Ill., Jan. 11, 1845. The son of ardently pious parents, he early chose for himself the work of the ministry. He was a brilliant student, but had a single purpose in life—to do the work of the Master, whether as a teacher, an organizer of Sabbath schools or a minister of the Gospel.

At the age of twenty-three he went to Albany, N. Y., and opened an academy for young ladies. Among his pupils there was the lady who became afterwards his bride and efficient co-worker. Later he studied theology in Princeton, finding his health so impaired when he completed his studies that he went to South Carolina to recuperate while doing missionary work. In 1823 he received the honorary degree of Master of Arts from Williams College. His first regular pastorate was in Esperance, N. Y., a place noted for its wickedness. He gathered there a church of two hundred members, and under his leadership they erected for themselves a comfortable stone church building. Out of his small income at this time he was educating for the ministry his brother Lorenzo, who, as a missionary in the Hawaiian Islands, numbered his converts to Christianity by the thousand.

It was to Esperance that he brought his bride, Aurelia Fobes, to whom he was married in Albany, July 1, 1824. She was daughter of Philander and Nancy (Warner) Fobes, born in Dalton, Mass., Sept.

30, 1802. She survived her husband many years and died in Philadelphia, June 14, 1875; buried at Davenport, Iowa.

From Esperance Rev. Luke Lyons went to Cortland, N. Y., where in a short time his church doubled in membership. His next pastorate was in Rochester, N. Y. (1831). From there he went to Michigan, having a charge (1837) in Allegan. Then we find him (1839) in Jacksonville, Ill., and later (1840) in Jerseyville, Ill., where he spent the last four or five years of his life. Wherever he went he was beloved by all, especially by the young, in whom he always had a great interest.

He had strong personal magnetism and the fondness for music so common in the Lyon families; he played both the flute and the bass viol.

After his death his widow, who was a woman of noble character and of varied attainments, became chaplain at Monticello seminary, where she was teacher of Rhetoric, History, Composition and Penmanship. She was gifted as a speaker—although she addressed only audiences of women. It was through her personal efforts that the money was raised for the Monticello seminary building.

†Richardson (5) Miner, a Revolutionary soldier, was son of Nathan (4) Miner [Elnathan (3), Manassah (2), Thomas (1)]. Thomas Miner, a native of Somersetshire, England, came to Stonington in 1642-3. He is said to have been descended from an ancestor who was knighted for bravery by King Edward III in 1356. Richardson Miner lived to the age of 94, occupying with his son Gilbert the old mansion on the hillside, of which an illustration is given. His wife, Katherine Holman, was daughter of Samuel and Mary (Treat) Holman. Their children were: 1. Samuel Holman (m. Nancy Avery); 2. Mary (see No. 1709); 3. Martha (m. 1st Abner Daboll, 2d St. Clair Smith); 4. Katherine; 5. Sarah (m. Stephen Randall); 6. Gilbert Smith, above.

†From Family Bible in possession of Mrs. Wallace Lyons in Montrose, the following records are taken: Luther Dean, born March 24, 1774; Olive Sturdevant, born May 25, 1771. Their children: 1. Luther, b. Oct. 8, 1800; 2. Lucinda, b. July 16, 1802; 3. Pamela, b. June 9, 1804; 4. Elizabeth Sturdevant, b. April 16, 1806; 5. Rebecca Franklin, b. May 8, 1808; 6. Martin Luther, b. April 22, 1810; 7. Sarah Dimock, b. April 9, 1812.

Nathan Lyon was a cabinet maker and carpenter. He went to Montrose early in 1819, his brother Jerre following him a year later. He established a book binding business, which is still carried on by his nephew, George H. Lyons (No. 1839). It is related that in the succeeding year he received a reward of one hundred dollars for apprehending a highway robber. His family was a large one, consisting almost wholly of boys. Four of the sons joined the Union army; one only of these lived to see the close of the war, and he never recovered from the wounds he received in his country's service. See paragraph on Jerome R. Lyons, No. 1822.

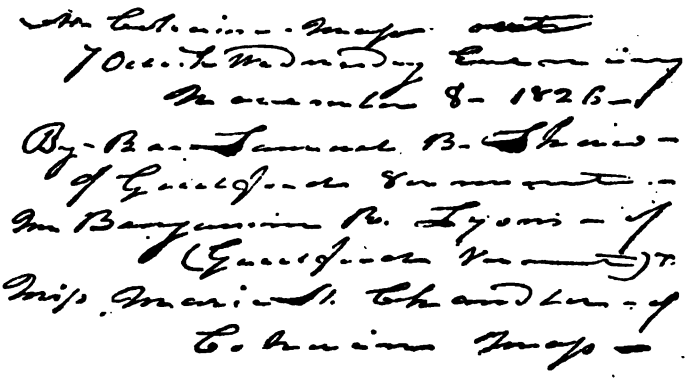
§Thomas (1) Tenney came to America in 1638 and settled at Rowley 1639; wife's name Ann. Daniel (2) Tenney, b. Rowley, July 16, 1653; m. July 21, 1680, Elizabeth Stickney of Bradford, Mass; d. in 95th year of his age. Daniel (3) Tenney, b. Rowley, March 2, 1690; m. 2d Elizabeth Bailey of Newbury, Mass.; d. March 21, 1756. Stephen (4) Tenney; m. May Taylor. Capt. Gideon (5) Tenney, b. Aug. 16, 1759; m. March 8, 1792, Betsey (6) Child, dau. of Ebenezer (5) and Abigail Willis Child [Jonathan (4), Samuel (3), Richard (2), Richard (1), of Barnstable, 1640]. Capt. Gideon Tenney had eleven children; John Avery (above) was the oldest; one son, James Augustus, was a physician in Toledo, Ohio; a daughter, Abigail, m. Rev. Lowell Smith and went as missionary to the Hawaiian Islands.

From boyhood he kept a diary in which he not only recorded the daily happenings, but set down in prose or verse the thoughts and emotions that meant to him more than the ordinary incidents of life. A separate page in each volume of his diary is given to the current family record.

Here is a fac-simile copy of one of these records of especial interest in that it relates to his own marriage.



The detailed account of his journey from Chesterfield, N. H., to Montrose, Pa., in 1824, and then of his trip from Montrose to New York to purchase a stock of goods, is of very great interest, and of real historic value. The itemized account of the expenses of the journey is particularly interesting. The summary of the trip from Colerain to Montrose makes the total distance 232 miles, traveling time, 71½ hours, expenses (for two, himself and his father), $16.88. He was all his life engaged in mercantile business, at first in a small way in New England, afterwards on a larger scale in Montrose.

He was a man of pronounced opinions, of strong and constant affections, generous to a fault, self-centered and living much apart from his fellows, whose ideals he found too often low and unworthy. He was a strong temperance man, an enemy of tobacco as well as alcohol, a radical in his anti-slavery convictions.

The central fact of his life was his marriage to his cousin, Maria Augusta Chandler (No. 1751), a lady who shared his love of poetry and sentiment, and was not without talent as a writer. They were married at Colerain, Nov. 8, 1826, by Rev. S. B. Shaw. Twenty years she was the companion of his life. She died June 16, 1846, leaving him desolated. When, six years later, a daughter was born to his brother, Joel, who in later years shared his house with him, he was pleased that the name that had meant so much to him should be given to the newcomer, and his heart found opportunity again at last to expend itself, and so his later years had solace.

1717. VII. 1700. REV. LORENZO[7] LYONS [Jerre,[6] David[5] (Lyon), Benjamin,[4] Joseph,[3] John,[2] William[1]] was born in Colerain, Mass., April 18, 1807. His brother Luke, sixteen years his senior, became a Presbyterian minister and encouraged him to follow his example. By his assistance he prepared himself for the ministry, taking a bachelor's degree, with honor, at Union College, in 1827, and being graduated from Auburn Theological Seminary in 1830. He chose the foreign missionary field, and in 1831 was sent by the American Board to the Hawaiian Islands, where a mission had been established eleven years earlier. He was stationed at Waimea, Hawaii, a central point in that large island, and there for fifty-four years he labored with untiring devotion for the people of his great parish. He received into the church thousands of the natives, among whom he was known as the "Makua Laiana," (Father Lyons). He designed and superintended the building of fourteen houses of worship. He was besides superintendent of public schools, paymaster for the school teachers, land agent under the government and postmaster for the village.

Physically he was poorly equipped for so strenuous a life. His fighting weight was never above 110 lbs. avoirdupois, but it was a giant spirit that dwelt in that frail body. He made his tours through his field of work always on foot, with one or two natives to carry his necessary baggage.

He spoke Hawaiian with a perfect accent and idiom, acquiring the language so rapidly that he preached his first sermon within three months after landing in Honolulu. He acquired great facility in writing Hawaiian verse, and became the hymnologist of Hawaii. He amused himself by translating into Hawaiian not only sacred songs, but secular verse, e. g. Poe's "Raven" and "Bells," and even so undignified a jingle as "Johnny Schmoker."

A marble monument† marks the spot where he sleeps his last sleep, placed there by the Sunday-schools of the nation as a grateful tribute to the author of the Sunday-school hymn book in use there. For a winding sheet the king himself sent a Hawaiian flag, because the aged missionary had said, on the occasion of the great jubilee meeting held at Imiola, "Fifty years I have lived under your flag, that is my flag also,‡ I wish that when I die I may be wrapped in the flag I love."

Mr. Lyons took with him as a bride when he went to the foreign mission field, Betsey Curtis, daughter of Simeon and ——— (Remington) Curtis, of Elbridge, N. Y., who was born there Jan. 10, 1813. They were married at Elbridge, Sept. 4, 1831, by Rev. Timothy Stone. She died at Honolulu, May 14, 1837. On the 14th of July, 1838, he was married a second time, in Hilo, Hawaii, to Miss Lucia Garratt Smith, who had gone out as a missionary teacher. Miss Smith was born at Truxton, N. Y., April 17, 1808, daughter of Brown and Patty (Daniel-

She attended a young ladies' seminary in Brattleboro, Vt. After the death of her father, which took place in 1825, she went to spend a few months with her uncle, Dr. Joel Lyons, at Gill, Mass., and there met Joseph Wright Sprague, to whom she was united in marriage on Dec. 20, 1827. Mr. Sprague was born in Dec., 1804, son of Joseph and Anna (Wrisley) Sprague. Joseph was son of a Revolutionary soldier, Jonathan Sprague, who was with Washington at Valley Forge.

The family lived in Gill until 1836, when they sought a new home in Michigan. They settled, in the spring of 1837, in Dexter, where they remained until after the death, at the early age of 49, of the head of the family. The son Elvin became one of the pioneers in Grand Traverse county, and in 1861 the widow and daughters moved to their objective point, by stage. Later, he attended Franklin's Academy, Shelburne Falls, Mass. (1840-41), then became clerk for his uncle in Clinton, being at the age of twenty in charge of his pork packing business. He went into business for himself Nov. 2, 1846, with a capital of $1,000. He went to New Orleans on business every year for several years, being absent on each trip several months. He formed a partnership with his brother Alonzo, under the style A. and J. M.

Lyons, engaging in general merchandising, grain dealing and pork packing. The partnership was dissolved in 1852 and he continued the business independently until 1864. For many years he was postmaster in Clinton, having charge sometimes of several postoffices. He joined the Masons in Eugene, Ind., in May, 1846; the I. O. O. F., Covington Lodge, July 18, 1846; is one of five charter members of I. O. O. F. of Terre Haute Lodge, No. 51, 1848, the last one surviving (Feb., 1905).

He was married in Clinton, Sunday, Aug. 3, 1851, to Phebe Anna Hathaway, daughter of William Ronnseville and Louisa (Peirce) Hathaway. She was born at Berkley, Mass., Oct. 8, 1825. She was a lady of superior endowments, educated at Pierce academy, Middleboro, Mass., and at Suffield, Conn., and was teacher of the first free school in Indiana, at Clinton. In 1860 Mr. Lyons moved to Terre Haute, Ind., where, in 1864, he opened a general hardware business which he continued successfully for twelve years. In April, 1876, he retired from active business, retaining until 1884 an interest in the house he had established. Since that time he has resided at New Bedford, Mass. (1876 to 1892), Taunton (1892 to 1898) and Boston (Dorchester), where he now lives. Present address, 66 Hartford street, Dorchester, Mass.

Mr. Lyons has long taken an active interest in the family history and has rendered very valuable assistance in gathering the data for this memorial. He has a beautiful home quite near the spot where the original William Lyon lived, sharing his house with his married daughter, Anna, and her husband. His wife died very suddenly March 6, 1901, a few months before the fiftieth anniversary of their marriage.

1787. VII. 1706. FREDERICK DENISON[7] LYONS [Aaron,[6] David[5] (Lyon), Benjamin,[4] Joseph,[3] John,[2] William[1]] was born in Colerain, Mass., March 14, 1819, in the old house inherited by his father from the pioneer, David Lyon (s). He remembers distinctly his grandmother, Abigail (Draper) Lyons, who spent the last years of her life under the same roof. He heard from her the story of his grandfather's participation in the Boston "Tea Party," evidence of this being, as she related it, that some of the tea was found in his shoes the next morning. Mr. Lyons came to Lanesboro, Pa., in April, 1848, removing in 1858 to the neighboring town of Susquehanna, where he has been a successful merchant. Of late years he has been incapacitated for active work by failure of his sight, but the business is still carried on at the old stand.

He brought his bride from New England. He was married in Whitingham, Aug. 13, 1851, to Mary A. Hull, daughter of Emery and Lydia Hull. She was born in Whitingham, Vt., Sept. 22, 1831.

Daughter of Frederick D. and Mary A. (Hull) Lyons:

He was born Oct. 19, 1856, at Center Square, Montgomery Co., Pa., son of Washington and Abigail (Fitzgerald) Shaeff. He is a capable business man. They had no children. Carrie Belle Shaeff died Aug. 20, 1889.

1788. VII. 1706. DOCTOR CHARLES TREAT[7] LYONS [Aaron,[6] David[5] (Lyon), Benjamin,[4] Joseph,[3] John,[2] William[1]] was born in Colerain, Mass., Feb. 5, 1822. He attended the academy at Shelburne Falls, Mass., then began the study of medicine in the office of Dr. Draper, at Shelburne Falls, afterward studying with Dr. Stanley, of Rhode Island. During the California gold excitement in 1849 he joined a company which sailed from Boston for San Francisco, going around Cape Horn, the voyage occupying five months and being fraught with many perils. He remained in California about one year. Returning to the East, he continued his medical studies, receiving his degree from the New York University of New York City in 1852. He soon after opened an office in Waverly, N. Y., where, on June 28, 1855, he was married to Prudence Barger Smith, only daughter of Hanford and Mary K. (Bagley) Smith. She was born in Newfield, N. Y., Feb. 11, 1836. The next ten years Dr. Lyons practiced medicine in his native town, Colerain. Since that time he has made his home in Waverly.

One intimately acquainted with Dr. Lyons says of him: "C. T. Lyons is a man of sterling integrity, charitable toward the shortcomings of his brother man; in early life he leaned toward Universalism as his religion. In later years he espoused the cause of modern spiritualism, expressing a desire to follow Truth, wherever it may lead. He sees no truth, reason or justice in the fundamental dogmas of Christian theology. * * * There is no one who can say aught against him, and those who know him best love him most."

Son of Charles T. and Prudence B. (Smith) Lyons:

2017. I. Smith Effingham, b. Colerain, Mass., Aug. 3, 1860; res. Waverly, N. Y.

At the age of fifteen he went to Quincy to learn stone cutting. He was afterwards in business with Richards & Munn. They contracted for constructing the Hoosac tunnel, but the firm failed. In 1860 he moved to Boston, where he carried on a business in stone work as long as he lived. The business was continued by the sons until 1903. He joined the Ancient and Honorable Artillery Company, of which his ancestor, William Lyon, was long before a member. In the Centennial parade in 1876 he was standard bearer, and this he said was the proudest day of his life. He inherited his father's love of music and was a good singer and violinist.

He was married in Albany, N. Y., Nov. 25, 1847, to Sarah Olive Clapp, who was born in Braintree, Mass., July 3, 1823, and died in Dorchester, March 31, 1900; daughter of Salmon[6] and Eleanor (Newcomb) Clapp [Noah,[5] Samuel,[4] Samuel,[3] Thomas,[2] Thomas[1]].

1806. VIII. 1709. MARY AURELIA[8] LYONS (MOORE) [Luke,[7] Jerre,[6] David[5] (Lyon), Benjamin,[4] Joseph,[3] John,[2] William[1]] was born in Cortlandville, N. Y., Nov. 25, 1828. She went west with her parents in 1837, first to Michigan, finally, in 1840 or 1841, to Jerseyville, Ill. Here she was happily married, Aug. 12, 1862, to Rev. George Rodney Moore, a Presbyterian minister, who was for more than forty years her companion in life. Mr. Moore, son of Joseph and Sophia (Thomas) Moore, was born in Chestnut Hill, N. H., Feb. 18, 1819. He studied theology in the New School Theological Seminary, Philadelphia. He was ordained in the Third Presbyterian Church of that city in October, 1848. He organized and served until 1855 the church in Dauphin, Pa. He then went to Iowa and organized the Lyons Female Seminary, and while acting as its principal organized the First Presbyterian Church, in Clinton, Iowa. In 1861 he became stated supply for the Second Church in Bloomington, Ill., and later acted as an evangelist and stated supply of other churches. In later years he lived a retired life in Roxborough, Philadelphia, where he was an active member of the Leverington Church, of which his son-in-law, Rev. J. W. Kirk, was for some years pastor. He is widely known by his published articles. He was interested in scientific studies, and published a book entitled "Bible Views of Creation."

He died at the age of eighty-five, Jan. 12, 1904. Less than a year before, a great sorrow had come to the household in the death (Feb. 8, 1903) of Mrs. Anna L. M. Kirk, daughter of Mr. Moore by an earlier marriage.

Mr. and Mrs. Kirk devoted themselves for some years to missionary work in Alaska. It was a life of arduous service and of great hardship, and she lived but a few months after her return. In a "tribute" to her memory by the Rev. Dr. J. R. Miller, offered at the memorial service, are the words, "Mrs. Kirk was a noble woman, consecrated to Christ in a way that made her life a shining one and her work full of rich blessing. She was a blessed evangel to the lonely and homesick men among whom she and her husband labored. The sacrifices she made and the hardships she endured in going to Alaska and in her splendid service there put her on the roll of honor among missionaries."

Children of George R. and Mary A. (Lyons) Moore:

She was married in Jerseyville, Oct. 11, 1859, to John Nowlan Crawford, son of Benjamin and Mary (Armorer) Crawford. He was born in Washington county, Pa., Nov. 27, 1834, and died in Chicago, April 22, 1903. He was a lawyer and practiced his profession in Davenport, Iowa, 1857 to 1875. In the latter year he removed to Chicago, entering the field of journalism, in which he greatly distinguished himself. He became finally literary editor and chief of staff of the Chicago Journal. From the obituary notice in the Record-Herald of April 23, 1903, we quote: "Mr. Crawford's remarkable versatility, his wide ranging and really profound knowledge of history, political science and law, and especially his ready familiarity with American history, together with the grace and power of his literary style, made him an ideal journalist of the old school. As a critic of books—a profession which he followed at odd times for the pure love of the work—he had few equals in America. His taste in pure literary art was quick and sure. * * * Mr. Crawford personally was the ideal gentleman—courtly, dignified, spotlessly pure of speech, with whom to converse for the breadth of a few minutes was to take away a lasting memory of a man who was as cultured in mind as he was kindly and broad in character." After his death a collection of his miscellaneous essays in literary criticism was published under the very enticing and appropriate title, "Chats on Writers and Books." [Charles H. MARY RICHARDS[6] MINER (HALL) [Betsey[7] (Lyons) Miner, Jerre,[6] David[5] (Lyon), Benjamin,[4] Joseph,[3] John,[2] William[1]] was born in Colerain, Mass., May 16, 1815, and died at Keokuk, Iowa, Sept. 29, 1882. She had naturally a literary bent and although she had limited advantages of education, became early known as a writer of prose and verse. She was interested in every reformatory movement, being especially prominent as a temperance advocate. She taught school a year before her marriage. She was married in Colerain, Oct. 13, 1835, to Joel Augustus Hall, of Charlemont, Mass., who was born July 4, 1813, son of Joel and Lucretia (Street) Hall, of Wallingford, Conn. They lived at first in Claremont, then for a time in North Haven, Conn. In 1845 they went to Iowa and settled not far from Keokuk, which place finally became their home. Mrs. Hall continued to write for publication, organized a "Band of Hope," aided in forming a Ladies' Temperance Society, and even appeared on the platform before the general public, the first Iowa woman to do this.

1822. VIII. 1712. CAPTAIN JEROME RICHARDS[8] LYONS [Nathan,[7] Jerre,[6] David[5] (Lyon), Benjamin,[4] Joseph,[3] John,[2] William[1]] was born in Milford, Pa., July 30, 1828, and died in Montrose, Pa., May 5, 1877. He was an architect by profession and had already established a reputation for superior ability when, on the breaking out of the War of Secession the call of his country came to him. Leaving his business in St. Louis he returned to his old home in Montrose and raised recruits for a company of which he was chosen Lieutenant and later made Captain (Co. A, 57th Penn. Vols.). He served throughout the Peninsular campaign, at Second Bull Run, Antietam, Fredericksburg; wounded at Chancellorsville, he rejoined his regiment after Gettysburg, served in the Wilderness and the Richmond campaign to Cold Harbor, where he was wounded again. At Petersburg he was wounded a third time and so disabled that he received honorable discharge from the service. In 1869 he was elected to the office of Registrar and Recorder and Clerk of the Orphans' Court of Susquehanna County. Later he engaged in farming, but under the handicap of physical disabilities resulting from his wounds which brought him prematurely to the grave. His last work was the designing of the Soldiers' Monument in Montrose.

THE FOUR BROTHERS POST.

Jerome Lyons was the oldest of four brothers in whose honor the Four Brothers Post of the G. A. R. of Montrose was named. In the History of Susquehanna County, by Miss Emily C. Blackman, is found the following merited tribute: "Early in the War of the Rebellion, four noble sons and patriotic brothers enlisted in the defense of the flag. Their names were Jerome R., Clark C., Benjamin R. and Luke L. Lyons. Before Grant's victorious flag waved over Appomattox the three last named were lying side by side in our village cemetery, stricken down by war's cruel hand, and today their bones lie moldering beneath the shadow of a broken shaft, emblem of life's sudden ending. The fourth brother barely escaped with life and returned to his home bearing the scars of rebel bullets and with constitution shattered and health destroyed. He died in 1877, universally lamented by his comrades and all who knew him. The beautiful soldiers' monument that graces our square is alike a monument to him and to his architectural skill and ability, for he designed it and superintended its erection."

This is a record of which the whole Lyon family should be proud, not the less because all the while a fifth brother had his home the other side of the line and so was identified in fortunes with the "enemy;" thank God the word today has lost the bitterness of its meaning at last.

Jerome R. Lyons was married in Montrose, Aug. 25, 1855, to Anna Eliza Warner, who was born in Bridgewater, Pa., Dec. 5, 1834, daughter of D. D. and Mary Ann (Raynerford) Warner.

born in Montrose, Pa., Sept. 26, 1837, and died at Petersburg, Va., June 20, 1864, from wounds received in charging the rebel works on June 18. He enlisted in Co. A, 57th Reg. Penn. Vols., serving on the clerical force; reenlisted and was made Adjutant. He was in all the battles with the regiment from the Wilderness to Petersburg, where he received his fatal wound. Buried in the cemetery at Montrose, Pa.

1827. VIII. 1712. LIEUT. BENJAMIN RICHARDS[8] LYONS [Nathan,[7] Jerre,[6] David[5] (Lyon), Benjamin,[4] Joseph,[3] John,[2] William[1]] was born in Montrose, Pa., Aug. 25, 1839, and died in New York City Hospital, July 6, 1862; buried at Montrose. With his brother Luke, he enlisted in the spring of 1861, but the quota was filled before they reached Harrisburg. In the fall of 1861 they joined Co. D, 50th Penn. Vols., and of this Benjamin was elected Second Lieutenant. They were in Sherman's expedition to Beaufort, S. Car. He was largely instrumental in saving the steamer Winfield Scott, on which they sailed. He saw service at Pocotaligo and was wounded at Secessionville in June, 1862. General Stevens wrote to him: "You have acquitted yourself nobly during your whole service at the South, commencing with your energetic conduct on the Winfield Scott, and ending with your leading the forlorn hope at Secessionville. I have announced you as one of my aides-de-camp, and you will continue such however long your wounds may disable you." He was, however, to see no more active service; nine days later he died in hospital in New York city.

1828. VIII. 1712. LUKE LORENZO[8] LYONS [Nathan,[7] Jerre,[6] David[5] (Lyon), Benjamin,[4] Joseph,[3] John,[2] William[1]] was born in Montrose, Pa., July 3, 1841, and died in Presbyterian Church Hospital, Fredericksburg, Va.; buried in Montrose cemetery. He enlisted, as already narrated, as private in Co. D, 50th Penn. Vols., afterwards made sergeant; served through Second Bull Run, South Mountain, Antietam, Vicksburg and Jackson campaigns, the seige of Knoxville; re-enlisted, was in the battle of the Wilderness, wounded fatally at Spottsylvania Court House, and died May 20, 1864.

1833. VIII. 1713. JERRE LORENZO[8] LYONS [Jerre,[7] Jerre,[6] David[5] (Lyon), Benjamin,[4] Joseph,[3] John,[2] William[1]] was born in Montrose, Pa., April 18, 1824. He was a graduate of Williams College, 1851, and of Union Theological Seminary, 1854. He was married in South Berwick, Me., Oct. 26, 1854, to Catherine Norris Plumer, who was born, Jan. 6, 1831, daughter of John and Catherine

(Autograph, 1876.)

(Norris) Plumer, of South Berwick. In December they sailed for Syria as missionaries of the A. B. C. F. M. After spending a year in Beirut and Mt. Lebanon, Mr. Lyons was stationed at Tripoli, Syria, where he remained until the winter of 1860-61, when he was transferred to the city of Sidon. In 1863, impaired health compelled his return to America. For five years he was confined to his bed the most of the time. In 1871 he became agent for the American Bible Society in Florida and Georgia. In 1873 his family removed to Jacksonville, Fla., making this their home until 1883, when he became pastor of the Presbyterian Church in Waldo, retaining the pastorate until Jan., 1888, when failing health compelled him to resign. His death occurred March 1, 1888, while journeying from Waldo to Jacksonville.

Children of Jerre Lorenzo and Catherine Norris (Plumer) Lyons:

1840. VIII. 1714. ROSSY MARIA[8] TENNEY [Nancy[7] (Lyons) Tenney, Jerre,[6] David[5] (Lyon), Benjamin,[4] Joseph,[3] John,[2] William[1]] was born in Gill, Mass., Nov. 10, 1821, and died at Williamansett, Jan. 20, 1877. To quote from the memorial address of Rev. A. D. Mayo: "At seventeen, while yet a frail girl, she was left by the death of her mother the head of a home, with a brother and three sisters, one an infant, cast upon her care. How she received that great responsibility as a call from heaven, how, under this crushing labor, her health rallied, so that, spite of her frequent periods of debility, she always had strength sufficient for her day; how she comforted and blessed her father till his death; how she became a second mother to every child of the family, the wise counsellor of her brother, the tender maternal sister of her sisters; always ready to stay or go, to fill a gap in an emergency, or to toil on in the monotonous duties of a country home; how marvelously she held herself up to all the obligations and endured all the trials and accepted all the solemn providences of that career through a period of thirty-eight years, is known to you all." This in a sentence tells the story of a life that was at once a poem and a benediction.

1841. VIII. 1714. EUGENIA SOPHIA[8] TENNEY (TOWNE) [Nancy[7] (Lyons) Tenney, Jerre,[6] David[5] (Lyon), Benjamin,[4] Joseph,[3] John,[2] William[1]] was born in Gill, Mass., Sept. 1, 1823. She attended public and private schools in Gill and the Goodell academy in Bernardston. She was married, March 12, 1846, to Orange C. Towne, son of Jonathan and Delia (Rumsill) Towne, of Belchertown, Mass. The ceremony was performed by Rev. Josiah Canning, who had been pastor in Gill forty years and had performed a similar office for her parents twenty-five years before. Mr. Towne was a prosperous farmer in Williamansett, a man of influence in the community. He died Nov. 20, 1903, having more than filled his four score years.

She was married in Gill, April 28, 1859, to Pascal J. Newell, of Dudley, Mass. Mr. Newell has been until recently station agent, postmaster and express agent in Willimansett. He is deacon in the Congregational church and a man highly esteemed in the community. As a member of the Ticket Agents' Association he has enjoyed exceptional opportunities for travel. Two sons were born to them, but died in infancy. They have an adopted daughter, the orphan child of a cousin of Mr. Newell, who has lived with them more than twenty years.

1845. VIII. 1717. CURTIS JERRE[8] LYONS [Lorenzo,[7] Jerre,[6] David[5] (Lyon), Benjamin,[4] Joseph,[3] John,[2] William[1]] was born in a thatched house near "Imiola," at the mission station at Waimea, Hawaii, June 27, 1833. Taught at home until fourteen years of age, he then went to the mission school at Punahou, where he studied three years. He gave especial attention to land surveying, and in 1850 entered the service of the Land Commission and thus became introduced while a mere boy into public life. He surveyed "kuleanas," in Honolulu, then in Waimea, Kohala and Hamakua, Hawaii, and later government lands and chiefs' land, becoming thoroughly acquainted with the native language and with Hawaiian methods with reference to land boundaries.

Having thus earned money to prosecute his education, he sailed in 1853 in a whale ship for the United States, via Cape Horn, taking the opportunity of the long voyage to gain a practical knowledge of navigation. He attended Williams College; graduated 1858, with Phi Beta Kappa standing. Two years in Union Theological Seminary ended with broken health and the year 1865 found him returning to Hawaii via Panama and experiencing shipwreck on the voyage. Arrived in Honolulu, he found employment in newspaper work and in translating into Hawaiian a text book on higher arithmetic for use in the public schools. In 1868 and 1870 he represented North Kohala in the legislature, leading the Hawaiians in their first idea of an opposition. In 1868 he succeeded in downing the attempt to indict H. M. Whitney for treason for publishing articles favoring annexation to the United States.

When the government survey bureau was established, in 1871, the first suggestion of its inauguration having come from him, he was appointed assistant to the surveyor-general, Prof. W. D. Alexander. He first introduced true meridian work and the stadia or telimeter and plane table in the survey work, and was the originator of the methods adopted in mapping, in field work and in the office records. Afterwards he executed the main part of the triangulation of North Hawaii, and laid the foundation of all the mapping of that section. He determined the secular variation of the magnetic needle for the Islands, utilizing personal observations made as far back as 1852. He took charge also of the automatic tide gauge work, upon which the coast survey predictions of tides are now based.

In later years he has been government meteorologist, and since annexation, until the failure of his health in 1903, territorial meteorologist. His weather predictions have for many years been accepted in Honolulu as infallible.

During the rebellion of 1895 he did active service for the Republic of Hawaii as member of Squad 1, Citizens' Guard.

He was married in Honolulu by Rev. S. C. Damon, April 23, 1873, to Julia Elizabeth Venables Vernon.§

§The Vernon family traces its origin to the Lords of Vernon in the Duchy of Normandy. Richard de Vernon was with William the Conqueror when he invaded England, and became Baron of Shipbroke (Shipbrook). The line is traced through Sir Humphrey Vernon, whose brother Richard was grandfather of Dorothy Vernon of Haddon Hall. It includes, in a late generation, George Vernon, Esq., of Sudbury Park, who in 1728 assumed by Royal sign manual the additional arms and surname of Venables, upon inheriting the estates of his maternal ancestors, and became Lord Vernon, Baron of Kinderton, May 12, 1762. The Venables descend from Gilbert de Venables (son of the Earl of Blois), who went with William the Conqueror to England. Sir William Vernon-Harcourt, whose full name is William George Granville Venables-Vernon-Harcourt, is a descendant of the first Baron of Kinderton and his third wife, Lady Martha Harcourt.

Children of Curtis J. and Julia Elizabeth (Vernon) Lyons:

2091. II. Emma Fidelia, b. Jan. 3, 1879; teacher in the Kaahumanu School in Honolulu.

1848. VIII. 1717. ALBERT BROWN[8] LYONS [Lorenzo,[7] Jerre,[6] David[5] (Lyon), Benjamin,[4] Joseph,[3] John,[2] William[1]] was born at Waimea, Hawaii, Hawaiian Islands, April 1, 1841. He prepared for college at the Punahou School, studied two years at Oahu College, completing his college course at Williams, where he was valedictorian of his class in 1865. He took the degree of M. D. in the University of Michigan in 1868, and the following year became professor of chemistry in the Detroit Medical College, holding that position twelve years. In 1881 he became consulting chemist for Parke, Davis & Co. in Detroit, in 1887 became editor of the Pharmaceutical Era, in 1888 accepted the position of government chemist for the Hawaiian Islands, where he remained until 1895. During this period he was also Professor of Chemistry in Oahu College, at Honolulu, incidentally teaching physics, botany, zoology, physical geography, astronomy, geology and logic. He made a study of the volcanic soils of the Hawaiian islands, embodying some of the results in a paper contributed to the American Journal of Science. He made important contributions to our knowledge of the geological history of the islands.

As a citizen of the little Republic of Hawaii he was called upon in 1895 for military service, being a member of the Citizens' Guard—comparable with the "minute men" of revolutionary times.

In 1897 he returned to the United States and became connected with the firm of Nelson, Baker & Co., manufacturing pharmacists, of Detroit, Mich., being placed in charge of its chemical department. In 1900 he was chosen one of the committee of twenty-five charged with the work of revising the United States Pharmacopoeia, and has been an active and efficient member of that committee, whose work (June, 1905) is nearing completion.

Dr. Lyons has been a frequent contributor to pharmaceutical, medical and scientific periodicals. He published in 1887 a manual of pharmaceutical assaying, which was revised twelve years later and appeared as "Practical Assaying of Drugs and Galenicals." In 1900 he published "Plant Names, Scientific and Popular."

Dr. Lyons has been deacon in the Central Union Church in Honolulu and in the First Congregational Church in Detroit. His latest venture into untried fields is embodied in this book on the Lyon families of New England, which has proved a labor of some weariness, but a fascinating work, which he only regrets could not have been made more complete. It was rendered possible only by the willing and earnest co-operation of other members of the Lyon tribe, who rightly quarrel with that Hibernian final "s."

Dr. Lyons was married in Detroit, Mich., April 25, 1878, by Rev. Zachary Eddy, to his daughter Edith Malvina Eddy, who was born at Mineral Point, Wis., Feb. 4, 1849. Among her ancestors are John Alden and Myles Standish and other Mayflower immigrants. Dr. and Mrs. Lyons will be glad at any time to welcome any of the kinsmen or kinswomen, whether Lyons or Lyon, at the Den, 72 Brainard street.

Children of Albert Brown and Edith Mavina (Eddy) Lyons:

2002. I. Lucia Edith, b. Detroit, June 29, 1879; graduate of the University of Michigan (classical course), 1902; in the same year she joined the student volunteers; recently (June, 1905) she has received an appointment as missionary of the American Board, and is to be sent to Tien Tsin, North China.

2003. II. Albert Eddy, b. Detroit, April 18, 1885; entered the University of Michigan in the fall of 1904; he signs his name Bert E. Lyon.

1852. VIII. 1718. ELVIN LYONS[8] SPRAGUE [Mary[7] (Lyons) Sprague, Jerre,[6] David[5] (Lyon), Benjamin,[4] Joseph,[3] John,[2] William[1]] was born in Gill, Mass., Dec. 18, 1828. He moved with his father to Michigan in the fall of 1836, settling finally at Dexter. He attended Albion college, but his father's untimely death made it necessary for him to leave school and go to work. In 1854 he went to Elk Rapids, then quite in the wilderness, to assist in erecting a saw mill, and has remained ever since in the Traverse Bay region. Pioneer life affords plenty of variety to the enterprising man. Mr. Sprague was now in charge of a saw mill, again was teacher in the district school, incidentally conducting religious services on the Sabbath and acting as superintendent of the Sunday school. For a time he was in charge of the "store" of Hannah, Lay & Co., of Traverse City. Later he became editor of a newspaper published at Elk Rapids, the Traverse Bay Eagle, and this for the past thirty years has been his most important occupation, the place of publication being, since 1872, Traverse City.†

†One may read much between the lines in this paragraph from the maiden editorial of the Elk Rapids Eagle, March 31, 1865:—"We issue our first numbers under quite a disadvantage as we are short of type and what we have is not of a size suitable for so small a paper; this we shall remedy, however, as soon as navigation opens."

In 1899 the business was incorporated under the style of The Eagle Press, the stockholders Elvin L. Sprague, Louis A. Pratt, E. Sprague Pratt, Elmer E. White and H. Burr, Mr. E. L. Sprague being president of the company.

In November, 1865, he was married to Sarah Elizabeth Spencer, eldest daughter of John B. and Harriet Spencer, of Elk Rapids. They have two adopted children, now of adult age.

1854. VIII. 1718. ESTHER HENRY[8] SPRAGUE [Mary[7] (Lyons) Sprague, Jerre,[6] David[5] (Lyon), Benjamin,[4] Joseph,[3] John,[2] William[1]] was born in Gill, Mass., Dec. 12, 1834. She moved with her parents to Michigan in 1836. She was married in Dexter, Mich., Nov. 20, 1859, to Charles Wright Day, of Gill, Mass. They settled in Traverse City, where she was an efficient assistant editor of the Traverse Bay Eagle many years, possessing literary talent of a high order. She was married second, Aug. 20, 1872, in Traverse City, to Reuben Hatch, son of Rev. Reuben Hatch, of Oberlin, O. He was born in Holstead, N. H., Oct. 11, 1847. He studied law in Traverse City, Mich., and was admitted to the bar in 1871. At the age of 27 he was elected circuit judge of the 13th judicial circuit, which office he held for six years. He was the youngest judge on the bench. He was treasurer of the Northern Michigan Asylum Commission during the three years the asylum was in building. He resides (1905) in Grand Rapids, Mich. Address 68 Ransom St., "The Hoffman."

She went to Traverse City with her mother in 1865. There she married, Aug. 13, 1868, Edwin Spencer Pratt, a talented young lawyer, who has continued to hold a prominent place in his profession. Mr. Pratt was born in Deerfield, Mich., April 23, 1844, son of James and Clarissa (Thompson) Pratt. They occupy a fine house on a commanding eminence overlooking Traverse City and the beautiful bay; Hillcrest, they call it.

Children of Edwin S. and Ada Kate (Sprague) Pratt, born in Traverse City, Mich.:

In 1858 she went with her parents to Montrose, where they made their home with Benjamin R. Lyons (No. 1715) in the house occupied by him 1832-1890 (See illustration). She was educated at the boarding school kept by Miss M. D. Ranney in Elizabeth, N. J. She was married in 1881 to Charles Addison Van Wormer,§ who was born in Conklin, N. Y., May 20, 1856. He studied law in Montrose, was graduate of the Albany Law School, admitted to practice in 1877. In 1882 they removed to North Dakota, and spent ten years in Sanborn and Grand Forks, where he practiced law and engaged in the real estate business. After their return to the East, he was appointed bankruptcy referee for five counties, and settled in Scranton, where they have resided since 1899; address, 1307 Mulberry avenue. While in Dakota Mrs. Van Wormer became interested in the work of the W. C. T. U. and she worked there for a prohibition law. She was the first state superintendent of the Social Purity Department appointed for North Dakota.

Left fatherless at eight years of age, he came to Michigan and earned his living by working on a farm. At twenty he taught his first district school at Burlington, Mich. Aug. 2, 1862, he enlisted in Co. F, 18th Mich. Infantry, serving till the close of the war. He was private orderly and courier for Gen. R. S. Granger, carrying important dispatches through a country swarming with guerillas. He was one of the forty-five soldiers mentioned in "Michigan in the war," who volunteered to charge the sharpshooters under Gen. Hood, who was located in front of the Union fort at Decatur, Ala., Oct. 28, 1864, and who captured 115 prisoners from their gopher holes, only three being wounded—one of these Mr. Haskins.

After the war was over, by teaching schools in winter and working in summer on a farm, he earned enough money to enable him to complete the curriculum of the State Normal School, from which he was graduated June 30, 1870. Since that time he has been prominent in educational work. He married, in Ypsilanti, Aug. 8, 1870, Mary Van Vleet, born in Burlington, Mich., May 26, 1844, daughter of Reuben and Margaret (Garrison) Van Vleet.

AARON LYON

OF STURBRIDGE, MASS.

The parentage of Aaron Lyon† of Sturbridge is uncertain. He must have been born about 1730. Gould Lyon of Ashford, Conn., No. 82, had a son Aaron, born in 1746. It would not be strange if his brother Seth, No. 81, had also an Aaron. The record of his family appears to be incomplete and there might easily have been a son Aaron, born in 1730. See page 56. The names of Aaron's children below, however, do not repeat otherwise those of the families either of Seth or of Gould. Samuel Lyon (No. 32) has only two children recorded. It is possible, but not very likely, that Aaron was his son, the names Jonathan and Thankful occurring among his kin. If family names are to be taken as a guide, however, it is rather to the family of Richard Lyon of Fairfield that one must turn. Nathan, Stephen, Jonathan, David and Jabez all have a familiar sound to one who knows the Fairfield family. It has been asserted that an uncle of Mary Lyon (No. 2367) came to Ashfield from Guilford, Conn. This would have been a son, however, of the Aaron under discussion, so that the writer is not inclined to attach much importance to the statement, for which documentary evidence is lacking. After all, the same names are found also among the descendants of William Lyon in Windham County, and, in absence of positive knowledge of any migration from Fairfield county to the vicinity of Woodstock, the probability remains in favor of the hypothesis that Aaron was of the Woodstock branch of the family of William Lyon. In particular note the occurrence of the names Stephen, Aaron, Jonathan and Jabez among the grandchildren of William, No. 11.

Aaron Lyon married in Sturbridge, Dec. 5, 1753, Mary Mason, daughter of ——— and Hepzibeth (Morse) Mason, born in Dedham, Sept. 12, 1732; died in Ashfield, Mass., June 23, 1815. [Note that the name Hepzibeth among Aaron's children is here accounted for.] Aaron Lyon came to Ashfield in 1764, and joined the Congregational Church

†The number 2350 has been arbitrarily assigned to Aaron Lyon of Sturbridge, who is assumed to be of the fifth generation, whether descended from William or from one of the other old New England families. It is of course possible that he may have descended from a more recent immigrant.

there by letter from Sturbridge. In 1767, however, he united with the Baptist Church under Elder Ebenezer Smith.

Aaron Lyon served in the Colonial wars. He belonged to Captain Paine's company and was wounded May 15, 1746, in an encounter with Indians near Fort No. 4. He took no active part in the military operarations during the Revolution but he was one of three persons appointed in 1777 to report what action should be taken to suppress expressions of Tory sympathy. Nine prominent residents of Ashfield were named by them as "enemies of their country, who should be brought to immediate trial."

Children of Aaron and Mary (Mason) Lyon:

*2351. I. Stephen, b. Sturbridge, Mass., July 7, 1754 (T. R.); res. Ashfield and Holland, Mass.

*2352. II. Nathan, b. Sturbridge, Feb. 24, 1756 (T. R.).

*2353. III. Aaron, b. Sturbridge, Dec. 14, 1757 (T. R.); d. Buckland, Mass., Dec. 21, 1802.

*2354. IV. Jonathan, b. Sturbridge, Feb. 20, 1760 (T. R.); res. Ashfield.

2355. V. Mary, b. Sturbridge, May 16, 1762 (T. R.); m. ——— Fisher.

*2356. VI. David, b. Sturbridge, April 4, 1762 (T. R.); d. Ashfield, Mass., May 25, 1827.

2357. VII. Hepsibeth, b. Ashfield, Oct. 18, 1766; m. ——— Ward; d. Jan. 12, 1803; no ch. recorded.

2358. VIII. Dorcas, b. Ashfield, Oct. 28, 1768; m. ——— Shurtleff; had sons Oliver and Aaron.

2359. IX. Thankful, b. June 7, 1771 (Sturbridge T. R.); m. Moses Ward, son of Daniel and Hannah (Harrow) Ward of Charlemont, where she lived in 1803.

2361. XI. Jerusha?; said to have m. Lovell Hartwell and gone to Ohio to live; not mentioned in the will of Aaron, signed Aug. 8, 1803.

2351. VI. 2350. STEPHEN[6] LYON [Aaron[5]] was born in Sturbridge, Mass., July 7, 1754, the first born son of Aaron. He lived first in Ashfield but removed to Holland, Mass. He served in the revolutionary war, first in the fall of 1775 as private in Capt. Ebenezer Webber's company in the 8th Mass. Regiment, later as corporal in Lieut. Ephraim Jennings' company, in Aug., 1777, on expedition to the Northern Department at the time of the battle of Bennington. Of his descendants no records have been obtained.§

§William Lyon, "late of Ashfield," 1836 had a son Lewis, who was at that time a minor above 14 years of age, a resident of Amherst, Mass., Salvador Adams app. guardian (Northampton Probate Rec.). Probably William was a descendant of Aaron, No. 2350.

2352. VI. 2350. NATHAN[6] LYON [Aaron[5]] was born in Sturbridge, Mass., Feb. 24, 1756. He enlisted from Ashfield for service in the Revolution, being private in Lieut. Samuel Bartlet's company at the Lexington alarm; was in expedition to Quebec in 1775, in the same company with his brother Stephen; served three months, 1776-77, marching to Ticonderoga, and again in 1777 was with his brother Stephen at the battle of Bennington. He settled at Baptist Corner near Ashfield. Nothing has been learned of his later history. [The name Nathan Lyon is met with (about 1800) in Westport, Mass.]

2353. VI. 2350. AARON[6] LYON [Aaron[5]] was born in Sturbridge, Mass., Dec. 14, 1757, and died at Buckland, near Ashfield, Dec. 21, 1802. He married, Sept. 2, 1784, Jemima Shepard, born Jan. 25, 1765, daughter of Dea. Isaac and Jemima (Smith) Shepard.† She married after his death Dea. Jonathan Taylor of Ashfield. She died Nov. 25, 1840. Aaron Lyon served in the Revolution, being with his brother Nathan in the expedition to Ticonderoga in 1776-77 and later at the battle of Bennington.

Aaron Lyon was a devoted member of the Baptist church established by his wife's grandfather, Chileab Smith. He was a man remarkable for the equability of his temper, beloved by all who knew him.

Children of Aaron and Jemima (Smith) Lyon, born at Buckland, near Ashfield, Mass.:

*2362. I. Electa, b. Aug. 23, 1785; m. William Moore; d. Fredonia, N. Y., Jan. 1, 1848.

2367. VII. 2353. MARY[7] LYON [Aaron,[6] Aaron[5]] was born in a humble farm house at Buckland, Mass., Feb. 28, 1797, and died at South Hadley, March 5, 1849. At the age of fifteen, her father having died in 1802, and the rest of the family having removed from Buckland, she became housekeeper for her brother Aaron. It was not until she was nearly twenty years old that the way opened for her to gratify her desire for an education. She attended the academies in Ashfield and Amherst, at times allowing herself only four hours for sleep, so eager was she to improve every moment. English grammar she is said to have mastered in four days; Latin in three. She was obliged to teach in order to acquire the means to carry on her own education, which she pursued in 1821 at the Seminary at South Byfield. She returned to Ashfield to teach in the Academy, of which she was made associate principal, then she taught ten years with Miss Grant at Ipswich, before she was ready to begin her real life work. With powers thus fully matured she undertook the great task of establishing a school where women could be thoroughly educated. It was a day of small things in educational enterprise. Three years were spent in strenuous work in raising funds and completing the necessary buildings, which cost not less than fifteen thousand dollars. She developed astonishing executive ability, superintending every detail of the building and furnishing of the new institution. Her purpose and spirit in founding the Seminary (now Holyoke College) is revealed in her own words: "My heart has yearned over the young women in the common walks of life, till it has sometimes seemed as though a fire were shut up in my bones." "The grand features of this institution are to be an elevated standard of science, literature and refinement, and a moderate standard of expense; all to be guided and modified by the spirit of the Gospel." Only incidentally Miss Lyon was the model woman of business. To her hundreds of pupils she was known as sympathetic friend and counsellor, but beyond this as a mighty force for spiritual uplift. Her personality was everything. The following paragraphs from an address by President Mary E. Woolley (New York Observer, Aug. 18, 1904), may well close this brief notice: "Miss Lyon's educational ideas are better appreciated today, when they are generally accepted, than they were in her own age. She believed in physical training as well as intellectual and spiritual; in adding music, English and the sciences to the curriculum; in concentrating attention upon a few subjects at a time. Her chief contribution may be expressed under a threefold head: First, the opening of the highest educational opportunities to women; second, the use of these opportunities as a preparation for service; third, the conception of such education as spiritual as well as intellectual. Education for service is the key note in academic conceptions of today; it was fundamental in the thought of Mary Lyon." "The religious, better still, the spiritual, pervaded all that she did and gave to her work and her influence a power which no merely human effort could have attained. Of her life she gave an unconscious description when she wrote: 'But who does not venerate those great souls—great by nature—great by education—great by grace—or by all combined, whose plans and works of mercy are like a broad river swallowing up a thousand little rivulets? How do we stand in awe, when we look down, as on a map, upon their broad and noble plans, destined to give untold blessings to the great community in which they dwell—to their nation—to the world!" Mount Holyoke has been a mother of schools. In our own country, the Western College at Oxford, O., Mills College in California, and Lake Erie at Painesville, O., were founded on the same plan, with her graduates as principals and teachers. Across the water new Holyoke schools have been founded in Persia, under Fidelia Fiske; in Turkey, at Marsovan and at Bitlis; in South Africa, where the Huguenot Seminary at Wellington Colony is most famous. Last but not least is the International Institute in Spain, founded in San Sebastian by Alice Gordon Gulick, a graduate of Mount Holyoke."§

ANCESTRAL LYON RESIDENCE, CANTERBURY, CONN.

EBENEZER LYON

OF CANTERBURY, CONN.

Ebenezer Lyon†, of unknown parentage, came to Canterbury, Conn., about 1740, presumably from Woodstock or Pomfret. It is reasonable to assume that he was a descendant in the fourth generation, of William Lyon of Roxbury. He may have been a son of Ebenezer[3], No. 33, of whose descendants nothing has been learned. The family disappeared from Roxbury and would be naturally looked for in Windham Co., Conn., since Samuel[3], No. 4, received a grant of land in Woodstock. See page 31. We know that a daughter of Abiel, younger brother of Ebenezer, No. 33, after marriage, settled in Canterbury. See No. 105.

Ebenezer Lyon married Mercy Clark, date and place of marriage not ascertained. She was born in 1717 and died April 10, 1802, in 87th year (Canterbury T. R.) [died April 10, 1804, Fam. Bible]. Ebenezer was a Methodist exhorter and the first Methodist conference held east of the Connecticut river was at his house. The house, built in 1779, is still standing, and is shown in the accompanying illustration. After his death it was occupied by his son Chester as long as he lived, and after him by his grandson, Charles R. Lyon, who still lives on the place, at the advanced age of eighty-five. Frank V. Lyon, son of Charles, is now in charge of the farm, which has remained thus through five generations in possession of the family.

Children of Ebenezer and Mercy (Clark) Lyon:

*2551. I. Abel, b. 1742; d. Canterbury, Oct. 1, 1815, in 73d y. (G. R.).
*2552. II. Ephraim, b. 1745; d. Canterbury, May 24, 1813, ae. 68 (G. R.).

2551. V. 2550. ABEL[4] LYON [Ebenezer[4]] was born in 1742 and died in Canterbury, Conn., Oct. 1, 1815. He married in Canterbury, Oct. 2, 1765, Susannah Leach, who was born in 1745 and died in Canterbury April 2, 1829, "in her 84th year" (G. R.). He was a subscriber to a Revolutionary campaign document published in 1774.

Children of Abel and Susannah (Leach) Lyon, born in Canterbury:

*2553. I. Sarah (Sally), b. Jan. 4, 1768 (T. R.); m. Sept. 22, 1785, Benjamin Smith.

2558. VI. (?) Ephraim, b. about 1780; perhaps son of Ephraim, No. 2552.

2552. V. 2550. CAPTAIN EPHRAIM[3] LYON [Ebenezer[4]] was born on the old homestead in Canterbury, Conn., in 1745, and died there May 24, 1813. He was an officer in the Revolutionary army, having been appointed Lieutenant of the 4th Company of the 3d Regiment in April, 1775 (Colonial Records of Conn.).

He married first, Dec. 31, 1766, in Canterbury, Eunice Leach (E. C. M. II, 125). She was born in 1744 or 1745 and died Jan. 23, 1783, ae. 39 (G. R., Canterbury). He married second Hannah Pearl, who was born in 1751 and died July 9, 1846, ae. 95 (G. R., Canterbury). [She married second, Jan. 15, 1823, at age of 72, John Bradford].

2557. VI. 2551. SPENCER[6] LYON [Abel,[5] Ebenezer[4]] was born in Canterbury, Conn., March 30, 1778, and died there Nov. 30, 1848. He married in Canterbury, Nov. 7, 1800, Sarah (Salle) Williams (T. R.). She died Nov. 7, 1863, ae. 83 y. (G. R., Canterbury). Spencer Lyon was a farmer (of course) and a man of some prominence in Canterbury. At a town meeting in November, 1816, he was elected fence viewer and tything man; in 1822 he was elected constable, and was repeatedly chosen to offices of responsibility. He was probably the Spencer Lyon who was lieutenant in the war of 1812.

Children of Spencer and Sarah (Williams) Lyon, born in Canterbury:

2576. I. Nelson, b. March 30, 1802 (T. R.); d. March 18, 1816, ae. 13 y. 11 m. 18 d. (G. R., Canterbury).

2564. VI. 2552. CHESTER[6] LYON [Ephraim,[5] Ebenezer[4]] was born in Canterbury, Conn., Aug. 7, 1779, and died there April 9, 1855. At a town meeting held in October, 1822, he was elected assessor, and frequently was chosen to offices of responsibility. He was for many years Sheriff and was the first Judge of Probate for the district of Canterbury. This office he held until failing eyesight compelled him to resign after serving a quarter of a century. He became ultimately totally blind. He married first, March 20, 1810, Sally Manning, who was born in 1788 and died Sept. 12, 1813 (Fam. Bible). He married second, Jan. 8, 1815, Jerusha B. Barstow (Fam. Bible). 2661. III. Frank V.
2662. IV. Homer W.

JOHN LYON

OF SCITUATE, R. I.

The identity of John Lyon,† of Scituate, R. I., has not been satisfactorily established. It seems very likely that it was John[5] [Caleb,[4] John,[3] John,[2] William[1]] (No. 171). It is true that this John, although born in Seekonk, very near Providence, R. I., probably spent his boyhood days in Woodstock, Conn., and that several of his brothers settled in Goshen, Mass., but, on the other hand, it is almost certain that he lived in Rehoboth in the time of the Revolutionary war, in which he took some part. The John Lyon who married, in 1771, Widow Miriam Frisket [Hist. Goshen] may have been another John. It could not have been a second marriage, since Martha, wife of John of Scituate, was living in 1794. One other record militates against the hypothesis that John of Scituate was John, No. 171. It is that of the marriage in Cranston, Dec. 25, 1760, of Thomas Lyon to Huldah Burlingame. Three years later John Lyon (of Scituate) married Martha Burlingame, sister of Huldah, and one would naturally infer that John and Thomas were brothers. It is practically certain that John, No. 171, had no brother Thomas.

There is significance in the names of John's children. We remember that John, No. 171, had brothers Benjamin and Cyrus, the latter a rather unusual name. Reuben is not a Lyon name, but this may have come from the Burlingame side, for we find a Reuben Burlingame, of Coventry, born in 1749. We must not forget in this connection that Ebenezer Lyon, No. 18, lived for a time in Rehoboth, and probably had sons of whom we have no record. We may also bear in mind the possibility that Joshua Lyon, of Seekonk and Bristol, No. 58, may have had a son John, although the record of his children seems to be complete.

†To John Lyon of Scituate is assigned the arbitrary number 2700.

It is possible that John of Scituate was descended from Peter or George Lyon, of Dorchester, but we should expect in that case to find the names Peter or George among the children and grandchildren. It is more likely that he came from the New Jersey family, that of Henry Lyon, in which Benjamin has always been a favorite name. There is, however, no record known which sustains this hypothesis, although a branch of the family of Henry had established itself as early as 1730 in Newport, R. I.

All that we positively know of John Lyon of Scituate is that he was married Oct. 27, 1763, in Cranston, R. I. (not Crompton, as stated on page 67) by William Burton, Esq., to Martha Burlingame. She was daughter of Daniel‡ and Rose (Briggs) Burlingame [married in Providence, R. I., Dec. 25, 1739, by William Burton, Esq.]. One of John's children (Reuben) was born in Scituate. This may have been only temporarily his place of residence. In 1794 he, and Martha his wife, deeded land in Foster, R. I., to his son Benjamin. It seems likely that he had himself lived in Foster.‖

Children of John and Martha (Burlingame) Lyon:

*2701. I. Benjamin, b. July 7, 1767; d. Nov. 20, 1854.

*2702. II. Cyrus, b. Dec. 7, 1773; d. Sept. 29, 1840.

*2703. III. Reuben, b. Scituate, R. I., about March 31, 1778; d. Foster, R. I., July 23, 1852, ae. 74 y. 3 m. 23 d. (Foster T. R.).

*2704. IV. Amy, b. Oct. 18, 1786; m. 1st Benjamin Wicks; m. 2d Judge Thompson.

There were probably other children.§

‡Daniel was no doubt a descendant of Roger Burlingame, who was of Stonington, Conn., in 1654, and of Warwick (and Providence), R. I., 1660-1718. His wife's name was Mary. Their second son, Thomas, b. Feb. 6, 1667, settled in Cranston, and so was probably the grandfather of Daniel, the father of Martha. Thomas married Martha Lippitt, daughter of Moses and Mary (Knowles) Lippitt of Providence, R. I., and had five sons and six daughters. The Burlingames in Cranston were a large family. There were no less than twelve marriages of Burlingames in Cranston, 1753-1765.

‖The Providence Gazette of Jan. 28, 1803, mentions the death in Foster of "Mr. Lyon," who "leaves a widow and seven children."

§Cyril C. Lyon, b. Foster, R. I., in 1790; d. Foster, Oct. 12, 1859, ae. 69 y.; farmer; according to Foster T. R. was son of John and Phebe T. Lyon. This John died in Foster March 14, 1814, ae. 50, and was probably son of Thomas Lyon. His wife's maiden name was Phebe Theodosia Carpenter. There must have been another John in Foster, probably a grandson of John (No. 2700) or of the Thomas who married Hannah Burlingame. This John had a son, Emory ("Emary") D. Lyon, born about 1830, who married, Nov. 27, 1851, Julia M. Hill of Foster (born 1829), daughter of Jerah Hill (Foster T. R.). They had a daughter, Idella M., born July 1, 1861 (T. R.).

2701. VI. 2700. BENJAMIN[6] LYON [John[5]] was born in ———, R. I., July 7, 1767, and died in Sherburne, Chenango Co., N. Y., Nov. 20, 1854. He married first, about 1793, Hannah Talbot, born about 1771, died in Sherburne, May 16, 1808, ae. 35. He married second Deborah ——— (b. 1779, died Nov. 10, 1859, ae. 80). He probably settled in Foster, R. I., since his father deeded him land in that place in 1794. (Deed dated June 9, 1794, recorded June 11, 1794 [II. 523], witnesses, Daniel and William Howard). He removed to New York state about 1800.

Children of Benjamin and Hannah (Talbot) Lyon, the first four born in R. I.; the remainder in Chenango Co., N. Y.:

*2705. I. Alden, b. Foster, R. I., Feb. 14, 1794 (T. R.).

2706. II. Eliza, b. March 23, 1795; m. Richard Jackson, a fruit raiser; no children.

*2707. III. Benjamin Talbot, b. Nov. 26, 1796; d. May 31, 1864.

*2708. IV. John, b. Nov. 13, 1798; farmer and dairyman; d. Hawkeye, Ia., March 9, 1875.

*2709. V. Reuben, b. Feb. 21, 1802; d. Angelica, N. Y., April 8, 1874.

2710. VI. Cyrus, b. March 9, 1804; not m.; res. Sherburne, N. Y.; d. Aug. 20 (or 25), 1827.

2711. VII. Richmond, b. March 29, 1806; d. March 10, 1807.

2702. VI. 2700. CYRUS[6] LYON [John[5]] was born in ———, R. I., Dec. 7, 1773, and died in Sherburne, N. Y., Sept. 29, 1840. He married first, May 1, 1796, Betsey Talbot, who was born May 12, 1773, and died Feb. 15, 1820. He married second, July 30, 1820, Sarah Grow, who was born July 14, 1777, and died Aug. 26, 1863. Cyrus Lyon was a farmer and madder manufacturer. He moved from Rhode Island to Sherburne, N. Y., about 1803. He was a deacon in the Baptist church.

Children of Cyrus and Betsey (Talbot) Lyon, the first three born in Rhode Island, the rest in Sherburne, N. Y.:

2712. I. Alexander, b. May 3, 1797; m. July 12, 1818, Alice Miller.

2713. II. Elisheba, b. Jan. 20, 1799; m. Jan. 5, 1819, James Talbot.

2714. III. Patty, b. Jan. 4, 1802; d. Sept. 26, 1803.

2715. IV. Daniel, b. Oct. 11, 1804; was married and had a dau., Maria, who m. Hiram Gustin and had one son.

*2716. V. Alfred, b. April 20, 1809; d. New London, Wis., May 21, 1874.

2717. VI. Richmond, b. Oct. 29, 1811.

2703. VI. 2700. CAPTAIN REUBEN[6] LYON [John[5]] was born in Scituate, R. I., about March 31, 1778, and died in Foster, R. I., July 23,

WILLIAM LYON

OF WAYNE COUNTY, N. Y.

WILLIAM LYON,† of Wayne County, New York, born Jan. 16, 1771, according to family tradition belonged to one of the New England Lyon families, claiming a Scotch ancestry. The given names of his known descendants echo those familiar in the Lyon families of Windham county, Conn., and it is certain that some members of these families settled at an early date in Wayne county, notably at Rose. It is therefore quite probable that William was a descendant in the fifth generation of William Lyon, of Roxbury. He may have been, however, of one of the Fairfield county families, either that of Richard or that of Thomas, both of these being represented in Central New York.

He married Feb. 10, 1793, Sarah Titus, who was born Oct. 18, 1771, and died Dec. 14, 1852. He died March 24, 1832. It is probable that he had a number of children.

Son of William and Sarah (Titus) Lyon:

*2851. I. Daniel, b. March 26, 1795; d. Sept. 23, 1842.

2851. VI. 2850. DANIEL[6] LYON [William[5]] was born in Wayne County, N. Y. He was a Free Will Baptist preacher in the Township of Walworth for a good many years. He was first Church Clerk, afterwards Elder, and preacher at the old Stone church, northwest of the little village of Walworth. He married first, Jan. 22, 1815, Polly Strickland, who was born June 28, 1795, and died June 17, 1834. He married second, Jan. 7, 1840, Polly Estin, who was born Nov. 22, 1811. He died Sept. 23, 1842.

Children of Daniel and Polly[7] (Strickland) Lyon:

2852. I. Benjamin, b. Dec. 19, 1815; d. Dec. 3, 1817.

*2853. II. Sarah, b. Feb. 5, 1818; m. Benjamin Cowell; d. June 24, 1885.

*2854. III. Edwin Daniel, b. April 10, 1820; d. Sept. 8, 1879.

*2855. IV. Newton Thomas, b. Oct. 20, 1822; d. March 2, 1879.

2856. V. William B., b. Oct. 11, 1825; d. Sept. 10, 1827.

2857. VI. Hannah M., b. July 27, 1828; moved to Michigan; d. May 30, 1893.

2858. VII. Ann, b. Aug. 11, 1831; d. July 23, 1833.

*2859. VIII. Nelson John, b. March 21, 1834; d. July 16, 1889.

2860. IX. Hamilton, b. July 19, 1837; d. June 25, 1838.

ABEL LYON

OF NORTHAMPTON, N. Y.

The identity of Abel Lyon† of Edinburg, Fulton Co., N. Y., in 1798, later of Northampton, N. Y., has not been ascertained. It is possible that he was No. 453 (see p. 100), but no evidence of this can be given. He had a son, Edward Birch, born in Edinburg, and he was also probably the father of Deacon Ezra Lyon, and of Irena (Lyon) Bass, both residents of Northampton, N. Y. This is assumed to be the fact in the following record.

Children of Abel Lyon:

*2901. I. (?) Ezra, b. probably about 1790 m. Hannah Bass.

2902. II. (?) Irena, b. probably about 1797 m. Jan. 29, 1818, William Bentley Bass; d. Sackett's Harbor, N. Y.

*2903. III. Edward Birch, b. Edinburg, N. Y., Nov. 25, 1798; m. Clarinda Bass.

These probably were not all of the children. Hannah, William and Clarinda Bass were children of Jeremiah and Elizabeth (Bentley) Bass of Northampton. Jeremiah Bass came originally from Connecticut.

2901. VII. 2900. EZRA[7] LYON [Abel[6]] was deacon in the Baptist Church in Northampton, N. Y. He married, Oct. 16, 1814, Hannah, daughter of Jeremiah and Elizabeth (Bentley) Bass. She was born in Northampton, April 3, 1792.

Children of Ezra and Hannah (Bass) Lyon, born in Northampton:

*2904. I. Caleb Meeker Slocum, b. about 1816; settled in Illinois.

*2905. II. Samuel Laten, b. April 5, 1818; d. Toulon, Ill., Aug. 21, 1873.

2906. III. Abigail Elizabeth, b. July 14, 1820; d. Sept. 28, 1822.

2907. IV. Eli, b. Sept. 7 or 9, 1825; d. Oct. 7, 1826.

2908. V. Elias, twin brother of Eli; a blacksmith; m. Nov. 23, 1852, Minerva, dau. of Adolphus and Wealthy (Arnold) Shipman of Little York, N. Y.

2909. VI. Hannah, b. June 14, 1827; m. Galway, N. H., April 24, 1857, Benjamin, son of Benjamin and Mary (Johnson) Packer of Plainfield, N. Y.

2910. VII. Sarah Ann, b. June 18, 1830; d. April 24, 1831.

2911. VIII. Jeremiah, b. March 21, 1832 m. July 3, 1872, Annie, dau. of James and Hannah (Neal) Ross of Middleton, Conn.; res. S. Meriden, Conn.

2903. VII. 2901. EDWARD BIRCH[7] LYON [Abel[6]] was born in Edinburg, Fulton Co., N. Y., Nov. 25, 1798. It is probable that this is the Edward Lyon who married about 1819 (?) Hannah Bruce. If so she must have died about 1824 or 1825. Edward Birch Lyon, at any rate, married [second (?)] Clarinda, daughter of Jeremiah and Elizabeth (Bentley) Bass, of Northampton, Fulton Co., N. Y. She was born July 6, 1802. They lived five years in Jefferson County, N. Y., then moved to Dundee, Mich., where he died. The widow lived in Petersburg, Mich.

†The arbitrary number 2900 has been assigned to Abiel Lyon of Northampton, N. Y.

PETER LYON

OF DORCHESTER

[The family history compiled by G. W. A. Lyon, M. D., of Philadelphia, Pa.]

1. I. 1. PETER[1] LYON, born in England; married Ann ———; died in Dorchester, Mass., 1693 or 1694.

Somewhat more than two and a half centuries ago, there walked the lanes of Good Old Dorchester a young man in whose breast were struggling conflicting emotions: the weaker, perhaps, a yearning for the dear ones whom he should never see again; the stronger, the comforting assurance that, in the disturbed condition of England, the Test and Conventicle Acts were little likely to cross a thousand leagues of sea. This young man was he who is known to genealogists as Peter Lyon the First.

Of his antecedents and of his age nothing is known with certainty. As to his English home, all data point to London of either Essex or Middlesex stock. That he was made freeman in 1649, and that his first recorded child was born in 1650 indicate that he was born between 1620 and 1630. It is possible, indeed, that he was twice married, and that Susanna, member of the First Church in 1639, was his first wife. This supposition might account for some of Lyon name who appear at an early date, but who have no apparent connection with those whose position in the colony is definitely known. Unless we assume, however, that while Susanna was a member, Peter did not qualify for citizenship for some years after his first marriage, this supposition must be rejected.

Much of early Dorchester history is forever lost through the unfortunate destruction of early records. It is stated in the "Annals" that "the records before 1657 were burned, and there were no records of that period given by a few families, and inserted in the next book of births." And so it happens that we know our first maternal ancestor only as "Ann, wife of Peter." Her personality being thus merged into that of the head of the house, we have of her family not even that vague and barren statement of old Judaean days, "Peter's wife's mother lay sick of a fever." That she lived her uneventful life, and died at her appointed time is all that ever will be known.

The short and simple annals of Peter's life are meagre enough. By occupation he was a weaver. He was made freeman in 1649. In 1657 he received £1 bounty for killing a wolf. In 1664 he signed a petition to the General Court as inhabitant of Dorchester. In 1665 he granted a strip of ground for a highway. He was given permission to entertain Peter Green, of Concord, into his family for one month, an event that may have some connection with the marriage of his son Nathaniel, who had a son born in Concord in 1680. In 1672 he appears to have been much concerned about his sons, for in answer to a summons from the Selectmen, he reported that they follow their employment, and that he would look diligently after them. He served on the jury in cases of appeal, life, limb and banishment, 1675-77-85, and in 1681-2 held what would now be considered the very undesirable office of tithing man. He sold a house and lot on Green St. to the Davenports in 1693.

His wife Ann died Nov. 26, 1689. He died 1693-4. Administration on the estate of Peter Lyon, weaver, late of Dorchester, was granted to his son-in-law, Daniel Morey, carter, of Boston, Jan. 3, 1694. Inventory presented by Daniel Morey; amount, £35 8s. 6d. There is, however, no record of his death, and the place of his burial no man knoweth to this day.

Children of Peter and Ann Lyon, all born in Dorchester:

2. I. Mary, b. 4, 9 mo., 1650; bp. 20, 6 mo., 1651; m. Dec. 10, 1678, Josiah Winchester.†

*3. II. Elhanan, b. 23, 7 mo., 1652; bp. 3, 8 mo., 1652; m. Jan. 24, 1682, Mary ——— (M); d. 1689-90.

*4. III. Nathaniel, b. 28, 10 mo., 1654; bp. 31, 10 mo., 1654; m. ———; d. March 15, 1705.

5. IV. Susannah,§ b. 25, 1 mo., 1658; bp. 28, 1 mo., 1658; m. Daniel Morey.

*6. V. Ebenezer, b. 20, 12 mo., 1660; bp. 3, 1 mo., 1661; m. ———; d. Dec. 31, 1689.

*7. VI. Peter, b. ———; bp. 6, 7 mo., 1663; m. (1) about 1686, Jane Vose; d. July 7, 1732.

†Josiah, son of John and Hannah (Syllice) Winchester; m. Dec. 10, 1678, Mary Lyon; they settled at Muddy River. As there was apparently no other Mary Lyon on record in 1678, it may be assumed that this Mary is the one in question.

§Susanna seems to have been a favorite of Peter's, and may have been named for the Susanna who was member of the church, 1639.

8. VII. Israel,‡ b. ———; bp. 3, 7 mo., 1665.

9. VIII. Israel, b. 21, 8 mo., 1666; bp. 4, 9 mo., 1666; m. March 25, 1690, Hannah Hewens (B); d. Sept. 28, 1690 (D).

10. IX. Mehitable,‖ b. 23, 8 mo., 1669; bp. ———; m. Jan. 29, 1690, Joseph Hewens; d. Sept. 14, 1733 (C).

11. X. Eliab, b. July 12, 1673; bp. 20, 8 mo., 1673.

12. XI. Freegrace, b. Aug. 18, 1677; bp. 2, 9 mo., 1677.

3. II. 1. ELHANAN[3] LYON [Peter[1]] was born Sept. 23, 1652 (D); baptized Oct. 3, 1652 (D chh.); married Jan. 24, 1682, Mary ———; died in Boston, 1688-9.

Of Elhanan we know very little. He must have been one of the sons who gave his father so much concern in not following their employment. As to what became of Peter's loom, we know not. Certainly Elhanan preferred a wild, free life to the confinement of the weaving room; so we are not surprised to learn that he was one of the "Canady" soldiers. His service was before the "Louisburg Expedition," and was probably in the Church Expedition, as Elhanan enlisted at the age of thirty; and it is likely that this service hastened his death. He owned the covenant in Dorchester, 1677, but later removed to Boston. His name appears in the list of inhabitants of that town in 1686-88, but not in that of 1695. The inventory of the estate of Elhanan Lyon, of Boston, deceased, by John Ball and John Lee, Jan. 30, 1689, shows amount of personal property only: £67 3s. 2d. No names are given in the record, and with this bare statement, Elhanan's family disappears.

Children of Elhanan and Mary Lyon:

13. I. Mary, b. 3, 10 mo., 1683 (M); d. 7, 10 mo., 1683 (M).

14. II. Mary,† bp. 23, 3 mo., 1686, aged about 6 mo. (D).

15. III. Elhanan, b. 27, 9 mo., 1686 (B); bp. 7, 9 mo., 1686 (?) (D).

16. IV. Susanna, bp. 11, 7 mo., 1688 (B).

‡Israel died soon after his marriage, and probably left no issue. It may have been his widow who m. Dec. 19, 1694 (M), Moses Belcher; or this may have been an unrecorded daughter of Peter.

‖Mehitable was admitted to chh. 3, 8 mo., 1690. Her husband, Joseph Hewens was on the jury which tried Goodwife Morse for witchcraft. The whirligig of time makes all things even, and the compiler, a descendant of Peter, used in his courting days to be sorely tried by the witchery of his present wife, a relative of the accused.

Eliab was in Capt. John Withington's company in the Canada Expedition of 1690 (Hist. Dor.). Probably he was one of the "Canady soldiers," of whom it is recorded in Blake's Annals: "At this period many died in Dorchester, and 46 Canada soldiers were lost—in all 103. Not all were recorded in these years, especially in 1690." Hezekiah Barker was a proprietor of Dorchester, Canada (Ashburnham), in right of Eliab Lyon at the desire of Zachariah, son of Nathaniel, his elder brother (Hist. Ashb.).

†The Boston record, "Samuel Soper, m. Mary Lyon, Oct. 28, 1708," may refer to this daughter of Elhanan, or to his widow.

4. II. 1. NATHANIEL[2] LYON [Peter[1]] was born in Dorchester, Mass., Dec. 28, 1654 (D); baptized Dec. 31, 1654 (D Chh.); died March 15, 1705 (D).

Of Nathaniel also very little is known; and he also preferred fighting to weaving, for we find him in garrison at Springfield in 1676, during King Philip's War. He was in Dorchester in 1700; but had a lease of land in Canton from the Indians, and had 50 acres laid out to him by the proprietors on the road leading to Dry Pond. His wife died March 27, 1705 (D.); and the Dorchester record, "Nathaniel, d. March 15, 1705," evidently refers to him.

Children of Nathaniel Lyon:

*17. I. Nathaniel, b. 28, 10 mo., 1680; m. Nov. 27, 1707, Esther White; d. Sept. 5, 1718.

18. II. Zachariah,§ b. 26, 2 mo., 1691; m. May 21, 1729, Sarah Drake; d. June 22, 1749.

19. III. Mary‡ d. Sept. 18, 1718 (D).

20. IV. Anna (Hannah), bp. 21, 3 mo., 1704 (D.Chh.).

6. II. 1. EBENEZER[2] LYON [Peter[1]] was born in Dorchester, Mass., Feb. 20, 1661; baptized March 3, 1661 (D. Chh.), and died Dec. 31, 1689 (D). Ebenezer was another son who had caused his father some uneasy hours. Moreover, even after he had become his own man, he seems to have heaped up trouble on his own account. We know not the cause of the dispute, nor have we Ebenezer's side of the controversy, but the church record gives the method of procedure in his case. "9. (1.) 1683-4. Acknowledgment recd. of Ebenezer Lyon, who was lately propounded to join in full communion, but some had taken offense for words spoken by him but could hardly bring him to confess it, but at last he did by wrighting but he himself was not present to §Zachariah was baptized in Canton, June 3, 1721-2, and joined the Canton Chh. Jan. 10, 1722-3. The baptismal date is somewhat unusual in the Dorchester family, though regular enough in Connecticut lines. It is possible that Zachariah married about 1720, having a son Zachariah, baptized in 1721, and marrying Sarah Drake as a second wife. There is nothing in the records, however, to show this. The inventory of the estate of Zachariah of Stoughton gives £180 18s. 5d. left to his widow by will, and £304 18s. 5d. not disposed of. His will, dated Jan. 20, 1749, proved Jan. 30, 1749, leaves all real estate and one-half his personal estate to his wife Sarah, who is named executrix. As he did not dispose of the whole of his estate, his widow Sarah was appointed administratrix. No heirs are named. This Zachariah may have been of the fourth generation, and it may have been his widow, "Mrs. Sarah Lyon m. (int. April 20, 1759) Jonathan Jordan" (St). [Sarah Drake, daughter of Thomas and Sarah (Pool) Drake, was born Oct. 20, 1703. She married 2d (int. Sept. 2, 1759) Benaiah Smith (Drake Fam.).]

owne ye wrighting soe he was defered to see what his after conversation might be. 23 Mar., 1683-4. Ebenezer Lyon was called forth againe to make Confession of some other offenses in denying a pt. of the wrighting read by Mr. Danforth a fortnight afore and saying yt he did not know of such a passidg ther in this he denyed stifly until at lenth ther were two possitive witnesses to prove it & then he confessed it but ye church thought it not fitt at p'sent to admit of him but to waite further to see his life & Conversation." He was admitted November, 1687, but did not enjoy his church privileges long, as he died Dec. 31, 1689. The History of Dorchester says that Ebenezer was living there in 1700; but as the date of death is taken from the town records, this Ebenezer may have been a grandson of Peter, born when "not all were recorded," unless the death record refers to a child of that name.

The early death of Ebenezer, if this record refers to him, would account for the only record of his issue:

21. I. Elizabeth, b. May 3, 1689 (D); (?) m. Ebenezer Barrows‖; res. Attleboro, Mass.:

7. II. 1. PETER[2] LYON [Peter[1]] was born in Dorchester, Mass., baptized Sept. 6, 1663, and died July 7, 1733. He married first, about 1686, Jane Vose, who was born July 13, 1665 (M), daughter of Thomas and Waitstill (Wyatt) Vose. He married second, July 12, 1722, Sarah Fawkes (B).

Peter was barely eight years old when his father was haled before the church authorities to declare that for the future he would look more diligently after his sons, and it may fairly be inferred that he did not lead the strenuous life of his elder brothers. The character of Peter the elder indicates that the younger pursued his vocation attentively, yet he certainly had time allotted him to obtain an education above the ordinary for his day. His subsequent career shows, however, that his energetic, self-willed spirit was not broken by any paternal harshness; for he ever bore himself as the equal, at least, of any among whom his lot was cast. In 1676 he, with Israel, Ebenezer and Susanna, appeared before the church to be catechized, having as sponsors Henry Ledbetter, Thomas and George Lyon and Thomas Tolman. He was admitted to the Dorchester church 1689, and his wife Jane in ‖Ebenezer Barrows, son of John and Deborah Barrows of Plymouth, married Elizabeth Lyon and had a son Ebenezer, born in Attleboro, Oct. 19, 1712; m. Feb. 11, 1749, Experience Ormsby. The dates make it probable that this was the Elizabeth above.

1690. He was made freeman 1690, and seems to have lived in Mattapan, between Dorchester and Milton, in the neighborhood of Brush Hill, and near Punkapoag. Peter and Jane styled themselves of Punkapoag in 1705; they were dismissed to the Milton church in 1695, and in 1718 to Canton, where he had in 1698 bought 20 acres of land.

When Peter had reached manhood, he looked upon Jane, the daughter of Sergeant Thomas Vose, and saw that she was fair; and lucky youth that he was, he found favor in her sight. Not so, however, in the eyes of the sergeant. Thomas Vose was a man of influence and of means, and chose not that his daughter should wed with a man of Peter's disposition. Evidently, he had no objection to Peter, per se, since, though it was a case of stocks and stripes for a youth to make love to a maid without parental consent, Peter came to no bodily harm. In those days of little excitement, what must have been the flutter among the congregation when the young people appeared at church! They surely had the sympathy of the youth, and certainly had the active support of the elders and of the very pastor himself, as witness the following extracts from the journal of the Reverend Peter Thatcher:

"Dec. 16, 1684, went and solemnly discoursed with Jane Vose, giving her much good counsel. Dec. 26, this morning Sargent Badcock and Peter Lion were at my house to get me to go and treat with Sargeant Vose about consenting to Peter's marrying his daughter. Dec. 30, treated with Sargeant Vose about giving his consent that P. Lion should marry his daughter Jane, but his answer was plainly negative. Jan. 3, 1685, I went with Sargent Badcock to treat with Jane Vose, and to acquaint her that her father could not consent, whereupon we labored abundantly to take off her affections, etc. Jan. 6, went to Sargent Badcock's, he and I labored much with Peter Lion and Jane Vose."

Unfortunately, we have no record of their marriage. The date was 1685-86, and shortly thereafter we find them comfortably settled upon the choicest portion of Thomas Vose's Canton land. "The cellar hole of Peter's house was situated on a high plateau in the rear of Col. Walcott's house. The situation must have been very fine." His son Elhanan's Canton land, extending on both sides of Washington street, from Sassamon street to Potash Meadow, probably came from Peter, who was [also] a lessee on Indian land. He probably resided on it. Possibly it was in the house where Geo. B. Hunt now lives that he copied the old precinct records, and practised setting the psalms."

Peter was chosen Town Clerk in 1707. He was greatly interested in education, and active in church matters, but "wanted his own way," and was accused of "making rash and impudent speeches," as was natural when one considers the effect that the pretensions of the ministers of that day would have upon the spirit of one of Peter's disposition. He was noted as a good singer, and was chosen to "set the psalms." His talent in this line has descended in unbroken sequence to this day.

From 1705 to 1712 he kept tavern in Canton. In those early days, only grave and reputable citizens were chosen to keep the ordinaries and sell liquor; many of the landlords were high civil and church officials. The landlord must be popular, too, and conversant with public affairs, for to him resorted the members of the community for the news of the day, and for what might be known of events in the intellectual world. The limits of this book do not allow a discussion of the relations of the tavern to the church and community; but in return for their support, the tavern-keeper must undergo many galling restrictions. Dinner at 9d. and lodging for man and wife at 6d. would seem strange to mine Host of modern days. And not without drawback was the order: "Nor shall he suffer to be or remain in his House any person or persons not being of his own family upon Saturday nights after it is dark, nor any time on the Sabbath Day or evening after the Sabbath." It was this prohibition that caused that great excitement in Peter, when early one Spring morning, he hastily snatched up the glowing loggerhead, plunged it into the creamy bowls of famous Canton flip, placed them hastily before his astonished guests, and without his customary morning chat, rushed to his desk, and fearful of the forfeiture of his license, penned to Magistrate Leonard this excuse:

Dorchester [Canton], April 28, 1712.

To Mag'r. Lenard: Sir,—After my sarvis humbly presented unto your worshipe, these are to inform you that Mr. Thomas Stevens, Nathaniel Stevens and Benn. Lenard som time since came to my house late in ye evening on the laste day of ye week, and after some discors between about thire going on thire jurnny, thay concluded to tary all night by reson of ye excesive darkness of ye seson, for it was exseeding dark, and so far to goe away very early on ye Saboath day morning, for they weare in hops that thay woold have tayred over ye Saboath with us, but by reson of sickness in there familys thay could not stay. And so ye moved away upon thire jorney very early in ye morny, and thire caridge while they were with me was very ordarly.

Sir: Yours to sarve,

PETER LYON.

Peter's will is here presented. The signature is fairly well preserved, but gives evidence of how greatly advancing age and mortal illness had weakened that once skilful hand. There was a seal also; but unfortunately the wax is well-nigh wasted away, and the imprinted design is undecipherable.

THE WILL OF PETER LYON II.

In the Name of God, Amen, the eighth day of May anno Domini, one thousand seven hundred thirty and one I, Peter Lyon, of Stoughton, in the Province of the Massachusetts Bay in New England, yeoman, being apprehensive that I am very near my End of Life here, yet of sound and perfect memory, Praised be God, and being desirous to settle that outward Estate that God hath Lent me, Do make and ordain this, my Last Will and Testament, in manner and form following, That is to Say: First and Principally, I Commend my soul into the hand of Almighty God, my Creator, hoping to Receive full Pardon and Remission of all my sins and Salvation through the alone merits of Jesus Christ, my Redeemer, and my Body to the Earth to be Buried in such decent manner as to my Executors hereafter named shall be thought Convenient, and as touching such Worldly Estate as the Lord hath lent Me my will and meaning is the same shall be Bestowed as hereafter in and by this, my Last Will, is Exprest. Item, I will that all my just Debts due to any Person or Persons whatsoever shall be well & truly paid in some convenient Time after my Decease by my Executrs hereafter named. Item, I give unto my Loving Wife Sarah Lion the whole Income and Improvement of all my Estate, both Real and Personal, so long as she shall remain my Widow, but in Case she sees Cause to marry again then my Will is that she have what Estate she brought to me when I married her and no more. Item, I Give to my Son Peter Lion, after my Wife's Decease or at her marriage, all my Estate, both Real and Personal, Provided my Son Peter Pay the Legacies hereafter Given. Item, I Give to my Son Elhanan Lyon one shilling as a Token of my Love to him, he having already had of me what I thought reasonable for his Portion. Item, I give to my Daughter Jean Pitcher one shilling as a Token of my Love to her, she having already had her full Portion, and further my will is that if so that there be Real occasion to sell that Estate I leave to pay my Just Debts and Funeral Charges In such a Case my will is that when the aforesaid Debts & Charges are paid the overplus or Remaining part shall be Equally Divided between my Loving Wife Sarah Lyon and my son Peter Lyon, my son Peter paying the Legacies aforementioned. Item, I do hereby Constitute and appoint my Loving Wife Sarah Lyon and my son Peter Lion to be the sole executors of this, my Last Will and Testament.

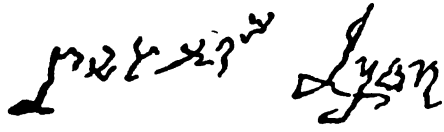
In Testimony whereof I have hereunto set my Hand and Seal the Day & Year afore written.



And a Seal.

Inventory by Benj. Blackman, Jos. Topliff and John Shepard was presented by Sarah and Peter, executors, Aug. 23, 1737. Amt. £186—1s.—6d.

Children of Peter and Jane (Vose) Lyon, recorded in Dorchester, except Enoch, in Milton:

*22. I. Peter, b. Dec. 19, 1686 (D); m. (1) Feb. 13, 1711-12, Waitstill Wyatt (D); d. April 8, 1752 (W).
23. II. Jane, b. July 8, 1688; bp. 8, 5 mo., 1688; m. ——— Pitcher.
*24. III. Elhanan, b. May 4, 1690; m. (1) May 19, 1711-12, Mary Rodman; d. Oct. 30, 1745.
25. IV. Enoch, b. Nov. 24, 1692 (M); d. Oct. 8, 1711 (D).

17. III. 4. NATHANIEL[3] LYON [Nathaniel,[2] Peter[1]] was born Dec. 28, 1680 (Concord) and died Sept. 5, 1718 (D). He married, Nov. 27, 1707, Esther White (B). No children of Nathaniel are recorded in Dorchester or in Canton records, but the persistency of family names was very strong in Peter's line. It may, then, be presumed that had Nathaniel had children, he would have handed down the name. There appears in Needham a Nathaniel, who from the date of birth of his eldest son would appear to have been born about 1710, and who died there in 1760. As this name does not occur in the Roxbury line, this Needham family will be assigned to a place among Peter's descendants, unless the assumption be subsequently disproved. The name Thomas, occurring in the will of Nathaniel[4] without apparent cause, suggests that he may have had a brother Thomas. Nathaniel's children, then, are assumed to be as follows:

*26. I. Nathaniel, b. about 1710; m. Mary Lyon; d. Sept. 22, 1760.
27. II. Thomas (?).

22. III. 7. PETER[3] LYON [Peter,[2] Peter[1]] was born in Dorchester, Mass., Dec. 19, 1686, and died in Walpole, April 8, 1752. He married first, Feb. 13, 1712, Waitstill Wyatt (D). She died March 12, 1729 (St). He married second, Sept. 23, 1731, Jemima, daughter of Peter and Abigail Fales, born April 20, 1707 (Ded). She died July 7, 1732, and he married third [int. June, 1734 (W)] Sarai Hall who survived him.

Peter lived for the greater part of his life in Dorchester. He was a man of family, if not of means. Family tradition gives him twenty-one children; ten are recorded in Walpole, two in Stoughton, and two in Dorchester; five more are known to belong to Peter and Waitstill, though their births are not recorded, leaving two of whom there is no account.

It is said that the early Cantonians had the peculiar custom of requiring their boys to undergo the exhilarating exercise of "bumping" —swinging them by hands and feet against the boundary marks—by way of teaching them to respect the land marks which their fathers had set. In spite of this forceful admonition, however, Peter early in life left his father's home in Canton, returning to Dorchester, where he was married, and where he practiced his trade of housewright. Possibly some bumps received there jarred his memory to a recollection of his boyhood warnings; for he must have returned to Stoughton about 1716-7, as he had children there in 1717 and 1729. His wife died almost immediately after the birth of this last child, and for the rest of his life he seems, by the records, to have been in Walpole.

So far as we can learn, his life was uneventful, though he was Precinct Clerk and Assessor in Stoughton, 1717-1719. Evidently the cares of a large family caused him to give his whole thought to attending to their well-being and providing for their support. He did what he could to prevent race suicide, and doubtless thought, with this, his duty done.

From Suffolk Probate Records:

On April 26, 1753, Eliab Lyon, a minor, aged 17, son of Peter Lyon, late of Walpole, chooses his mother Sarah as guardian; also Isaiah, aged 16, and Jemima and Sarah, above 14. Benjamin, aged 20, refusing to choose, his [step] mother, widow Sarah, is appointed the next day; also for Drusilla aged 12, Tamar 10, Adah 8, Zillah 6 and Asaph 3. The account of Sarah was rendered: Personal assets £42—4s.—3d.; expenses £39—12s.—3¼d.

Sept. 1, 1753, Henry Crane and wife Abigail, of Stoughton, give quit-claim to Lemuel Lyon, of Walpole, all right in estate that belonged to "my honored father, Peter Lyon, late of Walpole, deceased." May 24, 1756, Thomas Foster, of Dorchester, cordwainer, and Mary, his wife, for £4—16s. quit-claim to their brother Lemuel Lyon all their interest, etc. April 27, 1756, Sarah Lyon, widow of Peter Lyon, etc., and guardian of Eliab, Isaiah, Sarah, Jemima, Drusilla, Tamar, Ada, Zillah and Asaph, for £45—12s.—18d. quit-claims to Lemuel Lyon all rights of herself and minor children, etc.

"Know all men by these Presents that I, Waitstill Evens, of Dorchester, and Thomas Foster and Mary his wife, both of Dorchester, and Robert Capen and Jane his wife, of Stoughton, and Beulah Hadley, of Dedham, and Pelatiah Herring and Hepsibah his wife, both of Dedham, and all the above-named in ye county of Suffolk and Province of ye Massachusetts Bay in New England, and John Dickerman and Mariah his wife, both of Conticut, have received of our brother Lemuel Lyon, of Walpole, in ye county & province aforesaid husbandman, each of us the just sum of £4—10s.—8d. lawful money in full to our full content and satisfaction for our Portions which was left to us by our Hond. Father Peter Lyon, late of Walpole, Housewright, deceased, quit claim to our Brother Lemuel Lyon, etc., Jan. 8, 1757. Signed: Waitstill Evens [a seal]; Susanna × Turner; Increase Leadbetter; Robert Capen; Seth Morton; Jean Capen; Josiah Deary; John Dickerman; Thomas Mason [Foster?]; Meriah Dickerman; Jean Capen; Pelatiah Herring; Jean Capen; Hepsibah Herring; Tamar × Lyon; Beulah Hadley [a seal]."

Dec. 9, 1757, Joseph Clap, of Walpole, was appointed guardian to Asaph, a minor under 14, son of Peter Lyon, of Walpole, deceased.

Children of Peter and Waitstill (Wyatt) Lyon:

28. I. Waitstill,† b. Feb. 17, 1712 (D); m. Oct. 24, 1738, Mathias Evans (B).

29. II. Maria, b. May 7, 1715 (D); m. April 17, 1735, John Dickerman (St).

30. III. Mary; m. Sept. 27, 1737, Thomas Foster (D); d. May 4, 1744 (H. G. R.).

31. IV. Beulah; m. Nov. 15, 1750, Simon Hadley (W).

32. V. Abigail; m. Nov. 23, 1744, Henry Crane (St).

33. VI. Hepsibah; m. Sept. 9, 1747, Pelatiah Herring (Ded).

34. VII. Jane; m. Nov. 1, 1744, Robert Capen (D).

Children of Peter and Abigail (Fales) Lyon:

35. VIII. Peter, b. Sept. 18, 1717; m. May 11, 1752, Mrs. Mary Holden (W).

37. X. Benjamin, b. June 30, 1732; m. (1) Jan. 17, 1754, Thankful Humphrey; d. about 1797.

Children of Peter and Sarah (Hall) Lyon:

38. XI. Eliab, b. July 2, 1735; m. Feb. 3, 1757, Meriah Smith.

39. XII. Isaiah,§ b. Dec. 7, 1736; d. 1761-2.

†Waitstill was a proprietor of Dorchester Canada (Ashburnham) in right of her uncle, Edward Wiott, a Canada soldier [Hist. Ashb.].

§According to Suffolk Probate, Eliab Lyon, cordwainer, of Walpole, was admitted administrator of the estate of his late brother Isaiah, late of Walpole, a minor, deceased. Inventory, Jan. 7, 1762, by Moses Chamberlain, Seth Kingsbury and Elhanan Boyden presented Jan. 8, 1762, by Eliab, administrator. Amt. £27 5s. 9¾d. A reference to the original would probably disclose an omission to erase a portion of the printed form, as Isaiah was certainly not a minor in 1762.

40. XIII. Sarah, b. Dec. 23, 1733 (W); m. (int. May 9), 1756, Joseph Carver (W).‖

41. XIV. Jemima, b. Dec. 23, 1738 (W); m. Jan. 12, 1761, Ebenezer Holmes (St).

42. XV. Drusilla, b. April 26, 1741 (W); m. Oct. 24, 1759, Seth Smith (Med); d. 1816 (Med).

43. XVI. Tamar, b. March 13, 1743 (W); m. Sept. 29, 1773, Jacob Ellis (W).

44. XVII. Adah, b. Feb. 12, 1745 (W).

45. XVIII. Zilliah, b. Feb. 19, 1747 (W); m. June 5, 1771, John Dexter (Medway).

46. XIX. Asaph,‡ b. April 3, 1750 (W).

24. III. 7. ELHANAN[3] LYON [Peter,[2] Peter[1]] was born in Dorchester, Mass., May 4, 1690, baptized 11, 5 mo., 1690 (D. Chh.) and died in Stoughton Oct. 30, 1745 (St). He married first, Feb. 19, 1712, Mary Rodman (D) and second Sept. 24, 1713, Meredith, daughter of Robert and Mary Wyatt. She died Aug. 11, 1731 (St).

Elhanan was reared in Stoughton, but m. both his wives in Dorchester. He inherited his father's assertive disposition and disinclination to yield submissively to the rights of the ministry of the day. Though both he and Meredith were received March 25, 1721-2 (c. chh.), by some he was called "ye great troubler of ye church," and in fine he was expelled therefrom in 1745 for controversy with the minister, the Reverend Mr. Morse. It is said that when Elhanan died shortly after, the reverend gentleman heaved a sigh of relief rather than of regret.

Administration on the estate of Elhanan Lyon, late of Stoughton, bricklayer, deceased, was granted to his son Enoch, July 1, 1746. Inventory by John Shepard, Moses Gill and Charles Wentworth, July 11, 1746. Real estate, £266; total £341—14s.—6d.

Children of Elhanan and Meredith (Wyatt) Lyon, all recorded in Dorchester, except 7 and 8, in Stoughton:

*47. I. Elhanan, b. June 7, 1714; m. June 5, 1732, Abigail Wyatt; d. 1751.

*48. II. Enoch, b. March 11, 1715-6; m. Dec. 21, 1733, Susanna Hoar.

49. III. Meredith, b. May 15, 1719; m. May 22, 1744, Wally Leonard (St).

50. IV. Uriah, b. Nov. 9, 1721.

*51. V. Theophilus, b. March 15, 1723-4; m. (int. Aug. 23, 1766), Ann Adams (b. 1721).

52. VI. Elijah, b. July 2, 1726.

‖In Medway records we find "Sarah Lyon m. Sept. 7, 1768, Ebenezer Warren"; in int. the name is given Mrs. Sarah Lyon; can this refer to Sarah, No. 40?

‡It is possible that this is "Asaph Lyon, m. int. Sept. 9, 1775, Hannah Wood"—Pelham Records; or "Asaph Lyon of Shutesbury, m. int. June 10, 1781, Esther Gray" [Pelham].

*53. VII. Gamaliel, b. Jan. 22, 1728-9; m. May 30, 1854, Abigail Howard (St).

54. VIII. Daughter, b. April 4, 1731.

Note:—Elhanan may have been the father also of Meriah, who m. Dec. 18, 1751, Josiah Hawes of Wrentham, b. 1724; d. 1804; she d. Aug. 28, 1779 [Hist. Union, Me.].

26. IV. 17. NATHANIEL[4] LYON [? Nathaniel,[3] Nathaniel,[2] Peter[1]] born about 1710, married in Roxbury, Mass., Sept. 17, 1734, Mary Lyon§ (Roxbury); died Sept. 22, 1760 (Needham).

This is the Nathaniel who was assumed in loco to be of Peter's line. All that is really known of him is a few data from Needham records, and this extract from the Probate Records: Mary Lyon, of Needham, widow, appointed Oct. 24, 1760, administratrix of the estate of her late husband, Nathaniel Lyon, of Needham, deceased. Inventory of estate of Nathaniel Lyon, by Amos Fuller, Josiah Newell and Aaron Smith, May 1, 1761. Amount, £322—3s.—4½d. Oct. 7, 1763, account of Mary, admx. Allowance of sums of £10 paid to Barzillai Lyon; £6—13s.—4d. to Thomas Lyon, £14—6s.—8d. to Samuel Richards, etc. Oct. 2, 1761, Caleb Kingsburg, Robert Fuller and Robert Smith appointed to divide estate of Nathaniel Lyon. They reported Oct. 27 an appraisal, and that real estate would not admit of division. Division: The two sons refused to accept the settlement of the estate upon them, and it was settled upon Elisha Mills, a son-in-law, and his wife Deborah, dau. of said Nathaniel; they to pay Barzillai, the eldest son of deceased, £43—3s.—6d., and to Elizabeth, Mary, Nehemiah and Hannah, the other children of said Nathaniel, £21—11s.—9d. on or before April 1, 1765; they also to pay Barzillai £25—10s—10d., and the other children named £11—5s.—5d. more within one year after the death of their mother, the widow Mary. Dated Oct. 28, 1763.

Children of Nathaniel and Mary (Lyon) Lyon, born in Roxbury (T. R.):

55. I. Joshua, b. March 30 (?), 1735; bapt. June 8, 1735; d. before 1761.

56. II. Deborah, b. Sept. 24, 1737; m. 1st May 10, 1759, Elisha Mills [Needham Epitaphs]; m. 2d about 1777, Aaron Smith (Dedham Hist. Reg.).

*57. III. Barzillai [Barzillai], b. Sept., 1739 [Ch. R. has "Aaron, son of Nathaniel and Abigail, bapt. Oct. 14, 1739"]; m. Sept. 25, 1765, Mary Davenport; d. June 24, 1796.

§It seems probable that this Mary was of the family of William of Roxbury. She was certainly a member of the Eliot Church in Roxbury.

58. IV. Elizabeth, b. Feb. 6, 1742; bapt. ["Eliza"] Feb. 28, 1742 (Ch. R.); (?) m. Feb. 10, 1761, Zaccheus Bemis† (Lancaster).

59. V. Nathaniel, bapt. April 5, 1747 (Ch. R.); d. before 1761.

60. VI. Nehemiah, b. Feb. 21, 1750; bapt. March 4, 1750; m. int. March 5, 1774, Hepzibah Robinson (Princeton).

61. VII. Mary, b. March 20, 1753 (Needham T. R.); bapt. April 1, 1752(?); living in 1761.

62. VIII. Hannah, b. Sept. 19, 1755 (Needham T. R.); bapt. Aug. 21, 1755(?) (Roxbury Ch. R.); m. April 10, 1777, Daniel Wight (Ded.).

35. IV. 22. PETER[4] LYON [Peter,[3] Peter,[2] Peter[1]] was born in Stoughton, Sept. 8, 1717. He married in Walpole, May 11, 1752, widow Mary Holden (W).

Children of Peter and Mary (Holden) Lyon, recorded in Walpole:

63. I. Peter, b. July 30, 1752; m. Dec. 3, 1780, Hannah Robbins (W).

*64. II. Ebenezer, b. July 29, 1754; m. Aug. 2, 1775, Hannah Wood (Med.).

65. III. (?) Mary; m. Aug. 25, 1768, Zephaniah Wood (St).

Note:—The supposition that the Mary who m. Zephaniah Wood was a dau. of Peter is based only upon indications of place and time, and the possibility that Peter had a daughter to whom he gave her mother's name.

36. IV. 22. LEMUEL[4] LYON [Peter,[3] Peter,[2] Peter[1]] was born in Stoughton, Mass., Feb. 13, 1729. He married (int. May 10, 1750) Lydia Perry (Stoughtonham). Lemuel came into possession of the homestead through quit-claims of the other heirs of Peter.[3] From these papers we learn that he was a husbandman.

His children were recorded in Walpole:

66. I. Waitstill, b. Jan. 28, 1750-1; m. Aug. 8, 1769, Jireh Swift (W).

67. II. Abiah, b. July 1, 1753; d. Dec. 27, 1755 (W).

68. III. Silence ["Sileney," also "Celenia"], b. March 25, 1755; m. Jan. 13, 1773, Abraham Preble (Stoughtonham).

*69. IV. Spencer, b. April 8, 1757 (W); m. Mary Barney; d. Dec. 26, 1827.

70. V. Zabina (?)§, b. 1759; m. Aug. 28, 1783, Rachel Hooper (Ded.-Sharon).

71. VI. Infant, b. May 22, 1761; d. July 14, 1762 (W).

†Probable since Elizabeth, who m. Zaccheus Bemis, was of Westminster, a town adjoining Hubbardston, where the brothers of Elizabeth above resided.

§Zabina, No. 70, was of Sharon. He is enrolled in Soldiers and Sailors as of Stoughtonham, aged 21 in 1780, height 5 ft. 6 in., complexion ruddy. Spencer is the only other of the Lyon family enrolled at Stoughtonham, and it is more than probable that Zabina also was a son of Lemuel.

37. IV. 22. BENJAMIN[4] LYON [Peter,[3] Peter,[2] Peter[1]] was born in Walpole, Mass., June 30, 1732, and died about 1797. He married first, Jan. 17, 1754, Thankful Humphrey, born March 11, 1734, daughter of Jacob and Thankful (Capen) Humphrey. She died May 2, 1760 (D). He married second, Sept. 17, 1761, Rachel Stetson, of Randolph. She died Dec. 4, 1784 (M) and he married third, Nov. 17, 1785, Ruth Wentworth, of Stoughton (St). It was perhaps his widow (Ruth) who married (int. Aug. 31, 1800) Joseph Randall (St).

Benjamin, though born in Walpole, must have received his education in Milton, as his name appears in the catalogue of the Milton academy; Paul Revere was a fellow student. He served his apprenticeship with James Baker, a noted shoemaker of Dorchester, and followed that trade in the same town for many years. The latter years of his life were spent in Stoughton. In 1760 his wife Thankful died, leaving her three sons heirs to a share in her father's property. An entry in the Suffolk Probate Records states: "July 7, 1763, Jacob Humphrey, of Dorchester, Co. of Suffolk, yeoman, was appointed guardian of Jacob, a minor under 14, son of Benjamin Lyon, late of Dorchester, cordwainer, deceased; also of Benjamin and Thomas, sons, etc. Jacob Humphrey, housewright, bequeaths estate to Jacob, his son, and to the legal representatives of his sister Thankful Lyon, deceased. Warrant given Sept. 11, 1761. Real estate settled June 6, 1763." Under date of March 3, 1775, "Samuel Withington, Jr., of Dorchester, tanner, was appointed guardian to the above-mentioned sons of Benjamin Lyon, grandsons of Thankful Morgan." The grandfather, Jacob Humphrey, had died, Nov. 19, 1743, and his widow Thankful had married, Feb. 25, 1747, Ralph Morgan.

The Probate Record caused some little surprise to the descendants of Benjamin, inasmuch as it stated that he was deceased in 1763, whereas it was positively known that he was married twice thereafter, and had had children as late as 1780. Subsequent investigation showed, however, that the words "late" and "deceased" had not been erased from the printed form, and had been copied, therefore, in full into the written record. The incident shows that, in genealogical matters, things are not always what they seem.

The burning questions and stirring events preceding April, 1775, made a deep impression upon Benjamin, as with busy hands and free mind he sat upon his bench, almost in the very center of disturbance. As a result appears: "Benjamin Lyon, Dorchester, private, Capt. Abraham Wheeler's Minute Men, Lemuel Robinson's Alarm, April 19, 1775, time of service 12 days. Residence, Dorchester." Also, "Capt. Stephen Penniman's Co., Col. Dike's Regiment, Dec. 1776, to Feb., 1777, enlisted Dec. 13, 1776, to serve till March 1, 1777. Residence, Dorchester." Also, "Benjamin Lyon, private, Capt. Abel Richard's Co., Col. Benjamin Hawes', enlisted Sept. 25, 1777, discharged Oct. 28, 1777, service 1 mo. 7 da., on secret expedition to Rhode Island. Roll sworn to at Dedham." This latter may refer to Benjamin, Jr., q. v.

The date of his death and the place of his burial have not been ascertained. He was living in Stoughton as late as 1797 as is shown by a record from Suffolk Deeds: "Benjamin Lyon, of Stoughton, 1797, to his wife Ruth, his real and personal property, and to his children, Benjamin, Thomas, Mary, Samuel, Thankful, Lemuel and Stephen, $1.00 each."

Benjamin was "a pious, godly man," and no day was allowed to pass in his household without daily family prayers. Like his forefathers, he was greatly interested in education, and inheriting the family gift for music, he was "chorister and leader of the singing," in the Dorchester church for over thirty years. His old Bible is extant in the possession of his descendants, and contains his family records, which as they agree with the town records need not be reproduced herein.

Children of Benjamin and Thankful (Humphrey) Lyon, all recorded in Dorchester:

*72. I. Jacob, b. Oct. 12, 1754 (D); m. Nov., 1775, Jerusha Tucker; d. Jan. 3, 1829.

*73. II. Benjamin, b. Dec. 15, 1756 (D); m. (1) Oct. 15, 1778, Ann Blackman; d. July 18, 1842.

†It is related of this estimable lady that, as she and her husband were unable to agree upon the texture of the bed-covering, and the double single-bed not having been invented, she solved the difficulty by splitting a sheet and a blanket, sewing the different materials together lengthwise. Such willingness to compromise must have prevented many a matrimonial jar, and is less annoying and less expensive than the modern method of splitting the marriage bond to form new connections.

79. VIII. Samuel,§ b. April 21, 1770; m. March 29, 1804, Olive Beard (B); d. 1806.

80. IX. Abigail, b. Sept. 22, 1772; m. Oct. 22, 1809, James White of Roxbury (1st Par. Brookline).

81. X. Thankful, b. Jan. 20, 1776; m. June 15, 1808, Elkanah Young, Trenton, Me. (B).

82. XI. Stephen, b. Aug. 5, 1780 (M); m. 1804, Mary Wiswall (B).

38. IV. 22. ELIAB[4] LYON [Peter,[3] Peter,[2] Peter[1]] was born in Walpole, Mass., July 2, 1735. He married in Walpole, Feb. 3, 1757, Meriah Smith, who survived him and died about 1816. Eliab lived for the greater part of his life in Walpole. He was a cordwainer, and like all of Peter's family was small in stature, active, bright and "smart." In 1785 he removed to Readfield, Me., where he spent the remainder of his life. Eliab had twelve children, of whom only the first six are in the Walpole records. The names of the rest are from "The Winslow Family."

Children of Eliab and Meriah (Smith) Lyon:

83. I. Isaiah, b. March 18, 1758 (W); killed in the Revolution.

*84. II. Alpheus, b. May 25, 1760 (W); m. (int. March 17, 1782), Lucy Blake (W); d. Feb., 1825.

*87. V. Squire, b. May 11, 1767 (W); m. Betsy Wheeler.

88. VI. Meriah, b. March 10, 1770 (W); m. Allen Hall.

*89. VII. Amos, b. May 24, 1772; m. (1) Mary Prescott; d. June or July, 1860.

90. VIII. Cornelius; m. ——— Ladd, Calais, Me.

91. IX. Emilia; m. James French; 4 ch.

*92. X. Taber; m. Abigail Caldwell.

93. XI. Loton; m. Sally Haskins.

94. XII. Nancy; m. Nathaniel Brown; 5 ch.

47. IV. 24. ELHANAN[4] LYON [Elhanan,[3] Peter,[2] Peter[1]] was born in Dorchester, Mass., June 7, 1714, and died in Stoughton in 1751. He married first, June 15, 1732, Abigail Wyatt, and second (int. Dec. 7, 1734) Hannah Tilden. Elhanan was reared in Stoughton; but all that is known of him is curtly set forth in the Probate Records: "Inven-

Children of Elhanan and Hannah (Tilden) Lyon, recorded in Stoughton:

*95. I. Elhanan, b. April 14, 1735; m. Oct. 10, 1757, Rebecca Belcher; d. 1770.

96. II. Samuel, b. Feb. 11, 1736-7.

*97. III. David, b. April 11, 1739; m. Sept. 13, 1759, Abigail Belcher (St).

98. IV. Abigail, b. May 29, 1741; m. (?) Feb. 21, 1760, Recompense Wadsworth (W).

99. V. Theophilus, b. April 1, 1745; m. (?) Dec. 16, 1784, Isabella Drayton (B); Theophilus, of Stoughton, aged 17, was with his brothers in the Crown Point expedition [see Elhanan, No. 95].

48. IV. 24. ENOCH[4] LYON [Elhanan,[3] Peter,[2] Peter[1]] was born in Dorchester, Mass., March 11, 1716, and died in Weymouth in 1789. He married in Dedham, Dec. 31, 1738, Susannah Hoar. Like his brother Elhanan, Enoch presents for this record only one item from Probate Records: "Reuben Burrell was appointed April 13, 1789, administrator of the estate of Enoch Lyon, late of Weymouth, mason, deceased. Inventory presented May 5, 1789. Amt. £25—3s.—9d." No names of widow or heirs.

Children of Enoch and Susannah (Hoar) Lyon, recorded in Stoughton:

100. I. Sarah, b. Oct. 17, 1738; d. Nov. 25, 1738 (St).

101. II. Meredith, b. May 15, 1741; m. Oct. 9, 1760, Benjamin Monk (St).

102. III. Sarah, b. April 14, 1744; m. (?) Nov. 12, 1767, Samuel Paine (B).

103. IV. Enoch, b. June 19, 1846; d. Feb. 4, 1747-8 (St).

104. V. Hannah, b. Feb. 27, 1747-8.

51. IV. 24. THEOPHILUS[4] LYON [Elhanan,[3] Peter,[2] Peter[1]] was born in Dorchester, Mass., March 15, 1724, and was living in Hopkinton in 1801. He married (int. ? Aug. 23, 1766) Ann Adams, born in Braintree, Mass., in 1731. This marriage record would, from its date, seem to be more appropriate to the nephew of Theophilus; but the age of Ann makes the latter supposition somewhat improbable, while a marriage at the age of 42 would not be unusual. Theophilus had a tanyard in Canton in 1777, and was Town Clerk 1776. He was listed on the Alarm Roll April 19, 1775, as Lieutenant of the 2d Canton company. As captain he led his company to Braintree March 22, 1776, and to Castle Island, 1778. The rank of Captain is given him in Soldiers and Sailors. In 1787 he sold his house to Rev. Zechariah Howard and appears to have removed to Hopkinton, as a deed of Theophilus and Ann, of Hopkinton, to David Stearns, of their land in Quincy, is recorded in 1801.

Children of Theophilus and Ann (Adams) Lyon, recorded in Stoughton:

105. I. Samuel, b. Nov. 16, 1767.
106. II. James, b. Nov. 7, 1769; d. Mar. 4, 1770.
107. III. James, b. March 4, 1770.
108. IV. Ann, b. June 26, 1771.
109. V. Lucretia, b. June 29, 1773.
110. VI. Eunice, b. July 26, 1775.
111. VII. Ruth, b. 1780. Her remains rest in the Crehore tomb, Milton Cemetery; d. Oct. 6, 1811.

53. IV. 24. GAMALIEL[4] LYON [Elhanan,[3] Peter,[2] Peter[1]] was born in Stoughton, Mass., Jan. 22, 1729. No record has been found of the date or place of his death. He married in Stoughton, May 30, 1754, Abigail, daughter of John and Abigail Howard. Gamaliel was on the roll of minute men of Major Miller May 3, 1757, and his name appears in the list of Revolutionary soldiers given in the History of Canton, though not in Soldiers and Sailors. His son, Elijah, is described therein as of Stoughton, aged 24 in 1779, dark, with gray eyes, and of ruddy complexion. John, also, is given, aged 18 in 1779, height 5 ft. 5 in., complexion dark.

Children of Gamaliel and Abigail (Howard) Lyon, recorded in Stoughton:

112. I. Elijah, b. Aug. 26, 1755; m. May 27, 1779, Judith Payson (St).
113. II. John, b. Sept. 24, 1757; m. (int. Oct. 8, 1785) Lucy May (St).

57. V. 26. BARZILLAI[5] LYON [Nathaniel,[4] Nathaniel,[3] Nathaniel,[2] Peter[1]] was born in Roxbury, Mass., in Sept., 1739, and died in Hubbardston, Mass., June 24, 1796, ae. 57 y., killed by a falling limb while cutting timber. He married in Needham, Sept. 25, 1765, Mary Davenport, who was born in 1742, and died April 1, 1803. Barzillai, according to the History of Hubbardston, which styles him Bezaleel, came thither with his wife, Mary Davenport, from Barre, in 1771, and died in Hubbardston, 1796, at the age of 57. This corresponds with the Roxbury birth record. He was in Needham in 1770, as his son Nathaniel is recorded there [see also H. G. R. 32, 55, 56], though the son must have died early, as he is not mentioned by Stowe.

Note:—The record "Judith Lyon died Oct. 19, 1815, aged 56" (D) may refer to the wife of Elijah, No. 112.

Children of Barzillai and Mary (Davenport) Lyon, given by Stowe, were:

114. I. Sarah, b. 1767; m. 1st, Feb. 5, 1787, Paul Matthews (Princeton); he d. July 20, 17(?); she m. 2d, Luke Warren (or Warner); d. Jan. 30, 1804.

115. II. Miriam, b. Jan. 31, 1768 (Needham); m. June 26, 1804 (Hist. Hubbardston), Nathan Newton; 6 ch.; d. July 30, 1820.

116. III. Nathaniel, b. Feb. 11, 1770 (Needham); d. early (?).

117. IV. Samuel, b. Nov. 25, 1771; d. young.

*118. V. Asa, b. Jan. 4, 1774; m. Dec. 5, 1799, Attarah Grimes; d. Malden, ———.

119. VI. Martha, b. Feb. 29, 1776; m. Joel Wheeler.

120. VII. Ruth, b. April 5, 1778; not m.; d. May 11, 1858.

121. VIII. Lucy, b. 1780; m. Aug. 16, 1801, Jotham Stone; d. Feb. 8, 1826.

122. IX. Lois, b. 1780; m. Aaron Wright.

123. X. Betsey, b. 1782; m. 1st John Woodward; m. 2d Calvin Hinds.

124. XI. Anna, b. 1784; m. J. Pollock; d. Dec. 25, 1851.

64. V. 35. EBENEZER[5] LYON [Peter,[4] Peter,[3] Peter,[2] Peter[1]] was born in Walpole, Mass., July 29, 1754. He married in Medford, Aug. 2, 1775, Hannah Wood. Ebenezer is given in "Soldiers and Sailors" as of Medfield, aged 22 in 1776, aged 24 in 1778, enlisted for the war.

Children of Ebenezer and Hannah (Wood) Lyon (Medfield T. R.):

125. I. Polly, b. Nov. 18, 1775.

126. II. Zadoc, b. Oct. 10, 1785.

69. V. 36. SPENCER[5] LYON [Lemuel,[4] Peter,[3] Peter,[2] Peter[1]] was born in Walpole, Mass., April 8, 1757, and died in Woodford, Vt., Dec. 26, 1827. He married Mary Barney, daughter of Elisha and Polly Barney. She was born in 1758 and died Nov. 7, 1840, ae. 82.

Spencer is mentioned in Soldiers and Sailors as of Stoughtonham, and again as of Taunton. Late in life he removed to Woodford, Vt., where he d. aged 70 yrs. 8 mo. 15 da. The death records of Spencer and Mary are from the gravestones, and the data concerning his descendants were furnished by Mr. Chas. G. Davis, of Whitehall, N. Y., and Mr. Linus E. Fuller, of New York City.

Children of Spencer and Mary (Barney) Lyon:

*127. I. Barney.

*128. II. Elisha, b. 1795; m. 1st about 1817, Rhoda Cutler; d. Feb. 3, 1836.

129. III. Spencer.
130. IV. Lydia.
131. V. Polly.
132. VI. Hannah.
133. VII. Fanny, b. about 1779; m. ——— 1799, Obadiah Eddy; d. April 30, 1869.
134. VIII. Sally.
135. IX. Melinda.

72. V. 37. JACOB[5] LYON [Benjamin,[4] Peter,[3] Peter,[2] Peter[1]] was born in Dorchester, Oct. 12, 1754, and died in Wellesley, Jan. 3, 1829. He married, Nov., 1775, Jerusha, daughter of Timothy and Mindwell (Ingraham) Tucker. She was born Oct. 9, 1757, and died in Milton, Oct. 6, 1840 (G. R.).

Jacob resided for the greater part of his life in Milton, where all his children were born, except Jesse, who was born while his parents were visiting in Providence. By occupation he was a currier, and the events of his life present nothing out of the common. He began his military career by acting as fifer for the Dorchester men at Bunker Hill. His subsequent enlistments are given in Soldiers and Sailors: "Jacob Lyon, Milton, fifer, Capt. Geo. Gould's Company, Col. Paul Sargeant's Regiment, muster, Aug. 1, 1775; enlisted May 30, 1775; service 2 mo. 7 da. Appears in order for a bounty coat or equivalent in money on account of this service; dated Cambridge Camp, Nov. 29, 1775. Also in descriptive list of men raised in Suffolk Co., 1779, to serve in the Continental Army, Capt. Bradley's Co., age 24, stature 5 ft. 4 in., complexion dark; engaged for town of Milton, delivered to Ensign Edward White. Also in list of men returned as received of Major Stephen Badlam, Supt. for Suffolk Co., by Justin Ely, Com'r. at Springfield, Sept. 20, 1779. Also in descriptive list of men raised to reinforce the Continental Army for the term of 6 mo., agreeable to resolve of June 5, 1780, returned as received of Justin Ely, Com'r. by Gen. John Glover at Springfield, July 31, 1780; age 25, stature 5 ft. 5 in.; complexion ruddy; engaged for the town of Milton; arrived at Springfield, July 29, 1780, marched to camp July 31, 1780, under command of Capt. Greenleaf. Also, private, on pay roll for 6 mo. men raised by town of Milton for service in the Continental Army in 1780, marched July 30, 1780, discharged Dec. 15, 1780; service 4 mo. 27 da., including 11 da. (220 mi.) travel home. Also, Jacob Loin, Milton, in list of men raised for 6 mo. service, and return by Gen. Paterson as having passed muster in a return dated Camp Totoway, Oct. 25, 1780.

Doubtless he was one of the Bunker Hill veterans who were driven in carriages to the Bunker Hill celebration in 1825 to give eclat to Daniel Webster's First Oration. He died Jan. 3, 1829, in the Solomon Flagg house in Wellesley, and was buried in the family lot of his son Peter, at that place.

Children of Jacob and Jerusha (Tucker) Lyon, born in Milton (T. R.):

*136. I. Peter, b. Nov. 11, 1776; m. 1st April 18, 1797, Louisa Spring; d. Nov. 18, 1863.

*137. II. Elisha, b. Sept. 29, 1778; m. 1st Dec. 18, 1800, Sally Brown; d. May 14, 1862.

*138. III. Seth, b. Jan. 22, 1781; m. March 26, 1807, Eliza Williams; d. Sept. 27, 1857.

*139. IV. Lemuel, b. Feb. 16, 1783; m. April 19, 1810, Thankful Damon; d. April 13, 1848.

*140. V. Reuben, b. Nov. 7, 1785; m. Abigail ———; d. Dec. 18, 1851.

*141. VI. Amos, b. Jan. 24, 1788; m. (int. March 29, 1806) Abigail Greenwood (Newton); d. March 21, 1861.

*142. VII. Jesse, b. March 13, 1790; m. Feb. 11, 1817, Mehitable Frost; d. Nov., 1864.

143. VIII. Susanna Tucker, b. March 1, 1793; not m.; d. March 26, 1865 (M. Cem.).

144. IX. Charles Humphrey, b. Sept. 26, 1795; m. in Paterson, N. J.

73. V. 37. BENJAMIN[5] LYON [Benjamin,[4] Peter,[3] Peter,[2] Peter[1]] was born in Dorchester, Dec. 15, 1756, and died in that place July 18, 1842 (G. R.). He married first, Oct. 15, 1778, Mrs. Ann Blackman (D). She died April 30, 1779 and he married second, Nov. 24, 1780, Mrs. Elizabeth Glover (D).

Benjamin was a soldier in the Revolution. His record in Soldiers and Sailors is: Benjamin Lyon, Jr., private in Capt. John Robinson's Company, Col. Benj. Gill's Regiment, 5 da. in March, 1776. Company called out to guard the lines near Dorchester Heights. Also, same company and regiment, 12 da. at Dorchester, March, 1776, guarding stores at the mouth of Milton river. Benjamin appears with rank of private on muster and pay rolls of Capt. Seth Sumner's Company, Col. Gill's Regiment; enlisted June 12, 1776, service 3 da., ordered to march to Moon Island.

Children of Benjamin and Elizabeth (———) (Glover) Lyon, 1, 2 and 6 recorded in Dorchester, the others from "The Glover Family":

*145. I. Benjamin Glover, b. Aug. 4, 1781 (D); m. Jan. 13, 1805, Elizabeth Babcock.

146. II. Susanna Glover, b. March 26, 1783 (D); d. March 26, 1783.

147. III. Susanna, b. 1784; d. 1814.

148. IV. Asa, b. 1788; not m.; d. 1838.

149. V. Samuel, b. 1790; not m.; d. in New Orleans.

150. VI. Mary Clap, b. April 30, 1791 (D) [date given 1786 in Glover Fam.]; m. 1st Ichabod Frost; m. 2d Capt. Pierce, and m. 3d Capt. Nichols.

74. V. 37. THOMAS[5] LYON [Benjamin,[4] Peter,[3] Peter,[2] Peter[1]] was born in Dorchester, Mass., March 17, 1758, and died in that place Nov. 11, 1845 (G. R.). He married first, Dec. 3, 1778, Mrs. Sarah Pierce (D). She died Nov., 1798, and he married second, Sept. 22, 1799, Sarah Clap (D). She was born in 1754 and died Nov. 11, 1833, ae. 78 (D). He married third, in 1841, Sarah Clap, born 1794.

Thomas appears in Soldiers and Sailors as of Dorchester, in Capt. Seth Sumner's Company, Col. Gill's Regiment; and also as of Milton, service not mentioned, although the History of Dorchester states that he saw service at Squantum, Roxbury and Ticonderoga. His marital relations were peculiar, in that each of his three wives was named Sarah, and that his third venture occurred at the ripe age of 83. His widow m. Josiah Davenport, of Needham.

His children recorded in Dorchester were:

151. I. Sally, b. June 12, 1781; d. Aug. 27, 1811.
152. II. Thomas, b. July 24, 1783.
153. III. Polly, b. March 6, 1785.
154. IV. Patty, b. 1788.
155. V. Lemuel, b. Dec., 1790.

84. V. 38. ALPHEUS[5] LYON [Eliab,[4] Peter,[3] Peter,[2] Peter[1]] was born in Walpole, Mass., May 25, 1760, and died in Feb. 1825. He married (int. March 17, 1782) Lucy, daughter of Aaron and Mehitable Blake (W). She was born March, 1761, and died in April, 1835.

Alpheus appears in Soldiers and Sailors as of Wrentham. His brother, Isaiah, enlisted from Walpole. Hurd's Norfolk County says that he and Eliab were in Jeremiah Smith's Company. While he was leading a scouting party, he was killed by Indians, and his death was considered so much a cause for rejoicing that they cut off his head, set it on a pole, and held a victory dance about it. After the death of Isaiah, his captain (then Captain Day) sent for Alpheus, gave him his brother's gun and powder horn, which by good fortune had been recovered, and Alpheus served then for three years. The gun and horn are still in possession of his descendants.

In 1785 Alpheus removed to Readfield, Me., where he spent the remainder of his life. The records of his family were obtained from Mrs. Wm. D. Lewis, of Camden, Me. His first child is recorded in Walpole.

Children of Alpheus and Lucy (Blake) Lyon:

156. I. Sena, b. Aug. 26, 1782; d. June, 1851.
157. II. Elon, b. March, 1784; d. Aug., 1851.

158. III. Lucy, b. Feb., 1786; d. Aug., 1850. m - Joliet,
159. IV. Mehitable, b. Jan., 1788; d. Sept., 1791.
*160. V. Alpheus, b. Augusta, Me., Nov., 1790; m. Nov. 14, 1820, Mary Evans; d. 1885.
161. VI. Fancy, b. Oct., 1793; d. Sept., 1800.
162. VII. Sylvia, b. June, 1796; d. Nov., 1856.
163. VIII. Delpha, b. Dec., 1798; d. Sept., 1800.
164. IX. Olivia, b. April, 1801.
165. X. Jefferson Blake, b. June, 1802.

85. V. 38. ELIAB[5] LYON [Eliab,[4] Peter,[3] Peter,[2] Peter[1]] was born in Walpole, March 18, 1763. He married Rachel Foote.

Children of Eliab and Rachel (Foote) Lyon (Winslow Fam.):

166. I. Polly.
167. II. Sally.
168. III. Susan.
169. IV. Eliab.
170. V. Rachel.

87. V. 38. SQUIRE[5] LYON [Eliab,[4] Peter,[3] Peter,[2] Peter[1]] was born in Walpole, May 11, 1767. He married Betsey Wheeler.

Children of Squire and Betsey (Wheeler) Lyon (Winslow Fam.):

171. I. Samuel.
172. II. Margaret.
173. III. Katherine.
174. IV. Squire.§

§In "The Burgess Family" it is recorded that Squire Lyon married Cynthia Burgess, born 1804. Children: 1. James; 2. Joanna; 3. Danforth; 4. Betsey; 5. Mary; 6. William; res. Augusta, Me.

*181. VI. William, b. June 15, 1815; m. 1st Aug. 20, 1840, Elizabeth Lovell.

*182. VII. James W., b. July 20, 1817; m. April 18, 1843, Hester Nichols.

183. VIII. Elizabeth, b. Dec. 27, 1819; m. Dec. 17, 1837, John Jones, Charlestown, Mass.

92. V. 38. TABER[5] LYON [Eliab,[4] Peter,[3] Peter,[2] Peter[1]]. The only information obtained is that he married Abigail Caldwell.

Their children, according to "The Winslow Family" were:

184. I. Emilia.
185. II. Abigail.
186. III. Taber.
187. IV. Syrena.
188. V. Harrison.
189. VI. Eliza.
190. VII. Sylvina.

95. V. 47. ELHANAN[5] LYON [Elhanan,[4] Elhanan,[3] Peter,[2] Peter[1]] was born in Stoughton, Mass., April 14, 1735, and died about 1770. He married, in Stoughton, Oct. 10, 1757, Rebecca Belcher.

This extract from "Worcester Co. Warnings" gives some knowledge of the movements of Elhanan: "Warned at Spencer, Elhanan Lyon and wife Rebecca, and children Samuel Belcher, Rebecca, Mary and Hannah from Stoughton, Sept. 1765; dated Jan. 6, 1767." Such warnings did not necessarily indicate that the warned might not prove to be acceptable citizens, but they were given as a measure of precaution, that subsequent proceedings against them, if necessary, might have legal force. That such was not considered necessary in Elhanan's case is shown by Worcester Probate Records: "Will of Elhanan Lyon, of Spencer, dated Feb. 1, 1768, proved July 9, 1770, housewright; to his children Samuel Belcher, Rebecca, Mary and Hannah £2 each; to his wife Rebecca, administratrix, all his real estate in trust for his children."

Elhanan is reported as having been a member of Capt. Hamant's company, Col. Saltonstall's regiment, in the Crown Point expedition; enrolled from Stoughton, July 20, 1762, aged 27. [See H. G. R. 56]. After the death of Elhanan, the family returned to Dorchester.

Children of Elhanan and Rebecca (Belcher) Lyon, recorded in Stoughton:

*191. I. Samuel Belcher, b. Nov. 17, 1758; m. 1st July 20, 1783, Mary Vose; d. May 25, 1820.

192. II. Rebecca, b. March 27, 1761; m. (?) May 7, 1778, Joshua Gay (St.-Ded.).

193. III. Mary, b. March 26, 1763; m. (?) Dec. 14, 1780, Elijah Smith (St).

194. IV. Hannah, b. April 5, 1765; m. Sept. 9, 1780, John S. Crehore (D).

97. V. 47. DAVID[5] LYON [Elhanan,[4] Elhanan,[3] Peter,[2] Peter[1]] was born in Stoughton, Mass., April 11, 1739. He married in that place, Sept. 13, 1759, Abigail Belcher.

David was listed on the Alarm Roll April 19, 1775, as Lieutenant of the 1st Stoughton Company, and later served in the Revolution. He is styled 1st Lieutenant in Soldiers and Sailors. He was also in Capt. Hamant's Crown Point expedition; enrolled 1762 at Stoughton, aged 22. [See Elhanan, No. 95.] It is possible that he is the David who with wife Abigail, sells lands in Dedham at various times during 1794 to 1798, and is styled "of Westmoreland" in Suffolk Deeds. According to the Dedham church records, a David and wife Abigail were dismissed to Hinsdale, March 29, 1789.

His children, recorded in Stoughton, were:

195. I. William, b. June 23, 1760.
196. II. Abigail, b. July 4, 1773.
197. III. David, b. Aug. 13, 1780.

118. VI. 57. ASA[6] LYON [Barzillai,[5] Nathaniel,[4] Nathaniel,[3] Nathaniel,[2] Peter[1]] was born Jan. 4, 1774, and lived in Hubbardston. He married, Dec. 5, 1799, Attarah Grimes, of Hubbardston. She died May 2, 1846.

Children of Asa and Attarah (Grimes) Lyon:

*198. I. Dana, b. June 11, 1801.
199. II. Pliny, b. March 10, 1803; d. May 17, 1813.
200. III. Asa Jr., b. Nov. 24, 1806; d. May 25, 1838.
*201. IV. Aaron, b. Aug. 24, 1808.
202. V. Amible, b. July 29, 1810; d. Aug. 22, 1813.
203. VI. Amible, b. Sept. 12, 1813.
*204. VII. Joseph, b. March 20, 1817; d. Boston, Sept. 15, 1870.
205. VIII. Lucy, b. July 28, 1823; d. Shirley, June 18, 1851.

127. VI. 69. BARNEY[6] LYON [Spencer,[5] Lemuel,[4] Peter,[3] Peter,[2] Peter[1]] was born about 1780. He removed about 1812 or 1815 from Brattleboro, Vt., to Whipple Hollow, near Rutland, Vt., and was buried there.

His children were:

*206. I. William, b. 1806; d. Glen Falls, April 26, 1893.
207. II. Hannah; m. ——— Grinnell; rem. to Warrensburg, N. Y.

208. III. Sybil; m. Charles Thornton; rem. to Kingsbury, N. Y.
209. IV. Myron.
*210. V. Bradford; m. Cornelia Segur; d. Denver, Colo., July, 1879.

128. VI. 69. ELISHA[6] LYON [Spencer,[5] Lemuel,[4] Peter,[3] Peter,[2] Peter[1]] was born in Woodford, Vt., in 1795, and died in 1836. He married first, about 1817, Rhoda Cutler, daughter of Josiah and Betsey (Allen) Cutler, born in Marlboro, Vt., May 23, 1796; died in Woodford, June 30, 1829. He married second, December, 1829, Sally Cutler, sister of his first wife. He died in Bennington, Vt., Feb. (2 or) 3, 1836, and his widow married (March 14, 1849) Leonard Benton.

Children of Elisha and Rhoda (Cutler) Lyon:

211. I. Sophronia, b. 1819; d. Aug. 8, 1820, aged 14 mo.
212. II. Emily, b. 1820; d. April 30, 1822, aged 20 mo.

218. VIII. Zadoc; d. young.
219. IX. Mary; d. young.

136. VI. 72. PETER[6] LYON [Jacob,[5] Benjamin,[4] Peter,[3] Peter,[2] Peter[1]] was born in Milton, Mass., Nov. 11, 1776, and died Nov. 18, 1863. He married first, April 18, 1797, Louisa, daughter of Thaddeus and Lydia (Train) Spring (Weston); she died Nov. 10, 1804, aged 25, and he married second, March 16, 1805, Charlotte, dau. of Joseph and Elizabeth (Stratton) Seavearns (Weston).

Peter was a man of some note in his little world of Newton and Needham. At various periods and for many years he served as Surveyor of Highways, School Commissioner and Selectman. He was likewise a Justice of the Peace, and rejoiced in the title "Squire." By occupation he was a paper maker, as were all but two of his brothers; but he differed with them in religious belief, he being a staunch member of the Newton Baptist church. He died in Chaplin, Ct., at the age of 87, and his remains were removed to Needham, where they lie in W.

†Sophronia (No. 213) was the 2d wife of Lemuel Fuller their only son, Linus E. Fuller, is at present living at the Plaza Hotel, New York City.

Needham cemetery, near those of his father, Jacob. Of him the Boston Post offers this obituary:

"The mention of the recent decease of Peter Lyon, Esq., formerly a paper manufacturer at Newton Lower Falls, will revive a multitude of most pleasant reminiscences in the minds of many persons in Boston and vicinity. Mr. Lyon was truly a gentleman of the Old School. His family mansion in Needham was the abode of hospitality for a long course of years, and a place where the clergy of the entire neighborhood ever found a warm welcome. There we used to meet Father Grafton, Dr. Homer, the good Dr. Sharp, Rev. Thomas Noyes, and others of the old-time ministers, who set before their parishes examples of true Christian charity. The domestic circle of Mr. Lyon was large, and his hospitality without stint or grudging. He used to make the paper for Major Ben Russell's "Sentinel," for the late Joseph T. Buckingham's "Galaxy," and for the "Courier" for a long number of years. About the year 1837 he purchased a tract of land of the late John Welles, in Eastern Connecticut, making a domestic paradise in the woods, and erecting his mills on the Natchaug river. Mr. Lyon was foremost in establishing the Meridian Lodge of Masons in Needham, of which he was for several years Master. He was 87 years and one week old at the time of his decease on the 18th, and leaves a large number of descendants to keep his memory alive in their affections."

His children, three by Louisa, and nine by Charlotte, are recorded in Needham:

220. I. Clarissa, b. July 1, 1797; m. Barney Hill, Gouldsboro, Me.

221. II. Mary, b. July 3, 1799; m. Oct., 1820, John Upton of Salem, Mass.; res. Cherryfield, Me.; one dau., Mary Louisa [b. Oct. 27, 1821; m. Dec. 25, 1844, Joseph P. Adams].

137. VI. 72. ELISHA[6] LYON [Jacob,[5] Benjamin,[4] Peter,[3] Peter,[2] Peter[1]] was born in Milton, Mass., Sept. 29, 1778, and died May 14, 1862. He married first, Dec. 18, 1800, Sally Brown (Needham). He married second, Oct. 21, 1809, Polly Brown (Needham).

At the age of 18 Elisha went to Roxbury and learned the hatter's trade; when aged 21, he established his business in Needham, being engaged in the manufacture of hats for nearly 40 years. He lived on Greendale avenue, later the home of his son Hiram. Lyon's bridge, between Needham and Dedham, was named for him. In 1834 his factory burned; he did not rebuild, but retired to his farm to enjoy the rest he had so well earned. He had taste and ability for public duties and his correct judgment and well-known integrity caused him to be selected to serve in public trusts for 30 years. In 1812 he commanded a company of minute men. Stalwart in frame, straightforward in conduct, pure in mind, he had that stern virtue which has proven New England's best inheritance from the mother country. He was deacon in the Universalist church for 23 years. He rose by perseverance, well-digested plans, and intelligent application of energy to the end in view, and died at the ripe age of 87 years.

Children of Elisha and Sally (Brown) Lyon:

138. VI. 72. SETH[6] LYON [Jacob,[5] Benjamin,[4] Peter,[3] Peter,[2] Peter[1]] was born in Milton, Mass., Jan. 22, 1781, and died Sept. 27, 1857. He married, March 26, 1807, Eliza Williams.

Seth, like his brothers, was a paper-maker, but later he was with his brother Peter, on the latter's farm. In old age he became blind. His wife was born in Lincoln, of Thomas and Hannah Williams, and d. Jan. 8, 1865, aged 79; both rest at St. Mary's, in Newton Lower Falls.

Children of Seth and Eliza (Williams) Lyon, recorded in Needham:

*239. I. Richard Williams, b. Feb. 18, 1808; m. Mary Ryder; d. Feb. 23, 1838 (Bridgewater Cem.).

139. VI. 72. LEMUEL[6] LYON [Jacob,[5] Benjamin,[4] Peter,[3] Peter,[2] Peter[1]] was born in Milton, Mass., Feb. 16, 1783, and died March 13, 1843. He married, April 19, 1810, Thankful Damon, of Scituate, born Oct. 20, 1783; died Dec. 16, 1859.

Lemuel, unlike his brothers, did not enter upon the business of paper-making. He learned the trade of chair-making; but the bent of his mind was strongly mechanical, and he became a gunsmith. Like most of Jacob's line, he joined the Masonic fraternity. In 1828 he held the office of Collector. He lived in a house still, or recently, standing on the easterly side of Walnut street, near the Lower Falls Bridge. His wife was born in Scituate, and died in Needham; they both rest in St. Mary's cemetery, at the Falls.

Children of Lemuel and Thankful (Damon) Lyon, all born in Needham:

*245. I. William, b. Jan. 31, 1811; m. May 7, 1840, Julia A. Boyd; d. April 8, 1892.

249. V. Nancy, b. Oct. 27, 1819; m. Capt. John D. Blanchard; 2 ch.

250. VI. Mary Jane, b. July 16, 1824; m. Francis Curtis; 4 ch.

140. VI. 72. REUBEN[6] LYON [Jacob,[5] Benjamin,[4] Peter,[3] Peter,[2] Peter[1]] was born in Milton, Mass., Nov. 7, 1785, and died in that place Dec. 18, 1851. He married, in Bridgewater, Mass., Abigail ———.

Reuben did not leave Milton, as did his brothers, but lived and died there. "Reuben Lyon's house is the old Brush Hill school house enlarged; it stood near the road, and its location is indicated by fine old English elms growing there, which were planted by Governor Robbins when he owned the land."—Teale's Milton. The spot is at the northern corner of the intersection of the Brush Hill road and William street.

Children of Reuben and Abigail (———) Lyon, recorded in Milton:

251. I. Mary Willis, b. July 16, 1810; m. Nov. 22, 1832, Jonathan Willis (M).

252. II. Catherine Manley, b. Sept. 8, 1813.

253. III. Charles Reuben, b. Oct. 10, 1816; d. March 6, 1820 (M).

254. IV. Susan Abigail, b. Sept. 2, 1819; m. Jan. 22, 1838, Nathaniel Hinds of Needham (M).

255. V. Clarissa Dalie, b. April 23, 1822; m. Oct. 28, 1842, Silas Dole (M).

256. VI. Charles Reuben, b. Sept. 11, 1827, in Canton; m. Nov. 24, 1861, Zelphia Jane Carr, who was b. Stoughton, Oct. 1, 1837.

257. VII. Lydia Ann, b. July 23, 1829; m. ——— Felton.

141. VI. 72. AMOS[6] LYON [Jacob,[5] Benjamin,[4] Peter,[3] Peter,[2] Peter[1]] was born in Milton, Jan. 24, 1788, and died March 21, 1861. He married, in 1805, Abigail, daughter of Isaac and Abigail (Jackson) Greenwood, born Sept. 28, 1786 (Hist. Dublin, N. H.), died Feb. 13, 1870 (G. R.).

Amos was born and reared in Milton. His elder brothers having taken up the trade of paper-making, he also was attracted to that pursuit, and in the search for available water-power sites, he seems to have resided in several towns. Exact knowledge of his movements is not now attainable, but from the birth records of his children, it is inferred that in 1805 he was in Dublin, N. H., where he met his bride, a member of the influential Jackson and Greenwood families of Newton, whose father was then residing there. In 1808-10 he was in Middlebury, Vt., from 1812-27 at Newton Lower Falls. At the latter place he built a paper mill in 1822, but was later connected with his brother Jesse, who had the paper mill in Dorchester, on the Neponset, 1829-43. This mill was sold to a chocolate firm, and Amos went to Lowell, Jesse to Fitchburg. In 1855 he was living in Boston, occupying a house in Washington village, S. Boston, where he died, aged 73.

Amos was a man of stern morals, and of strong religious convictions. It is related of him that, having several pretty and otherwise attractive daughters, he was accustomed to take advantage of the frequent presence of the young Newtonians at his home to appear before the impatient assemblage with an armful of Bibles; after a proper season of religious devotion, the good old man would retire, leaving the young people to find other means of enjoying the evening till a specified time, which one may judge was not unduly prolonged. He was for several years a deacon in old St. Mary's Episcopal church, and an original member of the Savings Institution of the Newton Temperance Society 1829, now become the Savings Bank of Newton. He was also a member of the Masonic fraternity, and an enthusiastic Knight Templar. Like all of his line, ever ready to defend his native land against a foe, he was one of those who, fortunately without active service, held the lines at Dorchester Heights.

Mentally he was in many ways superior to many who had had far better educational facilities in youth. His library was well stocked; but as one would naturally expect, it consisted chiefly of books of a religious and historical nature, containing nothing lighter than the Spectator, Guardian and Tattler, of which he had complete sets. He was much interested in the slavery question, but did not live to hear the first shot fired in defense of his cherished principles, as he died just before the attack on Ft. Sumter. His remains were taken to old St. Mary's and there interred, and by his side now rests his well-beloved wife.

259. VII. 141. MORTIMER[7] LYON [Amos,[6] Jacob,[5] Benjamin,[4] Peter,[3] Peter,[2] Peter[1]] was born in Middlebury, Vt., Sept. 12, 1808, and died in San Francisco, Cal., Dec., 7, 1887. He married in Newton, April 19, 1829, Lucy Heminway Scollay. Mortimer was engaged in business in Boston, later in Baltimore. In the early 70's he removed to Providence, but attracted by the glowing accounts of business opportunities on the Pacific slope, he removed his family to San Francisco, where he had much success.

Children of Mortimer and Lucy H. (Scollay) Lyon, according to family records:

368. I. Lucy Amanda, b. Nov. 28, 1830 (Needh.); d. March 28, 1832.†

369. II. Henry Mortimer, b. June 11, 1832 (Needh.); d. March 3, 1836.†

370. III. Emily, b. Feb. 13, 1835; m. in Boston, April 3, 1851, Benjamin French§; 4 children.

371. IV. Howard, b. July 9, 1837 (Needh.); m. in Boston, Jan. 1, 1860, Anna E. Wilson; d. Boston, Oct. 23, 1861 (B).

372. V. Heber Chase, b. Sept. 22, 1841 (Needh.).

268. VII. 141. GEORGE WILLIAM[7] LYON [Amos,[6] Jacob,[5] Benjamin,[4] Peter,[3] Peter,[2] Peter[1]] was born Oct. 10, 1825 (Newton) and died Dec. 27, 1896. He married first in Newton (T. R.), Oct. 17, 1845, Mehitable G. Ashby, who was born in Salem, Mass., daughter of Benjamin and Joanna Ashby. She died Aug. 9, 1846, ae. 20 (G. R. St. Mary's Cem.). He married second, June, 1849, Caroline, daughter of Jonathan and Eliza (Timson) Cushing, b. Boston, June 5, 1830.

George received his education at the Newton Academy, and afterward aided his father in the paper mill. The death of his wife and the removal of his father left him without strong ties to the Falls, and the discovery of gold in California was therefore not without effect upon the roving spirit always strong in those of Lyon blood. embarked in a small brig for a trip around the Horn to the Land of Promise. During a short stay at St. Thomas, while the passengers were viewing a procession of the Host, they were set upon by the populace, enraged by their refusing, with Puritan loftiness, to kneel before the sacred emblem; and George narrowly escaped death from a blow upon the head, the scar of which he bore to his dying day. Aside from this incident, the voyage was uneventful for him, and soon after arrival at San Francisco, he began to gather in his harvest of gold. Having acquired a quantity of the precious metal sufficient to relieve him of any fear of future want, he left the camp. But on his way down the mountains, he contracted a fever of a typhoid nature, and upon recovery, he learned with dismay that every ounce had disappeared, and that grinding toil was again to be his portion, ere he could see again the lights of home. With heavy heart he labored to obtain enough to pay his way back to civilization, and returned to Boston with little more than a California bowie, a few choice nuggets, and the somewhat doubtful glory of having been an "Argonaut of '49."

Being a man of varied resources, he became an engineer. At this time he lived in the city, where his first children were born. Later, he occupied the famous old "Haunted House at Watertown;" but in 1859 he removed to Washington Village, South Boston, near his father, and here his youngest child was born. The Civil War breaking out, there was an urgent call for skilled men from the Middle West, and he became associated with the leather belting firm of Walter Gow & Co., of Cincinnati, but soon removed his residence to Covington, Ky. In the early 70's the old firm was merged into the firm of Kendall & Lyon; but in 1884, George retired from business, going to Satsuma Heights, Fla., to spend his last days. Somewhat broken in health, he succumbed to an attack of angina pectoris, and his great, loving heart was stilled forever.

Rejected, on physical grounds, by both Massachusetts and Ohio, he did not enter military service during the war, but he served for a short time in the Home Guard during the Morgan Raid. In political belief, he was an Old Line Whig, but later leaned toward the Republican party, though in no sense was he ever a partisan. Though reared in the Episcopal faith, he was strongly attracted to the Baptist doctrine, was baptized, and remained a consistent member to the end.

Personally, George lacked many of the distinguishing Lyon traits. He was by no means aggressive, and while not credulous, he was easily moved to sympathy, often to his own harm. He was quiet and unassuming, inclined toward silence; but his congenial spirit, his love of humor, his kindly wit always devoid of sting, his lovable nature, made him an enjoyable companion, and no excursion of Covington Commandery, K. T., was complete without the presence of "Pap"; while his tactical knowledge and soldierly qualities often gained him an invitation to join the pilgrimages of a famous marching commandery of Cincinnati. Joining the Masonic fraternity in 1866, he became one of the best informed Masons of the state; he was for some years Master of his lodge, and was also E. C. of his commandery. After his death, his remains were brought to Covington, where they were interred with Masonic honors; and with the last sprig of resurrection green there was removed from earthly view a loving husband, indulgent father, devoted friend and Christian gentleman. Judged by the rule of man, he fell short of success; measured by the mete-wand of Heaven, he walked with God.

344. VIII. 227. EDGAR B.[8] LYON [John W.,[7] Peter,[6] Jacob,[5] Benjamin,[4] Peter,[3] Peter,[2] Peter[1]] was born in Taunton, (?) Mass., about 1842. He settled in Dayton, O., where he married, April 4, 1866, Ella M., daughter of Josiah and Ella Broadwell.

Children of Edgar B. and Ella M. (Broadwell) Lyon, born in Dayton, Ohio:

386a. I. Ella Hagar, b. Dec. 30, 1866.

386b. II. Sarah Broadwell, b. Feb. 17, 1868.

346. VIII. 234. ISRAEL WHITNEY[8] LYON [Lemuel,[7] Elisha,[6] Jacob,[5] Benjamin,[4] Peter,[3] Peter,[2] Peter[1]] was born in Needham, Mass., April 27, 1827. He married in Stockton, Calif., June 30, 1856, Sarah Penniman Hutchinson, of Boston.

Israel was educated at the Needham town school, and at Kimball's Academy. He was in Boston in 1840 in his father's store. Later he served as bookkeeper in the stationery store of Oliver Holman on State St., remaining with that firm until 1851. During that year, he embarked on the clipper "Flying Cloud" for California with his sisters Sarah and Ellen. In 1855 he entered the office of Warren & Ellis, of Stockton, and studied dentistry, which profession he practiced at Mokolumne Hill until 1865, when he removed to New York city, where he took a graduate course in the New York Dental College. In 1886 he retired from the active pursuit of his profession, in order to develop the manufacture of his Perfect Tooth Powder, which has since become so famous throughout the world. His factory was then on Dey St., but the increasing demand for this indispensable article rendered necessary increased facilities for its production, and the result is the commodious building at 520 W. 27th St.

Israel is a man of strong convictions. In political opinion he is a Republican; in religious belief, a Universalist. He was at one time superintendent of the Sunday school of Dr. Starr King's church in San Francisco. Earnest, straightforward and honorable in business, he is reaping the just reward of a well-spent life, and though he still gives his firm the benefit of personal supervision, he can yet enjoy each week some hours of elegant leisure at his comfortable home in Englewood, N. Y.

Children of Israel W. and Sarah P. (Hutchinson) Lyon:

388. II. Emma Whitney, b. July 7, 1859; d. 1861.

389. III. Whitney, b. Dec. 4, 1862; m. June 6, 1894, Agnes Schmonsees.

363. VIII. 246. HENRY WARE[8] LYON [Henry,[7] Lemuel,[6] Jacob,[5] Benjamin,[4] Peter,[3] Peter,[2] Peter[1]] was born Nov. 8, 1845 (Charlestown). He married, Oct. 23, 1883, Lilla S. Manton, of Uruguay, S. Am.

An article in a Boston newspaper, written on the occasion of his appointment to the command of the famous Olympia, gives a succinct account of his life and services. We reproduce it in abridged form:—

Captain Henry Ware Lyon was educated in the Charlestown schools, leaving the High School in senior year, 1862, to enter the Naval Academy. In 1864 he volunteered to spend a short leave of absence in active service, and was with the Dacotah in her search for the Tallahassee. He was Ensign 1868, Master 1870, Lt. Commander 1884, Commander 1893, Captain 1900. On shore duty, he has been stationed at the New York and Boston Navy Yards, the South Boston Iron Works, the Newport Torpedo Station, and Colt's factory, Hartford. At sea, he has served on the Sacramento, 1866-7, China Station; the Richmond and the Wabash, 1868-73, European Station; the Franklin, 1873-4, West Indies; the Tennessee, 1875-7, East Indies; the Galena, 1880-3, European and South America; the Trenton and the Nipsic, 1887-90, S. Pacific; he was on the Yantic at the Rio de la Plata; and in 1898-9, he commanded the Dolphin; in 1901, he was assigned to the celebrated Olympia. [He was afterward stationed at the Portsmouth Navy Yard, and now (1904) commands the Hawaiian Station at Honolulu.]

Capt. Lyon is the only officer in our navy who has had the experience of three wrecks. His first was while midshipman on the Sacramento off the coast of India. His second was more memorable. In 1889, during the strained relations between the United States, England and Germany over Samoa, he was executive officer of the flagship on that station. While the warships of three nations lay with guns trained upon each other, the well-remembered hurricane of 1889 struck the islands. Then occurred an event which called forth the admiration of the world, and which, as an incentive to brotherly feeling between the sailors of the two countries, has probably never been surpassed. Every ship on that station was in extreme peril, but H. M. S. Calliope, having powerful engines, was enabled to pass out to sea between the reef and the Trenton. As she passed, the Americans hailed her success with a hearty seaman's cheer. One can understand the feeling with which the English responded, when he reflects that almost immediately the Trenton was swept ashore. Capt. Lyon's part therein is told in verse by J. Blumenbeck of the Trenton, prefaced "To Lt. Com'dr. Henry Ware Lyon, who on the lower decks of the Trenton, when the battle with the elements raged fiercest and hardest, inspirited the men with his own courageous bearing and loyal determination to persevere in their efforts to save the ship, this tale is respectfully dedicated." The Trenton was floated; and though her rudder post, keel and skag were gone, and her screw twisted and almost useless, the crew volunteered to take her to Honolulu under command of Capt. Lyon. The story of her run is one of the traditions of the Navy, and Capt. Lyon received high compliments from the Department for his remarkable performance.

During the Spanish War, the character of his ship, the Dolphin, did not allow him to share in engagements, but he did good service in picking up torpedoes and mines, and in aiding the marines in getting their first footing on Cuban soil. The Dolphin took more prizes than any other ship in the squadron.

Capt. "Harry" is noted as a good story teller, and many of his tales have become classic. He has never resorted to political pulls to get assignments, but his peculiar qualifications have largely influenced the nature of his service. Judging from his ancestry and his own past, one may be very sure that, should occasion arise, Capt. Henry Ware Lyon would not be behind any on the world's list of famous men in loyal devotion to his service and his country, and in successful accomplishment of his duty. His home is Lyon's Den, at Paris, Me.

Son of Henry Ware and Lilla S. (Manton) Lyon:

377. VIII. 268. GEORGE WILLIAM AMOS[8] LYON [George W.,[7] Amos,[6] Jacob,[5] Benjamin,[4] Peter,[3] Peter,[2] Peter[1]] was born within sight of the storied Common, but at an early age removed with his father to Covington, Ky., where he witnessed the exciting scenes attendant upon the Kirley Smith and John Morgan raids of the 60's. In 1872, he entered Yale as a member of the famous class of '76. After graduation, he matriculated at the Ohio Medical College, and gained his M. D. in 1800. He practiced his profession for three years in Cincinnati, being for a short time assistant to the chair of Physiology in Cincinnati Medical College; but finding himself unsuited to the work, he took up that field of work for which he was pre-eminently fitted. Since 1885 he has been teaching, chiefly in college and preparatory school, and is now a master in the Blight School, Philadelphia. Having made it his practice to mingle with men of every class, and to learn what anyone had to teach him, he might claim to be a fair mechanic, pilot, draughtsman and lawyer.

He followed his father in adopting the Baptist faith; but in politics, having no settled belief, he made, in 1876, a thorough search into the subject from the bases of general constitutional and political history and of economics, and chose as his political principles the doctrines of Strict Construction, Free Trade, and "Hard Money," and from these principles he has never swerved.

He married in Portsmouth, O., one of his seminary pupils, Alpatia Othella, daughter of Nelson G. and Kate (Carr) Morse, of Vanceburg, Ky. He is without issue.

383. VIII. 282. EDWARD EVANS[8] LYON [Charles E.,[7] Alpheus,[6] Alpheus,[5] Eliab,[4] Peter,[3] Peter,[2] Peter[1]] was born in Bangor, Me., July, 1853. He married Almeda Crosby, of Bangor.

Children of Edward E. and Almeda (Crosby) Lyon:

391. I. Alpheus Crosby, b. Aug. 16, 1880.
392. II. Mary Elsie, b. July 11, 1882.

387. IX. 346. EDWARD HOLDEN[9] LYON [Israel W.,[8] Lemuel,[7] Elisha,[6] Jacob,[5] Benjamin,[4] Peter,[3] Peter,[2] Peter[1]] was born in Stockton, Calif., April 13, 1857. Educated in public schools and in Yonkers (N. Y.) Military Academy. He was actively connected twelve years with the American Bell Telephone Company at Boston and with Thomas A.

Edison in development of long distance telephony. He is now a member of the firm of I. W. Lyon & Sons, proprietors of "Lyon's Tooth Powder." He resides during the summer at Englewood, N. J. Winter address, 453 West 24th St., New York City.

He was married in Brooklyn, N. Y., June 5, 1880, to Fannie Collins Dinsmore, daughter of James P. and Emily (Bickford) Dinsmore, of Brooklyn. She died Oct. 29, 1901. He married second, March 16, 1903, Estella Bishop.

Children of Edward H. and Fannie C. (Dinsmore) Lyon:

393. I. Romola, b. Dec. 13, 1883.
394. II. Ralph, b. Aug. 14, 1886.
395. III. Horace Dinsmore, b. Oct. 6, 1888.
396. IV. Ruth, b. June 3, 1892; d. Jan. 4, 1896.

The incompleteness of the records as to births, marriages and deaths renders it impossible to place accurately some names which do appear upon the registers. A few of these, which should be classed with Peter's descendants, or in some cases with those of George, are here catalogued, in the hope that some day they may be properly assigned:—

Ann, m. May 2, 1768, Benjamin Jardin, Jr. (St).
Cealia, m. Dec. 25, 1703, William Edwards (B). Cealia is possibly for Silence. See 66 note.

GEORGE LYON

OF DORCHESTER

[The family history compiled by G. W. A. Lyon, M. D., of Philadelphia, Pa.]

1. I. 1. GEORGE LYON, born in England; married Oct. 14, 1661, Hannah, daughter of Thomas and Sarah Tolman (D); he died Oct. 6, 1690; Hannah died Aug. 4, 1729 [Bible Record].

Of the birth or the ancestry of George, or of the date of his arrival in this country, nothing is positively known. The history of the Lyons of England indicates that he might have been of Essex origin, and this supposition is supported in some degree by the fact that his friend, William Blake, who subsequently married George's widow, was from Little Baddow, Co. Essex, near the home center of the Essex Lyons. Town records state that George Lyon was selectman 1645-7, 1661 and 1672; freeman 1666; Representative to the General Court 1680, 1683 and 1690. It is possible that the earlier records refer to a different George, quite possibly father of this one, and perhaps also father of the Thomas Lyon who was killed in King Philip's war.

George and Hannah were admitted to Dorchester Church 1668, and they joined the Milton church 1681. He lived on the Milton side of the Niponset River. In 1666 he bought the 19th lot, 32 acres, "beyond Neponset mill on Neponset river," and in the deed he is styled "husbandman." He added to this property by buying, in 1674, with his brother-in-law, James Tucker, "the 18th lot, 33¾ acres east of his lot between the highway on the south and the Neponset on the north." He owned also 10 lots in the New Grant. In 1672 he was "granted liberty to take 600 of rayles out of land south of Neponset river," also "to gitt fower loads of clobord out of the common swamp, at 700 by the load" [T. R.]. He is said to have "had a note to gve to James Bird or Thomas Tolman, constables for the year 1677, for 25s. 10d., and 16s. 8d. for James Tucker, which was their rate when they were in Dorchester" [T. R.].

He is recorded as having been paid at Milton, Aug. 23, 1676, for services at Punka-poag during King Philip's War, and his sons had subsequently some military experience against the French and Indians.

Note:—Town records are indicated by parentheses; (D), Dorchester; (M), Milton; (St), Stoughton; (W), Woodstock. Other records are from Bible register and family sources.

From the Probate Records it is learned that an inventory of the estate of George Lyon, late of Milton, by Ralph Houghton and Thomas Trott, Jr., March 17, 1690-1, was presented by his son George, administrator. House, barn and 57 acres of land, £160. Two acres of salt marsh, £17. A long list of stock, grain, tools and furniture is added. Total amt., £243 18s.

His widow m. Nov. 12, 1693, William Blake. She was bp. April 20, 1640 (D), and d. Aug. 4, 1729 (Blake's Annals). The expenses of her funeral are noted in the Bible of her son Thomas [q. v.]. Her will states that "for the parental love and affection I bear to my well-beloved son, Thomas Lion," she conveys to him "all my right and interest in the 10th lot on the 12 divisions in Dorchester, and other parcels of land which was the estate of my father, Thomas Tolman, of said Dorchester."

Children of George and Hannah (Tolman) Lyon, recorded in Milton:

*2. I. George, b. 16, 10 mo., 1662 (D); m. Feb. 14, 1687-8, Thankful Badcock (M); d. Oct. 26, 1694 (M).

*3. II. Thomas, b. 10, 1 mo., 1665 (D); m. Oct. 23, 1690, Joanna Payson (D); d. Feb. 9, 1750 (D).

*4. III. Henry, b. June 6, 1670 (M); d. Dec. 23, 1696.

5. IV. Hannah, b. Nov. 14, 1673 (M); bapt. 12, 2 mo., 1674; m. Feb. 25, 1690, Abijah Baker; she and her husband dismissed to Dorchester Jan. 30, 1713 (M. Chh.); later removed to Medfield (H. G. R. 43).

6. V. Edward, b. Sept. 22, 1678 (M); July 26, 1695, "Edward, aged about 17, son of George Lyon, late of Milton, chooses his brother Thomas as his guardian."

2. II. 1. GEORGE[2] LYON [George[1]] was born in Dorchester, Mass., Dec. 16, 1662, and died in Milton, Oct. 26, 1694. He married, Feb. 14, 1688, Thankful Badcock (Thatcher's Mil. Mar.). He succeeded his father in the management of the Milton estate. His widow Thankful was appointed his administrator, Aug. 1, 1695. Inventory given on the same day. She m. Aug. 6, 1701, Richard Smith, Sr., and the children were given over to their grandmother, Hannah, widow of George Lyon, Sr. The Probate Records state that "Thankful Smith, formerly Lyon, administratrix of George Lyon [Jr.] shall pay his mother, Hannah Blake, for bringing up four children." The estate of George was divided Aug. 30, 1711, and the four children, Preserved, Joanna, Hannah and Silence are mentioned. George was made freeman 1699.

Children of George and Thankful (Badcock) Lyon, recorded in Milton:

7. I. Preserved, b. Sept. 10, 1688; m. June 12, 1711, Joanna Vose; d. July 14, 1785.

8. II. Joanna, b. May 26, 1690; m. Dec. 25, 1712, John Sawin (M).
9. III. Hannah, b. Oct. 3, 1691.
10. IV. Silence, b. June 15, 1695.

3. II. I. THOMAS[2] LYON [George[1]] was born in Dorchester, March (?) 10, 1665 [bapt. 19, 2 mo., 1668 (D)] and died Feb. 9, 1750, ae. 86 y. (D). He married, Oct. 23, 1690, Joanna Payson, who died in Dorchester, Aug. 18, 1735. He was admitted to the Dorchester church, 1700. He served the town as constable, 1702. He was a proprietor of Ashburnham in right of his uncle Henry, but did not remove thither, probably on account of his property interests in Dorchester, which he derived from his grandfather, Thomas Tolman, through his mother. His Bible is extant, and in the possession of his descendants. The record pages thereof are here reproduced. The items are entered irregularly, and evidently by different hands:

4. II. 1. HENRY[3] LYON [George[1]] was born in Milton, Mass., June 6, 1670, and died in 1696. He was in Capt. John Withington's company in the Canada expedition and it is likely that he, like many others, including some of Peter Lyon's sons, died from the effects of their sufferings. His nephew Thomas, No. 15, was granted land in Dorchester, Canada (Ashburnham) "in right of his Uncle Henry" (Hist. Ashburnham). Jan. 7, 1696-7 Thomas Lyon, of Dorchester, was appointed administrator of the estate of his brother, Henry Lyon, of Dorchester, house carpenter, deceased. Inventory by Thomas Tolman and Samuel Webb, July 21, 1697. Amount, £46—5s. Account of Thomas Lyon, administrator of the estate of his brother Henry, late of Dorchester, house carpenter, deceased intestate, dated May 5, 1698. There is no record of a widow or heirs.

7. III. 2. PRESERVED[3] LYON [George,[2] George[1]] was born in Milton, Mass., Sept. 10, 1688, baptized 20, 11 mo., 1692 (M.) and died in Stoughton, July 14, 1785 (St.). He married June 12, 1711, Joanna Cran(e) (M.) [Joanna Vose (Rev. Peter Thatcher)]. She died Nov. 7, 1775, ae. 87 (St.). Preserved and Joanna were dismissed from Dorchester church to Milton, 1716; from Milton to Stoughton, 1735. He kept tavern in Canton for some time. It is said of him that at birth he was so small that he was put into a quart tankard, and the cover was closed over him; that a finger ring could be slipped up his arm as far as the shoulder. He lived to an advanced age, but evidently enjoyed life, since he remarked on his 95th birthday, "What, 95 years old, and not ready to go yet!"

The "old Lion house," says the History of Milton, "belonging to the descendants of Preserved, stood east of Timothy Tucker's house, near the house of Edward Finn. No trace remains." The spot is near the intersection of the Brush Hill road and Robbins street.

Preserved had a goodly number of children, but as all but one were girls, and as his only son died early, his male line is extinct.

Children of Preserved and Joanna (Crane) Lyon, recorded in Milton:

17. I. Ruth, b. March 13, 1711-2; bp. March 16, 1711-2; m. Oct. 10, 1736, Samuel Throop (St).

18. II. Jerusha, b. June 11, 1714; bp. 25, 5 mo., 1718; m. (int. April 3, 1766), John Wentworth§; d. April 13, 1791.

19. III. George, b. Jan. 27, 1715-6; bp. 3, 2 mo., 1716-7; d. Oct. 31, 1739 (St).

20. IV. Ann, b. May 22, 1718; bp. May 22, 1718.

21. V. Lydia, b. July 5, 1720; bp. July 10, 1720.

22. VI. Hannah, b. Dec. 7, 1721; bp. Dec. 10, 1721; m. Jan. 9, 1752, James Endicott (St).

23. VII. Mary,‡ b. May 21, 1723; bp. May 26, 1723; m. Feb. 1, 1744-5, William Jordan (St).

15. III. 3. THOMAS[3] LYON [Thomas,[2] George[1]] was born in Dorchester, Mass., May 20, 1701, and died in that place Oct. 15, 1774. All that we know of him is that he was tax collector in Dorchester in 1748. No record has been found of his marriage or any family. It seems unlikely that he remained a bachelor.

16. III. 3. HENRY[3] LYON [Thomas,[2] George[1]] was born in Dorchester, Mass., Aug. 29, 1703, and died in Woodstock, Conn., Dec. 23, 1769. He married first, in Woodstock, Conn., Jan. 26, 1732, Elizabeth Marcy, and second, Feb. 2, 1750, Sarah Trott (D.).

For some time nothing concerning Henry was generally known, beyond what is in the Dorchester records; but lately there turned up the old Bible belonging to Thomas Lyon, his father, which had been in the possession of Mrs. Stephen P. Webster, of Woodstock, Ct. Up to this time it had been assumed that all Woodstock Lyons were of the line of William of Roxbury. But from this Bible it was learned that this Henry had removed to Woodstock at a date not known, but which must have been before the date of his marriage there in 1731-2. It is extremely probable that he revisited Dorchester to attend his father in his last illness, and to receive the property left to him by will. It is likely that on this occasion he obtained possession of the old Bible. Incidentally, he took back with him one of Dorchester's fair daughters, for just before his father's death, it is recorded that Henry Lyon of Woodstock m. Sarah Trott. He d. in Woodstock, aged 66. Settlement of the estate of Henry Lyon, late of Woodstock, was made Feb. 16, 1770. George, his only son, ——— Eaton and Elizabeth, his wife, John Burroughs and Joanna his wife, daughters and heirs, are mentioned [Pomfret Records].

Asa was prominent in the affairs of his time, a Mason, and an educator of large interest in the schools and the church of the village. He was made deacon in 1832, and retained the office for the rest of his life. Referring to his eight children, who all lived to have families, he said, "I do not desire to accumulate money to leave to my children, but to give to each one such an upbringing as shall fit them to care for themselves, and to occupy positions of service to society." He lived to see his desire fulfilled. In 1863 he removed to Putnam, where he died. His wife came of a family of sturdy character and mind, and was herself a woman of great strength of mind and character. After his death she made her home with her son, Dr. E. B. Lyon, of New Britain, and with her daughter, Mrs. Mary L. Wright, of Plainville, and at the home of the latter she died, June 22, 1888.

MATTHEW LYON

OF VERMONT.

One of the most picturesque figures in the political world of America in the early days of the republic was that of Matthew Lyon, the redemtioner, aptly styled by a writer in the New England Magazine† the American Pym. Any account of the Lyon family in New England would be incomplete which did not include a sketch of the career of this remarkable man. His was an eventful and an influential life. Born in Ireland, Co. Wicklow, in 1746, he was brought to America a lad of fifteen, and sold (to pay his passage) to a farmer in Connecticut as an indentured servant. His purchaser is said to have sold him again to a new master for a yoke of oxen [a pair of stags, one account says] his new home being in what is now Vermont. After his years of service were finished he began a successful career of independent effort which soon made him a man not only of wealth but of great influence. At the outbreak of the Revolution he was commissioned a lieutenant of militia and on the approach of Sir Guy Carleton's raiders was sent to guard a fort on Lake Champlain. The fort was abandoned and the young lieutenant was sent to report the fact at headquarters, but was court-martialed on a charge of cowardice and cashiered. Later, however, he received a commission as colonel, having served as commissary in the army which captured Burgoyne. In 1778 he was appointed deputy secretary to Governor Chittenden, and so had opportunity to form the acquaintance of the governor's daughter, who later became his wife. He engaged successfully in various manufacturing enterprises, including an iron foundry, a saw mill and a paper mill. He was an ardent supporter of Jefferson and owned and edited the first "democratic" paper in Vermont, called "The Scourge of Aristocracy and Repository of Important Political Truths." In 1783 he founded the town of Fairhaven, and ten years later began the publication of "The Farmer's Library," a newspaper afterwards called "The Fairhaven Gazette."

In 1797 he was representative for Vermont. This was the beginning of a stormy political career which more than justifies the sobriquet above quoted, "American Pym," or that other one often applied to him by his opponents in derision "the roaring Lyon of Vermont."

†Article in the December (1904) issue, by Elbert D. Hayford.

Under the new Sedition Act, Lyon was arrested, tried, convicted and sentenced to four months' imprisonment and a fine of $1,000. He was vindicated, however, by re-election to Congress while yet in prison. He determined, however, to shake off the dust of ungrateful New England from his feet, and to begin life anew in the wilds of Kentucky. He settled there in what is now Lyon county, founded the first newspaper in the state, and soon was possessor of a large and flourishing plantation. In 1803 he was elected to Congress from Kentucky, representing his state four years with his usual vigor and contumacy. It was his casting vote that seated Jefferson in the White House.

At tne opening of the war of 1812 he resigned his seat in Congress to engage in the building of gunboats—and lost the fortune he had amassed in Kentucky. In 1817, having been appointed Indian agent for the Cherokees by President Monroe, he removed to Arkansas. In 1821 he was candidate for delegate to Congress from Missouri, but lacked twelve votes of a majority. He died in 1822 at Spadra Bluff, Ark.

"Though rough in dress and manner and unprepossessing in appearance," says Hayford. "Lyon's character partook of much that was praiseworthy. He was brave, patriotic, honest and energetic, an ideal character for the pioneer days in which he lived, when great work was to be wrought in the wilderness. * * * In 1840 Congress refunded to his heirs the fine, with interest, of one thousand dollars, assessed by the court against him at the time of his conivction under the sedition law."

Matthew Lyon had a son, Chittenden Lyon, who was representative in Congress from Kentucky, 1827-1835. Of his descendants very little has been learned. Some of them lived, a few years ago, at Eddyville, Ky., and a great grandson is said to have served in the war with Spain on the battleship Oregon.

ADDENDA

No. 4, p. 31.—Woodstock T. R. says that Sarah Lyon, wife of Samuel Lyon, died Nov. 13, 1689. Is this an error for Deliverance Lyon (which appears most likely) or did Samuel have three wives?

No. 5. p. 31.—William Lyon as well as his brother Joseph was in service in King Philip's war; William in Capt. Henchman's list, Feb. 29, 1676, and in Capt. Wadsworth's list, June 24, 1676; Joseph in a list of men turned over to command of Capt. Turner in February or March, 1676. Capt. Turner was killed in the fight at Turner's Falls, May 19, 1676. Among the list of the dead appears also the name of Thomas Lyon, of whom we know only that he was one of the garrison at Northampton. He may have been a brother of George Lyon, of Dorchester, but no other record has been found relating to him. See page 369.

No. 11, p. 35.—William Lyon married Martha Morris, Jan. 6, 1716. She was born Dec. 30, 1675.

No. 18, p. 37.—Mary Lyon, who married in 1746 Thomas Whitman (Smithfield, R. I.), may have been daughter of Ebenezer. It could hardly have been Mary of John, No. 149, born 1731, if date of marriage is correctly given. Uriel Lyon, who married, Sept. 19, 1754, Patience Heath, may have been a son of Ebenezer.

No. 20, p. 30.—Hannah (Lyon) Bicknell probably died before March, 1725. See note, p. 30. Apropos of provision in will of Thomas with regard to sale of inherited lands, note these items from Worcester Reg. of Deeds: Jan. 25, 1731, Noah Lyon, of Ashford, deeds to Thomas Chandler, of Worcester, land which John Chandler, Jr. bought of "my brothers, Seth and Gould." Jan. 26, 1731-2, Seth and Noah Lyon, of Ashford, deed to Thomas Candler, of Worcester, land given to Noah in will of "our honored father," Thomas Lyon, of Woodstock.

No. 28, p. 38.—Abigail Crosby Lyon died in Roxbury, Nov. 28, 1721 (Fisher Gen.).

No. 32, p. 40.—Marriage of Samuel Lyon to Mary Robbins is found in records of First Church, Cambridge, Mass. It seems probable that Aaron Lyon, who married in Barrington, R. I. (int. April 5, 1740) Elizabeth Allen, was a son of Samuel (No. 32).

No. 34, p. 40.—Judith Ferrington was probably a grand daughter of John Ferrington (Farrington) who came to America as early as 1639 and settled (1646) in Dedham. He had sons John, Nathaniel, Daniel, Benjamin and Joseph (probably d. young). One of his daughters was named Judith (born June 1, 1666, probably an aunt of Judith above).

No. 34, p. 40.—According to Craft Gen. Susanna Craft was daughter of Capt. Joseph and Susanna (Warren) Craft. Date of her death is given Sept. 22 (instead of 2), 1748. Abiel, in 1752, gave £100 towards erection of a pulpit in Abington parish church. Craft Gen. erroneously gives him as a "third" wife Mehitable Osgood, really wife of Abiel No. 275.

No. 39, p. 41.—Samuel Lyon is mentioned as claimant of the land granted for services rendered by his father, William Lyon, No. 5, in King Philip's war. This land was in or near Bedford, N. H., and there two at least of Samuel's sons, Eleazer and Jonathan, settled.

Maria Kenrick, born Jan. 28, 1676, was daughter of John[2] and Esther Kenrick, of Newton. They had eleven daughters and two sons. John,[2] born Oct. 3, 1641, was son of John[1] and Ann (Smith) Kenrick. John[1] came to America before Aug., 1639.

No. 48, p. 44.—The children of Capt. Joseph Lyon disappear mysteriously from Woodstock records. The explanation is to be found no doubt in the fact that Joseph received a grant of land in Greenwich, Mass., in consideration of services rendered by Joseph, Sr., in King Philip's war. His only son Joseph is mentioned as claimant of this grant. William, No. 5, received a grant of land in "Narragansett township No. 5" (Souhegan East, now Bedford, N. H.) in reward for his services in King Philip's war. Joseph was granted land in "Narragansett Township, No. 4" (Greenwich, Mass.).

No. 48, p. 44.—From Springfield Registry of Deeds: "June 27, 1739, Joseph Lyon, yeoman, of Woodstock, Worcester Co., Mass., conveys land to John Kidder." "July 4, 1745, Joseph Lyon, of Woodstock, gentleman, conveys land to John Marks."

No. 55, p. 46.—Widow Bethia (Carpenter) Lyon married Dec. 12, 1728, Obadiah Carpenter. He died at Seekonk, Dec. 16, 1726; she died at Foxboro, Jan. 15, 1788, ae. 82 (Carpenter Fam.).

No. 62, p. 35.—From Worcester Probate Records we learn that William Lyon was appointed administrator of his father's estate (No. 38235).

No. 68, p. 36.—Moses Lyon, according to MSS. Fam. R., died May 6, 1712 (probably incorrect).

No. 69, p. 51.—Grace Child was named after her grandmother, Grace Morris, born Feb. 17, 1661, daughter of Deacon Edward and Grace (Betts) Morris.

No. 82, p. 56.—Reference should be made to No. 139, p. 44.

No. 89, p. 57.—Deborah Fisher was born Feb. 3, 1717, daughter of John and Mary (Onion) Fisher. Their daughter Lois was born in 1746; m. March 28, 1765, Joseph Warren; d. Grafton, Mass., Feb. 7, 1816.

No. 105, p. 41.—Ebenezer Goodell was a farmer in Pomfret (Canterbury), Conn. His father deeded to him the old home farm. Children of Ebenezer and Experience (Lyon) Goodell, born in Pomfret: 1. Ebenezer, b. Sept. 12, 1729; m. Phebe Holt; was in Revolution; 2. Judith, b. June 30, 1731; m. Ebenezer Bullard; 3. Aaron, b. July 26, 1733; m. Amy Tyler; 4. Experience, b. Aug. 19, 1735; d. young; 5. Lois, b. Oct. 7, 1738; m. Ezra Bullard; 6. Moses, b. July 16, 1741; m. Thankful Forbes; 7. Experience, b. April 23, 1747; m. Thomas Grow; 8. Cornelius, b. July 7, 1749; m. No. 116, p. 60.—Ebenezer Lyon, of Amherst, N. H., was prominent in the early history of that town. May 13, 1747, he signed a petition for soldiers to guard the frontier in the French and Indian war. In 1751 he was one of a committee of three to finish the meeting house. In 1753 he signed a petition for incorporation of the town. He was one of a committee of three appointed Sept. 26, 1753, to build a bridge over the Souhegan river "where Lyon's bridge was." Taxpayer in Amherst 1760; moderator of town meeting 1763. He served in Col. Blanchard's regiment at Crown Point, 1755, and was lieutenant in Col. John Hart's regiment at Crown Point, 1758.† He died Jan. 4, 1798, ae. 88. His widow died June, 1806, ae. 73. Who was he? Certainly not a son of Samuel Lyon, No. 39, since his name does not appear among Samuel's heirs, 1756. If he was a descendant of William, No. 5, who was granted land in reward for services in King Philip's war, he must have been son of William, No. 38, of whom we know only that he was non compos mentis. He may, however, have had a family. It is possible that Nathaniel Lyon, of Roxbury and Needham [No. 26 of the family of Peter Lyon] was really son of this same William, whose brother David, No. 44, lived in Needham.

†May 9, 1760, Lieut. Ebenezer Lyon of Amherst, N. H., petitions the Governor of New Hampshire, and states that while in the service of the Province his gun burst and wounded his hand badly and he was laid up at Oswego and Albany (N. H. Town Papers, Vol. VI, p. 59).

We may conjecture that Edward and Jonathan Lyon, of Amherst, were sons of Ebenezer—possibly of Jonathan, of Bedford, the given names favoring this hypothesis. Jonathan was a taxpayer in Amherst, 1760; signed a petition there 1763; subscriber to a fund to defray expense of deputy to Exeter, 1774. He was also a soldier in the Revolution. Edward likewise served in the Revolution. A Daniel Lyon lived in Amherst in 1815, for we read that May 16 of that year a child of Daniel Lyon was killed by falling into a well.

No. 118, p. 61.—Widow Rebecca Lyon married (int. May 8, 1775) James Black (Oakham Vital Records).

No. 130, p. 63.—From a deed of land to Gad Stebbins (Springfield Reg. of Deeds) we learn that the children of Stephen Stebbins living in 1795 were Eldad, Phineas, Zadoc, Stephen, Ruth and Hannah Stebbins, Eunice Lyon and Sarah Langdon, all of Wilbraham.

No. 134, p. 64.—The following dates are given of baptisms of children of William Lyon: Molly, Feb. 8, 1772; Josiah, Dec. 13, 1772; Nathaniel, Feb. 12, 1775; William, April 6, 1777; Jacob, May 23, 1778 (T. R. date of birth may be incorrect, although recorded in two different books, perhaps date of baptism should be August); Joseph, July 23, 1780 (T. R. gives date of birth June 24, not July 29, which is given as date of birth of No. 330).

No. 145, p. 45.—Date of marriage of Abigail Lyon and Benjamin Peabody, Aug. 7, 1745.

No. 146, p. 64.—The Providence Gazette April 1, 1809, has notice of death of Capt. John Lyon, of Attleboro, ae. 86. John Lyon, No. 146, would have been in his 85th year, yet the reference is almost certainly to this John. Are we to conclude that this John, rather than No. 171, was the John Lyon of Rehoboth, who served in the Revolution? The Gazette of July 15, 1823, announces marriage of Nancy Lyon at Attleboro to Thomas Blanding.

No. 168, p. 66.—Caleb Lyon, blacksmith, bought land in Greenfield in 1789. It is not quite certain whether this was Caleb, No. 168, or his son. In 1807 "widow Elizabeth Lyon," no doubt widow of No. 168 and Caleb Lyon, Jr., at that time "of Williamson, Ontario Co., N. Y.," signed a deed of land in Greenfield. A John Lyon died in Greenfield in Oct.,

1798. A Betsey Lyon, Jan. 28, 1795, married in Greenfield, Samuel Philips. These may have been children of No. 168. A John Lyon, born 1781, removed from Greenfield to Bernardston, married Patience ——— and died Sept. 19, 1839, leaving seven children. He may have been the same John Lyon who bought a saw mill in 1803, but could hardly have been a grandson of No. 168. A Rufus Lyon, of Greenfield, had a daughter Mary Jane, born Nov. 15, 1820. Whether any relationship existed between these several Lyons has not yet been ascertained.

No. 170, p. 66.—March 22, 1765. Lemuel Lyon, living on the Gore adjoining the north line of Chesterfield, conveys land to Benjamin Lyon (No. 166), of Woodstock. (Springfield Reg. of Deeds).

No. 170, p. 66.—There is in the Poughkeepsie Museum a journal kept by Lemuel Lyon, private in "Canady" expedition, April to November, 1758. He was in David Holmes'† company. He speaks of writing letters to John (No. 171, his brother), Benjamin (No. 166, also brother) and Joshua (No. 157, a cousin). He mentions as members of the expedition his cousins Stephen (No. 202), David (No. 130) and Henry (probably No. 242). Entries of interest are: Wed., Aug. 2, Stephen Lyon came of[f] scout; Mon., 14, I had nothing to du I rote a letter to John; Sat. 26, David Lyon and Barnes sot out to Albany sick; Mon. 25, nothing remarkable only Stephen Lyon got hurt; Fri. Oct. 6, Henry Lyon and Eph Ellinghood poorly and cleared from duty; Fri. 13, three discharged, viz.: Richard jordin, Stephen Lyon & John Howlet; Tues. 24, received 2 letters from Capt. Benjamin Lyon; Wed. Nov. 15, Stephen Lyon met us [at "Covantry"] with the horses; Thurs. 16, we arrived at Woodstock.

No. 170, p. 66.—June 3, 1779, Lemuel Lyon, of the Gore, conveys land to John Williams of said Gore. Also, Aug. 17, 1785, Lemuel Lyon, gentleman, of Goshen, Mass., conveys land to Cyrus Lyon, of Goshen.

No. 173, p. 67.—Capt. William Lyon was called by the irreverent "Wicked Bill," being a man who enjoyed creating a sensation. His house still stands in good repair, occupied by his granddaughter Susanna (Lyon) Sumner (No. 682) and containing many interesting heirlooms, among them a silver spoon marked M. S. [Mary Stone].

†This was Dr. David Holmes, later surgeon of the Continental Army, 1775-1779. He was father of the Gen. David Holmes, who married Hannah Lyon, No. 353, and grandfather of Dr. Oliver Wendell Holmes.

Mary (Stone) Tufts, by her first husband had a son, Aaron Tufts, born Jan. 30, 1770; died Oct. 17, 1843, and a daughter Hannah, born March 27, 1772, died Aug. 28, 1772.

No. 174, p. 68.—Ruth Fitch is said to have been son of Abner Fitch, one of seven brothers who came over from England. He lived to the age of ninety-seven.

No. 176, p. 48.—Feb. 7, 1781, Sylvanus Lyon, gentleman, of the Gore adjoining north line of Chesterfield conveys land to William Lyon (No. 173) yeoman, of Woodstock (Springfield Reg. of Deeds). Feb. 2, 1752 (?) Sylvanus Lyon, of Goshen, Mass., yeoman, conveys land to William Lyon, of Woodstock (ibid).

No. 183, p. 48.—The following is a complete list of the children of Nehemiah and Hannah (Lyon) May: 1. William, b. Aug. 10, 1752; went "south;" 2. Hannah, b. Brimfield, Feb. 17, 1754 (T. R.); m. Abijah Sessions; res. Woodstock; 3. Rufus, b. Brimfield, April 13, 1756; d. Dec. 27, 1832 (Fam. R.); 4. Eli, b. Brimfield, Dec. 9, 1759; d. Nov. 18, 1776; 5. Chester, b. Brimfield, Nov. 1, 1759; m. Lucy Whales (Wales); d. Feb. 22, 1811; 6. Ezra, b. Sept. 10, 1761; m. Bathsheba Armstrong; removed to Black River Co., N. Y.; 7 sons, 1 dau.; d. Sept. 10, 1811; 7. Mary, b. June 28, 1763; m. Ezra Horton; d. Nov. 11, 1812; 8. Olive, b. Aug. 6, 1765; m. James Fuller; d. March 14, 1833; 9. Rinda, b. Oct. 7, 1769; m. Ebenezer Morris; d. Oct. 1811; 10, Nehemiah, b. June 1, 1771; m. Patty Strong; d. Oct. 13, 1824; 11. Zuriel, b. Nov. 14, 1772; m. Hannah Stacy; d. Nov. 6, 1840.

No. 185, p. 49.—Silas Bowen, son of Henry and Margaret (Corbin) Bowen was freeman in Woodstock, 1749; selectman 1770-1773; deputy from Woodstock to Connecticut legislature 1773. In 1777 he removed to Brookfield, Mass. His second wife was daughter of Nathaniel and Mehitable (Thurston) Huntington, of Windham, Conn.

No. 186, p. 49.—Mary (May), wife of Benjamin Lyon, died Oct. 22, 1814, ae. 87 y.

No. 188, p. 69.—At a town meeting at Woodstock, Dec. 5, 1791, it was voted that the poor of the town should be put up at vendue and struck off to the lowest bidder for one year. Daniel Lyon, Jr. (No. 188 or 392) bid off Benjamin Bowen at 4s. per week for the year ensuing, including his clothing unless some other person should bid less at or before the adjourned meeting.

No. 189, p. 49.—Abiel Lyon married, Jan. 4, 1767, Elizabeth Holmes.

No. 194, p. 50.—Moses Chandler, bapt. May 27, 1733; died Dec. 12, 1805.

No. 202, p. 72.—Mary Wilkinson, second wife of Capt. Stephen Lyon, was eldest daughter of Capt. Benjamin Wilkinson (Providence Gazette, Aug. 15, 1807).

No. 205, p. 73.—A Jonathan Lyon, of Westfield, Mass., gave a deed of land Feb. 19, 1787 (Springfield Reg. of Deeds).

No. 210, p. 52.—Marsilva Lyon, of Holland, Mass., married (int. May 7, 1764) St. Joseph Cheney (second wife); res. Sturbridge; d. Nov. 2, 1787.

No. 213, p. 52.—The descendants of Elphleda [Elfleda] (Lyon) Janes were very numerous. The oldest daughter Lucinda (Gibbes) lived in Holland and had 1 s. and 5 dau. Roxalina (Fox) lived in Hartford, Conn., and had 5 s. and 5 dau. Marsilva (Eastman), of Sturbridge, had 2 s. and 7 dau. Alfred Janes, in Hartford, Conn., had 4 s. and 2 dau. Walter Janes, in Ashford, Conn., had 4 s. and 3 dau. Almarin Janes lived in Brimfield. It is said that he was one of a hundred persons killed by the blowing up by the British of a deserted fort, May 5, 1813. He had 4 daughters. Bradford Janes, in Belchertown, Mass., had 6 s. and 3 dau. Sally (Richards), in Hartford, Conn., had 2 daughters.

No. 214, p. 76.—From Springfield Probate Records: 1813, Elias Carter appointed guardian to Lydia Lyon, Jr., of Brimfield, a minor over 14 years, daughter of Alfred Lyon, late of Brimfield. Dec. 14, 1813, [Mrs.] Lydia Lyon appointed guardian of Horatio Lyon, a minor under 14 years, son of Alfred Lyon, Esq., late of Brimfield. Alfred Lyon kept a tavern in Brimfield, where later stood the house of W. H. Wyles. A Sally Lyon (Strong Gen.) married Jonathan Ballard, presumably of Brimfield, afterwards of Homer, N. Y. Her parentage has not been ascertained. A son, Winthrop Ballard, was born in Brimfield, Feb. 20, 1797.

No. 218, p. 77.—Martha Dana, born 1744; died March 15, 1826.

No. 220, p. 54.—Peleg Corbin died March 7, 1816.

No. 227, p. 55.—Children of John and Mary (Lyon) Bird, born in Needham, Mass.: 1. Mary, b. March 9, 1756; 2. Mary, b. Feb. 8, 1757; 3. Hannah, b. Feb. 28, 1759.

No. 229, p. 182.—The Providence Gazette of Dec. 10, 1814, announces marriage of Mrs. Abigail Lyon, of Colerain, to Captain Eli Barker, of Amherst. The name was really Parker.

No. 237, p. 56.—Priscilla Lyon, daughter Seth and Abigail Lyon, married in Ashford, Conn., March 2, 1760 ——— (Cheney Fam.).

No. 251, p. 81.—According to Fisher Gen. John Fisher Lyon was married in 1777.

No. 271, p. 82.—Judith, widow of Samuel Lyon, of Rehoboth, died at Attleboro, ae. 64 (Providence Gazette, Jan. 25, 1816).

No. 289, p. 59.—It seems to have been this Pelatiah who was of Gageboro, Mass. (now Winsor) during the Revolution ("born in Pomfret, about 1745"), called out in Aug., 1777, on alarm to Bennington; on guard duty in Springfield, July, 1778 to Jan. 1779; enlisted in 1780 for three years; was tried by court martial April 13, 1782, for sleeping at his post, but acquitted.

No. 313, p. 62.—A Betty Lyon married a son of Jacob Burgess, born about 1742; lived in Middleboro and Lanesboro (Burgess Fam.).

No. 326, p. 63.—A daughter of Lucy (Lyon) Thomas m. in 1841 as his second wife Sylvester Strickland of Jay, Me.

No. 351, p. 65.—MSS. family record gives as dates of birth of some of the children of Jonathan Morse (probably in fact dates of baptism) the following: Jedediah, June 22, 1788; Walter, Nov. 2, 1794; Nancy, May 7, 1797; Abiel, Feb. 16, 1800. The name of the sixth child is given Jonathan, instead of Lyman, and a daughter Polly is given, born (bapt. ?) July 29, 1792.

No. 353, p. 66.—Lieutenant, afterwards General David Holmes, was descended from John[1] Holmes, who came to Plymouth in 1632 and lived in Roxbury and Dorchester, Mass. His son John[2] Holmes, b. Dorchester, 1663, was one of the original proprietors in New Roxbury (Woodstock), where he built the first saw mill. He was elected to many important positions in the town and received repeatedly grants of land for services. His son Deacon David[3] Holmes, b. 1692, d. May 22, 1745, had four sons. Of these the most distinguished was Dr. David[4] Holmes. He was a captain in the French and Indian war, in command of a company which included several of the name Lyon. See note in Addenda on No. 170. Dr. David was twice married. By his second wife, Widow Temperance Bishop, he had eight children. Among them were Abiel, David and Leonard. Abiel (Yale 1783) became a distinguished clergyman and was father of Dr. Oliver Wendell Holmes. David, who married Hannah Lyon (No. 353) and Leonard, who married Sarah (No. 358) were thus uncles of Oliver Wendell Holmes, who occasionally visited with pleasure the ancestral homestead in Woodstock.

In the Woodstock Hill cemetery are found gravestones bearing the following inscriptions: "In memory of General David Holmes, who died June 29, 1832, aetat LXX;" "In memory of Mrs. Hannah Holmes, wife of Gen. David Holmes, who died Oct. 19, 1824, ae. 61 y;" "Capt. Leonard Holmes, d. Sept. 16, 1845, aged 75;" "Sally, wife of Leonard Holmes, died Aug. 27, 1854, aged 81."

No. 356, p. 66.—The name is Hervey in T. R., Harvey in G. R.

No. 361, p. 90.—Caleb Lyon seems to have owned a good deal of land in Greenfield between 1789 and 1807. Some of it he seems to have been compelled to give up by legal proceedings, his business ventures not all proving successful. Possibly he may have been married twice. When his oldest recorded child, Lyman R., was born, he was forty-three years old—his wife but eighteen. A further search should be made of land and probate records to ascertain all the facts in his strenuous life.

No. 370, p. 91.—Lydia Sumner was daughter of Deacon Samuel and Lydia Sumner, of Ashford.

No. 372, p. 68.—Rhodes Arnold and Polly Lyon had one son, William, who married Sarah Harris; res. Pawtucket; 8 children. Rhodes Arnold married second Betsey Lyon (No. 369). Their only daughter, Hannah Elizabeth, married Rev. Alden Southworth, a descendant of John Alden, of the Mayflower. They have one son, Louis Rhodes Southworth, who married Delia Avery, of Norwich, and is now (1905) on the editorial staff of the New York World.

No. 373, p. 92.—Tryphena Kendall was daughter of Eli Kendall, of Ashford, Conn. Moses and Tryphena were married Jan. 8, 1823. Their second daughter, No. 687, was Mary Elizabeth. She was born Jan. 25, 1825, according to authentic Fam. Rec., which contradicts the G. R. Moses Lyon married Sarah Williams May 19, 1840.

Correction by [illegible]

Daughter of Moses and Sally A. (May) Lyon:

I. Sarah Tryphena, born Woodstock, March 21, 1831. She was educated in Woodstock Academy, and was for some years a school teacher. She resides (1905) with her nephew, Henry T. Child, in Woodstock, and has rendered valuable assistance in gathering the material for the family history.

No. 378, p. 68 (also p. 92).—The name of Willard Lyon's wife was Amanda Scarrit. She died June 1, 1826 (?).

No. 386, p. 69.—Elijah Lyon, of Woodstock, April 1, 1778, conveys land to "my daughter, Sarah Lawton, of Woodstock" (Springfield Reg. of Deeds).

No. 386, p. 69.—From a deed given by Elijah Lyon about 1797, we learn the following names of Sarah Lyon Lawton's children: 1. Elijah Lawton; 2. Elizabeth Miriam Marcy; 3. Sarah Howland; 4. Jabez Howland [probably a son-in-law]; 5. Nancy Rowena, all of Louden (?), Berkshire Co.

No. 393, p. 69.—Dorothy Lyon ("b. 1763") married Jethniel Perrin (b. Dec. 4, 1759; d. Dec. 7 or 9, 1813); children: 1. Thetotha, b. Sept. 8, 1790; m. Asa Price; d. July 6, 1867; 2. Clarissa, b. about 1792; d. March 14, 1807.

No. 445, p. 72.—Olive Lyon, of Woodstock, married (int. April 5, 1771) Reuben Ammidown (Charleton Vital Rec.).

No. 451, p. 73 (also p. 100).—G. R. Woodstock Hill cemetery: "Hannah, relict of Col. Jonathan Lyon, died Feb. 19, 1844, ae. 66."

No. 452.—Children of Perley and Rebecca (Lyon) Tucker: 1. Pliny Milton; married and had two sons and two daughters; died Dec. 15, 1880; 2. Louisa Sumner; 3. Abijah Williams; 4. Isaac; 5. Lucy; 6. Harry; 7. Alba; 8. Jonathan. Alba m. Ellen Hough. Children of Alba and Ellen (Hough) Tucker: 1. Mary; m. John Barcliff (children: Adelia, Lucilla and William); 2. Rebecca L., m. William H. Smith (children: Charles, Mary); 3. Henrietta, born Dec. 25, 1836; died Oct. 17, 1876; not m.; 4. Joanna, b. Dec. 25, 1840; not m.

No. 464, p. 102.—Anthony Lyon, born Woodstock, April 11, 1817, son of Alvin and Sarah (Barrett) Lyon, married in Seekonk Elizabeth C. Earle (born 1817).

Children of Anthony and Elizabeth C. (Earle) Lyon (Earle Fam.):

I. Joseph E., b. June 11, 1845; m. July 18, 1885, Rebecca Caldwell.
II. Helen C., b. Aug. 8, 1851.

482. VI. 488. MOSES[6] LYON [Ethel,[5] Moses,[4] William,[3] John,[2] William[1]] was born in Holland, probably about 1773. In February, 1795, he lived in Whiting, Vt. Later he removed to Eagle, N. Y. He married ———.

Children of Moses Lyon, perhaps not in order of age:

1630. I. Elijah.
1631. II. Polly.
1632. III. Josephus.
1633. IV. Story.
1634. V. Samantha.
1635. VI. Justice.
1636. VII. Seneca.
1637. VIII. Smith.

No. 482, p. 76.—Moses Lyon, of Holland, Feb. 24, 1795, signs quit claim deed in favor of his brother Alfred. This mentions his sisters Matilda Moulton and Jemima Dow as if then living.

482 et seq.—The following additional information has been obtained relating to descendants of Ethelbert Child Lyon. [It is stated that he wrote his own name Ethel Bert Child Lyon. In the land records at Springfield he is called Ethel, Ethel Bert Child, and Ethel B. C. Lyon; in his father's will he is called Ethel.]

Children of Ethel and Mary (Fuller) Lyon (Cf. record on p. 76):

*482. I. Moses; m. Mercy Smith.

483. II. Matilda; m. Ephraim Moulton (before 1787).

484. III. Jemima Child; m. 1st (before 1787) Josiah Dow; m. 2d Solomon Norton (b. 1750; res. Hamlet, Chautauqua Co., N. Y.)

485. IV. Mary [Polly]; m. Story Choat; in June, 1804, they resided Shelburne, Vt.

486. V. Aaron; in June, 1804, he res. Orwell, Vt.; after this he is said to have joined the Mormons.

487. VI. Hannah; m. Leroy Munger.

488. VII. Alfred Child, b. South Brimfield [Holland], Mass., Feb. 25, 1784; m. there, Sept. 25, 1808, Lucippa Wight.

489. VIII. Ethel B. C.; res. Whiting, Vt., in Jan., 1809.

Note that in this record Hannah takes the place of Nellie; no dates of birth given except for No. 488.

No. 488, p. 104.—In Oct., 1806, Alfred was living at Orwell, Vt. Late in life he removed (from Steamburg, N. Y.) to Pleasantville, Venango Co., Pa., where he died. Juliet L. (Wright), No. 842, had a son Alfred and several daughters. Emily J. (Hall), No. 844, lived in Akron, O.; her son's name was Lewis. Benjamin Franklin, No. 847, had a son Arthur and other children. The daughters of Marcus Herman, No. 848, were Elva and Lela. Louise Jane, No. 852, is said to have married John Henderson, but this is quite likely a mistake.

No. 505, p. 78.—What about the following record? "Mehitable Lyon, born 1776, married about 1802 Col. Eli Hyde. She died Oct. 10, 1831, ae. 55, in Stafford, Conn." (Hyde Gen.). Mehitable No. 658 is out of the question; No. 782 does not correspond in age. The record on p. 78, taken from notes in possession of the Child family, Woodstock, is probably authentic.

506. VI. 221. (See p. 78.) ELIAKIM[6] LYON [Lyman,[5] Nehemiah,[4] William,[3] John,[2] William[1]] was born in Woodstock, Conn., Nov. 3, 1779, and died in Strongsville, O., June 17, 1856. He married, May 23, 1804, Mary Strong, daughter of Captain David and Jane (Groves) Strong, of Stafford. She was born Sept. 10, 1787, and died May 31, 1829. Capt. Strong was in the Revolutionary war, a descendant of John Strong, of Northampton. Jane was his second wife, a native of Brimfield. Eliakim was a farmer. He lived 1804-1818 in Stafford, Conn., later in Strongsville, O.

Children of Eliakim and Mary (Strong) Lyon:

1637. I. Danforth Strong, b. Jan. 18, 1807.

1638. II. Jane Groves, b. Nov. 25, 1808; m. 1st June, 1832, Capt Harpin Johnson of Cleveland, O. He died in Detroit, Mich., Sept., 1837, and she m. 2d Capt. John Tuttle; she d. Aug. 24, 1842.

1639. III. Martha, b. Jan. 13, 1810; d. May 13, 1832.

1640. IV. Lydia, b. Dec. 17, 1812; m. Theron Goodwin, son of Abel and Olive (Torrey) Goodwin of Lebanon, Conn., saddler and harness maker; res. Cleveland, O.; no ch.; d. March 31, 1843.

No. 1435, p. 178.—Eugene Fairfield McPike has traced his ancestry by authenticated lines from the following pioneer American families: Lyon (1635), Colburn (1637), Dumont (1657), Traverrier (1688), Arnaud (1688), Rezeau (1688), Van Vechten, now Veghte (1717), Lowe 1750. Mrs. McPike, née Denton, was daughter of John and Elizabeth (Waddingham) Denton, natives of Yorkshire. Mr. McPike has accumulated a large and valuable collection of rare books, pamphlets, manuscripts, scrap-books, loose letters, etc., etc., of an historical character. These will ultimately be placed in the Genealogical Department or in the Museum of the Newberry Library in Chicago, where a small portion of them have already been deposited. A list of his writings may be seen in a collection of magazines, etc., in the British Museum, under press-mark 10882. K. 25. A duplicate list is prefixed to "A Partial Bibliography of Dr. Edmund Holley" in the Library of Congress, Washington, D. C. Among his genealogical papers may be specified "Perpetuating in History the Deeds of Our Noble Ancestors (an open letter in re the Lyon family)" [Putnam Patriot, XXV. 13], "The Lyon Family of Windham County, Conn." [N. Y. Gen. and Biog. Rec. XXVIII and XXIX.], "The Genealogy of Capt. Moses Guest and Capt. James McPike" [Am. Hist. Register, new ser. I.], "Tales of Our Forefathers and Biographical Annals of Families Allied to Those of Dumont, Guest and McPike," quarto, pp. 181, Joel Munsell's Sons, Albany, N. Y. (copies in the Newberry Library, Chicago; the New York Public Library; Library of the New England Historic Genealogical Society, Boston). The name of Mr. McPike is familiar to every reader of any of the genealogical periodicals published in America, and is equally well known in the

MISCELLANEOUS LYON ITEMS.

Lyon Gardiner, not known to have a Lyon ancestry, was one of the very early settlers in Connecticut. David, his son, born Saybrook, April 29, 1836, is believed to have been the first white child born in that state. [Lyon Gardiner came from Worden, in Holland, to London, in 1635, and thence to New England.]

Richard Lyon, about 1641, was sent over to Cambridge from England by Mr. Henry Mildmay as a tutor to his son. He assisted in arranging the Bay Psalm Book. Returned to England.

Rev. John Lyon arrived in Boston from Cork, Dec. 27, 1764, for Taunton.

Arrived in Boston, July 12, 1716, from London, Abraham Lyon, servant, with James Painter.

Prof. D. G. Lyon, of Harvard College, is from Alabama. His father came over from England about 1840.

MISCELLANEOUS LYON ITEMS.

A Coincidence in Names.—The "Annals of Sudbury, Wayland and Maynard" contains the following item: "The Noyes House was kept in Wayland as is supposed about 1790, in what is now Cochituate village; landlord, Nathaniel Reeves. The house stood on the corner until the building of the A. B. Lyon house, and at the spot in front of Mr. L.'s residence." [Query.—Who was this namesake of mine?—Ed.]

Hon. Lucius Lyon, one of the first senators from the State of Michigan, born in Shelburne, Vt., in 1800, was a descendant of one of the Connecticut Lyon families, probably that of Richard. He figured prominently in the public affairs of Michigan in the early days, being a member of the convention called to frame a constitution for the new state, member of the first board of Regents of the State University and Surveyor-General for the states of Michigan, Ohio and Indiana.

JOINT RESOLUTION

Adopted by Congress, December 30, 1861.

Resolved, by the Senate and House of Representatives of the United States of America, in Congress assembled:

1. That Congress deems it just and proper to enter upon its records a recognition of the eminent and patriotic services of the late Brigadier-General Nathaniel Lyon. The country to whose service he devoted his life will guard and preserve his fame as a part of its own glory.

2. That the thanks of Congress are hereby given to the brave officers and soldiers who, under the command of the late General Lyon, sustained the honor of the flag and achieved victory against overwhelming numbers at the battle of Springfield in Missouri. * *

The President of the United States directs that the foregoing joint resolution be read at the head of every regiment in the Army of the United States.

By command of Major-General McClellan:

L. THOMAS, Adjutant-General.

OCCASIONAL VERSES

"ALL IN THE FAMILY."

DEAD LEAVES.

By Heber Trowbridge Lyons [No. 1849].

The day is dead and in its grave,
  The flowers are fast asleep,
But I with my sad life alone
  My nightly vigils keep;
The day is dead, the dew descends,
And night and darkness are my friends.

I tread the dead leaves under foot,
  I breathe their earthy smell;
It is the odor of decay,
  And yet I love it well!
Give others day and scented flowers;
Give me dead leaves and midnight hours.

Montrose, December, 1870.

DEAD LEAVES.

Rejoinder, by Daniel Lyons [No. 1777].

The day is life, and is my shrine;
Dead leaves and darkness are not mine;
Give me bright day and sun and flowers,
To chase away my crippled† hours
If leaves are dead and in their grave,
What's living now they cannot save;
So what's the use to mourn the past?
For all, like leaves, must die at last.
But while we live, with armor bright,
Let's laugh by day, and sleep by night.

†Alluding to the injuries received in a railroad accident.

*It is only fair to state that the permission of the authors was not asked for printing these selections. The responsibility rests wholly with the Editor.

Dead leaves give odor of decay,
And then we wish them far away;
For when on lifeless leaves we muse
The deathly thoughts give us the blues.
With me, dead leaves and gloomy night
Disturb my sleep with dreary fright.
To all, I say, dark thoughts dispel,
On day and sunshine let them dwell.
Then let us laugh and brush away
Dead leaves, and hope a brighter day.

Binghamton, Jan. 9, 1871.

[The writer of the melancholy lines above has been long only a memory to those who were his friends. The older man who preferred the sunny side of life is with us still, having this year (1905) celebrated his golden wedding.]

ADVICE OF UNCLE MOSE TO HIS SON, WHO IS ABOUT TO BECOME A "SHEP'ARD."

By Marie A. (Lyon) Van Wormer [No. 1856].

'Deed! Yer looks jes like a preachah,
'Clar ter goodness but yer does!
Yer pears ter hab de dignity
Dat goes wid dem black cloes.
Dat coat tail's got de proppah swing,
De high hat's got de shine,
An' dem creases in you's pant laigs
Prube you's got dat part down fine.
Now set down in de rock'r, whilst yer mammy's gittin—"lunch"—
I spect I orter call hit, sinse I'se got a preachah heah,
But dinner's good nuff fer me, an lunch sounds kind o' queer.
Does yer smell de chick'n fryin?
"Chick'ngs roosted mighty high"
—Yer used ter say when you's a boy.

Yer allus lubbed a fry,
So yer' mammy's got one goin',
An I reckon, somewher's roun'
Dere's de fin'st wattah mellion
Dat you'l fin' 'bove de groun'.
Now jes' set down by de winder
Whil'st we's waitin' fer de spread,
An' list'n ter yer daddy,
An' member what he said
When you's off 'mong de peoples,
What 'as gib yer dis fust call
Ter preach de Word among 'em,
Now jes member, dat "fust fall"
Was as much de fault o' Adam
As hit was de fault o' Eve;
His mouf wattard fer dat apple
'Fore she passed hit, I believe.
Adam's actions in dat mattah
Didn't leave much room fer boastin';
Had Eve bin like some women
He'd a got a good "rib-roastin!"
Deed he would—an he desarved hit,
When he Lawd hed gone 'way
Arter axin dem few questions
In "de cool ob de day."
I nuver blames de sistahs
Fer gittin a leetle riled
When de pastur talks too loud an' long
Bout "de woman what begiled;"
Fer de sistahs run de chu-ches,
I don' say de bredren shirk
But dey does a heap o' talkin'
Whil't de women does de work.

* * * * * * *

Hit's middlin' serius business
Ter be shep'ard ob a flock,
An' one ting you's got ter 'member
Or you'l founder orn a rock;
Dere's jes time fer dis one pinter

Fore dat chick'n quits de fire,
Fergit all dat I'se told yer—But—
Don't mix up wid yer kwire.
I know'd a right smart preachah onc't,
Dat lowed he jes could run
De pulpit, and de organ, and de singers,
All in one.
He was a pow'rf'l talker,
An' he nuver ment no harm,
But de las' I heer'd bout 'im
He was workin' orn a farm.
De kwire look peart, an solum,
When de leader start de chune,
An you'd tink dat only ang'ls
Was list'nin roun' de room;
But, ole Satan, he "cum also,"
Dat's what de Good Book say,
An' he keep one eye 'pon de kwire
Hin a gin'ral sort ob way;
So don't you disremember
Ter leabe de kwire alone,
Fer kwire rumpuses am li'ble
Ter be de Debil's own.
Dere! Dat fowl hav' don' stop sizzlin',
An' I heah yer mammy call,
You's lookin' pow'rf'l hongry—

REPETITION.

By Celeste M. A. Winslow [No. 2050].

Only a scrap of a silken gown,
And a written page, grown yellow and brown
This is all that the lapsing years
Have left of a woman's smiles and tears!

Yet the past unrolls as I once more stand
In an old-time mansion, *quaint and grand,
And watch from its windows Monadnock rise,
My childhood's mountain of Paradise.

While fancy summons within a room
Where hillside breezes waft faint perfume,
A stately figure with silvered hair,
Sitting serene in her high-backed chair;
And the bright-eyed grandchild on her knee
Is the dear grandmother who there held me.

When as many years shall have sped away,
Each fresh and fair, to turn dusty and gray;
When the Now dissolves to a doubtful dream,
And the dim To-come steals the present's gleam,
I wonder if even so much will live
Of me, after giving all I can give!

Her slender fingers have long been dust,
Yet a heart throbs warm in these words of trust;
The same sweet phantasies wreathed her way
That blossom among my briers today.

Each pulsing passion, so pale, expressed,
Once bravely burned in her glowing breast.
For oh! away in that vanished time
My grandmother's grandmother‡ wrote in rhyme!

A DUN.

Dedicated to delinquent subscribers of the Traverse Bay Eagle. Authorship claimed by the printer's devil, but suspicion points to the assistant editor [No. 1854].

Should you ask us why this dunning,
Why these sad complaints and murmurs,
Murmurs loud about delinquents
Who have read our paper weekly,
Read what they have never paid for,
Read with pleasure and with profit,
Read of church affairs and prospects,
Read of news, both home and foreign,
Read the essays and the poems,
Full of wisdom and instruction;
Should you ask us why this dunning,
We should answer, we should tell you:

From the printer, from the mailer,
From the kind old paper maker,
From the typo, from the "devil,"
From the man who taxes letters
With a stamp from Uncle Samuel—
"Uncle Sam" the rowdies call him;
From them all there comes the message,
Message kind, but firmly spoken,
"Please to pay us what you owe us."

Would you lift a burden from us?
Would you drive a specter from us?
Would you taste a pleasant slumber?
Would you have a quiet conscience?
Would you read a paper paid for?
Send us money—send us money,
Send us money—send us money,
Send us money that you owe us.

N. B.—No paper discontinued until all arrearages are paid, except at the option of the Publisher.

SUNRISE.

By Lucia E. Lyons [No. 2092].

Once when the gray dawn brooded over earth
I stepped abroad that I might talk awhile,
Before all lips unclosed, with those dear friends
Around—the wide grave sea and silent hills.
Strangely they rested in a grand reserve,
Cold, unapproachable in majesty,
Nor could they smile again in gentle peace
Till touch of magic should unseal their hearts.
Silent I waited, and in awe I heard
The slow waves sweep and murmur on the shore,
And over me there crept through heart and soul
The solemn calm of sleep's own presence room.
But when I looked again to those far heights,
Behold! the awakening touch had rested there!
Each misty peak gave back one rosy gleam,—
Then down the mountain side the glory came Leaping from hill to hill, while all between Lay hollows clad in purple mystery.
So in a joyous blaze of ruddy light
They bade me sweet good morrow; while the sea
Yet slept,—but even as I turned to her,
Far off one bright beam danced amid the surf,
And all the ocean woke to share the glee.
Then, in the strength of blue waves rolling free,
In might of foaming breakers, and in joy
Of life, the sea gave greeting to the land.
And then my heart arose to join their song
Of new-born life and sympathy and love;—
I turned me where I stood and lo! the touch
Fell on me, too, for above the mountain wall,
By all of heaven's cloud splendors heralded,
Arose the Sun, the resurrection pledge.

[The foregoing describes with fidelity and vividness an actual sunrise at Waikiki, Honolulu, Hawaii.]

THE SONG OF THE MOONBEAM.

By Bert E. Lyon [No. 2093.]

I am that silvery line of light
Shot from the maiden moon at night;
I am that visible silent song,
Wandering down through the starry throng.
Sometimes I linger upon my way
To touch with silver a rain cloud gray;
Sometimes I stop to gaze at a star
Blazing in splendor away so far.
When the thunder rolls and the nights are dark,
And the moon affrighted cries out "hark!"
I shiver and shake for fear of the storm
And at sight of the thunder-god's awful form.
But oft I stay out half the night
To make the lakes and the ocean bright;
For the earth loves me and the earth I love;—
It is so stern and cold above
That I dance for joy on my downward way
To the warm, kind world so far away.

LOOKING DOWN THE LANE.

By Mary E. Shearer [No. 2053].

I'm looking down the lane, to-night,
  Looking down the lane,
And my heart can hear the voices
  I've longed to hear in vain,
My heart discerns the faces
  Earth eyes shall see no more,
My hands are clasping close the hands
  Reached from a shining shore.

The thrushes hold their concert,
  And the spring, adown the lane,
With its ceaseless, old-time tinkle
  Is to me a sweet refrain;
The odors of the flowers,
  A fitting incense burned,
To celebrate the hour
  When my lost have all returned.

Transfixed I gaze upon them,
  For what a wonderous train
My heart beholds this twilight hour
  All mingling in the lane;
The infant with its sunny curls,
  Gay children with their books,
And lovers walking, arm in arm,
  With their enchanted looks.

The faithful mother, and the sire
  Who leans upon his cane,
Though parted long have met to-night,
  All coming up the lane;
Not like our earthly greetings,
  Weighed down by doubt and care,
Are those I give these shadowy guests
  Whose forms are light as air.

For by their presence they have brought
  Some of their heavenly bliss,
So I with silent reverence stand
  At such an hour as this;
But oh, their stay is transient,
  Afresh I feel the pain
Of days when, one by one, each went Forever down the lane.

The sunset hues are fading,
  From out the darkening sky;
The twilight dews are gathering
  Around my heart, and I—
I turn back through the doorway,
  And waiting there, I see
The forms whose waiting sweetens all
  This lonely life for me.

Sweet with its care, by pain oppressed,
  My life still overflows,
For love has woven every tie,
  And love no bondage knows;
Ere we shall join the phantom throng
  How many days remain,
Oh, hearts of flesh, that cling to mine,
  That haunts the sacred lane?

Colerain, Mass., 1890.

CONTENTED.

By Emily A. (Lyon) Eggleson [No. 987] (Emma Eggleson).

Cousin John hez built a mansion, Lizzy-Betsey in its style,
Crochet-trimmin's 'round the corners, hard-wood floors all done in ile.
Porters hangin' in the doorways, didoes pasted on the wall,
Color schemes a runnin' riot in the settin'-room an' hall!

Went to see 'im on a visit; felt like I wuz in a dream,
Not a heatin' stove or wood-box—all the house was het by steam.
Pipes a leadin' from the basement, gla-diators in each room.
Carpets dragged by little go-carts—never saw 'em use a broom!

Parlor mantel piled with brick-bracks; Injun mattin' on the stairs,
Hi-rogliphics worked in yaller on the satin-covered chairs;
Water-fassets in the kitchen—hot er cold, you took yer choice;
Telephone in handy waitin' if you liked to try yer voice.

'Lectric lights blazed every evenin' till the moon itself seemed wan,
No more use fer parlor matches, jest a flip would turn 'em on;
Breakfast showed up late and tired, lunch cum on at twelve o'clock,
Dinner shook the hand of twilight, givin' my old nerves a shock.

Stayed a week and saw the city! Cousin John wuz awful kind;
But I cum away rejoicin'; home wuz suited to my mind!
Thought the old brown house looked nicer than it ever did afore;
Mary sewin' by the winder, Rover barkin' at the door.

Slipped right back into the traces, all the wheels rolled smoothly 'round, 'Lectric blaze had been too glarin'; lamps air better, I'll be bound.
Brick-bracks make a feller weary; purest water lives in wells,
Common chairs 'll do fer farmers, satin couches wait on swells!

Noon-time allers finds me ready fer a dinner—not a lunch!
An' steam heat—you can't compare it with a fire that you can punch!
Hick'ry wood a cracklin' gaily; stove a glowin' cherry-red!
Warmth an' peace an' drowsy comfort stealin' up from foot to head!

Fall is slippin' into winter; never mind its storms and chills,
Pack the iron pump in saw-dust—we shan't run no plumbers' bills!
Eat and drink and read the papers—let the world go brawlin' on!
Happiness is my twin sister—I'm ez rich ez Cousin John!

ANOTHER ANCIENT LYON PEDIGREE.

An interesting pedigree of a Northampton (Eng.) Lyon family comes to hand just as this volume is going to press, communicated by Dr. G. W. A. Lyon, translated by him from the Latin and archaic French originals. Exact dates are wanting but the line begins about the middle of the twelfth century with an unnamed Leon bearing arms: Argent, a lion rampant gules, armed and langued azure. The following generations run:

II. Richard de Leone, m. Maulde; had a brother Mathew.

III. Roger de Leone, son of Richard, son of Roger, m. Howis,

IV. Roger de Leone, Kt., son of Roger, Lord of Warkworth; had a brother Richard.

V. Richard* de Leons, Kt., son of Roger, m. Ladie Emma, who was a widow in 1311. Richard was living in 1260 and 1288. He had a brother John de Leons.

VI. John de Leons, Kt., son of Richard (living 1311), m. Margerie (a widow in 1317).

VII. John de Lions, Kt., son of John, Lord of Warkworth (living in 1318 and 1335), m. Alice (living in 1328). His younger brother, Richard de Lions (living in 1311), m. Margerie (living 1311). Richard bore arms as above but with "crescent sable" for difference. John had also two sisters, Margerie (living 1322) and Agnes (living 1322).

VIII. John de Lions, Kt., son of John (living 1377 and 1383), m. Ellice dau. Willim de Sancto Lucio (or St. Liz) Esq.

IX. Elizabeth, dau. and heir of Sir John, married, first Nicholas Chetwood (Chetwode) and second, Richard Wydeville (Widevill). Elizabeth was living 1346 and 1370.

X. John Wydeville, son of Richard and Elizabeth, married a daughter of "Thomas and Margaret Lyon," relationship, if any, to Sir John not stated in the record.

XI. Thomas Wydeville.

XII. Richard Wydeville,  Earl Rivers.

*The date of Richard's birth is definitely fixed as A. D., 1246, by the following record: Joanna de Lyuns long since defunct (7. Edw. I, i. e., 1278), say the jurors, held at her death, 44 A. of Adam de Napton; she gave no service therefor to the said Adam because Adam gave the lands to Roger de Lyuns with the aforesaid Johanna, his daughter in marriage, and because Richard, his son, is nearest heir and is of full age, forsooth 30 years. From this it appears that Roger 5 married Joanna de Napton and that their son, Richard, was born about 1246.

In Bromham, co. Bedford, are the brasses of Thomas Widevill of Grafton, Esq. of about 1435. "He wears the collar of Essex." There are two shields of Wydville impaled with 1st, a chevron between three lions sejant, the two in chief facing each other for Lyon and 2nd, on a chief a fleur de lis. It is unfortunate, says the author, that the arms upon the shields are not known. The coat of lions sejant did not belong to Lyons of Warkworth, who bore a lion rampant [Topog. and Genealogist].

XIII. Elizabeth Wydeville, m. King Edward IV. Returning to Elizabeth (9) de Lions. By her first marriage she had a son, Sir John Chetwode who became possessed of the Warkworth property and the arms of his grand father John de Lions, by grant 16 Richard II (1392). He confirms a grant to Chacombe Priory, made by John. Emma, sister of John Chetwode, married Alan le Hesper of Howtrapp, no date.

John de Liouns to son John, land in Swerford parva dower land of mother, Emma, with reversion to Richard, his brother. Witness, Thomas Lionus of Dunstowe and others. 5 Edw. II (1311).

John, son of Lord John, Kt., to Alice, daughter of Wili de Licio. 13 Edw. II (1319).

John de Leonibus, clerk, father of Thomas de Leonibus of Warkworth, co. Northampton, son and heir of Richard de Leonibus, decd. 2 Edw. IV (1462).

Margery, daughter John de Lions, Lord of Warkworth, married Egidius de St. John, Lord of Plumpton St. John, died 1381. (Coll. Miscel. Geneal. et Heraldica, Vol. I.)

Grant of arms to Robert Jason of Enfield, 1588. Quartered with arms of John Lyon, Esq. of parts beyond the sea in Holland, naturalized of England in tyme of K. Henry VIII., viz.: ye field gules a lyon

Lincoln wills:—Richard Clipsham of Wanthorpe, gent., proved 1618; father of George Lyon decd. wife Dorothy, mother of George, executrix. See Harrow pedigree, page 13.

Commenting on the new records given above, Dr. G. W. A. Lyon writes: "The Northampton pedigree confirms the theory of the inter relation of the Lyon families of the middle counties. It will be observed that the Rolls office pedigree (pages 11, 12) mentions the holding at an early date of land in divers counties, and it is in precisely these counties in which are found the branches of the Lyon family. Many of the names mentioned in the notes do not appear in the Northampton pedigree, but they form a group unquestionably related to those of that pedigree. At two points the two lines, otherwise apparently distinct, show unexplained relationships. We find Richard of the Rolls Office line holding the manor Reckbroke, co. Oxford, but John of Northampton gave the manor of Reckbroke to Alice St. Liz. Again the Thomas contemporary with Elizabeth, who married Richard Wydville, seems to have been connected with the Northampton family, yet his grandson, Thomas Wydville impales the arms of Lyon in right of his mother, and those arms are not those of Warkworth, Northampton, but those of Essex."

[It may be remarked that it is no uncommon thing to find items of family history misappropriated especially in connection with coincidences in given names.] The Northampton pedigree is likely to be of especial interest to descendants of the Fairfield County branches since in these we find a tradition that their ancestors came from Northern England.

The following item seems to furnish an important clew in the search for the origin of the Dorchester Lyon family.

The will of John Bigg of Maidstone, proved 7, 2, 1642, devises to Brother Stowe, sister and mother living in New England, Cousin James Bate of New England and Cousin ——— Lyne of same. Now the persons named in this will were of Dorchester, viz.: John Stow, legatee of John Bigg, co. Kent, Eng., Rachel Bigg (widow, came from London, 1635, will, Dorchester 1646), Mary, daughter of Stephen Terry (came 1630), b. Dorchester 1635, James Bate (came 1635, ae. 53, wife Alice). [There was also a James Bates of Hingham, probably nephew and James Bates of Hadam, probably son, who went back to England and returned.] There seems therefore strong probability that Cousin ——— Lyne was either Peter or George Lyon of Dorchester.
